Kennedy Asks Broad Overhaul Of Conflict of Interest Laws

Part of Revolt Crackdown

Paris May Disband Legion Regiments

ALGIERS (AP) — Two tough Foreign Legion regiments that supported the short-lived generals' revolt in Algeria may be disbanded, a French government spokesman said today.

The spokesman said "it was possible" the regiments would be disbanded as part of the government crackdown on all civilians and military men who followed Gen. Maurice Challe in his four-day mutiny.

Round Up Arms

Police and soldiers sweeping through Algiers during a night-long curfew rounded up 5,000 arms hidden by civilians. The sweep prompted long lines of civilians to turn in their arms at police stations today.

The government spokesman said all French regiments in Algeria—including the two Foreign Legion units that participated in the abortive coup—were now taking orders from the government of President Charles de Gaulle.

3 Still Fugitives

The three other retired generals who joined Challe in leading the coup—Raoul Salan, Andre Zeller, and Edmond Jouhaud—were still fugitives, but the spokesman said the government had a rough idea of their whereabouts. He refused to be specific, however.

It was reported in Paris, without official confirmation, that the aircraft carrier Arromanches was standing off the coast near the Foreign Legion camp at Zeralda to prevent any escapes by sea from there.

Gen. Challe is in a Paris prison. He gave himself up Wednesday after escaping with his confederates.

Elite Shock Units

The two units that may be disbanded are the famed 1st Foreign Legion paratroop regiment and the almost equally renowned 1st Foreign Legion cavalry regiment.

Placement Office Is Moving Back To 18 Pine Grove

The placement section of the New York State Department of Labor, Division of Employment at 775 Broadway will be closed Friday.

This was announced today by the manager, Anthony C. Hart, who said the office is moving to its former location, 18 Pine Grove Avenue.

The placement section will open there Monday.

Manager Hart said the Friday closing will not affect the unemployment insurance section which will be open tomorrow for accepting claims.

The insurance section has been at 18 Pine Grove Avenue, having remained there when the placement unit moved uptown.

Both sections will be in the same building again Monday observing the regular schedule, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

U.S. Hurls 1st Space Telescope

Radiation Study Of Universe Aim

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A complex "space telescope" was fired into orbit today to explore radiation mysteries of the universe.

The 95-pound satellite named Explorer XI sped away from this test center at 9:17 a.m. in the nose of a 76-foot Juno II rocket. All four stages of the booster ignited successfully and propelled the payload into orbit at nearly 18,000 miles an hour.

Shot Is Tracked

More than two hours after launch the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that "tracking stations at Johannesburg, South Africa; Woomera, Australia; San Diego, Calif., and East Grand Forks, Minn., confirmed that the satellite is in orbit."

The exact orbital path and other details were not immediately known. The telescope was aimed at a course which would swing it between 300 and 750 miles above the earth.

Project officials said good signals were being received from the satellite.

The success gives U.S. scientists the world's first astronomical observatory in space.

Looked Good From Start

The assignment is to study space rays outside the air envelope which interferes with reception on earth.

Board Meets on College Tonight, Accept Land, Saugerties CC Bids

Accepting of a 50-acre tract of property on the Winston estate in the Town of Saugerties as a site for the proposed Ulster County Community College, is strongly urged by the Board of Directors of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce in a communication to Supervisor Roy Webber (R) Town of Marbletown, chairman of the Board of Supervisors college committee.

Meet Tonight at 8

A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors will be held today at 8 p. m. in the supervisors room at the County Courthouse for the purpose of discussing the college proposal and considering a site.

In the letter sent to Supervisor Webber, copies of which were sent to each supervisor, it was reported that the Industrial committee of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce, realizing the need for a community college and having a deep understanding for tax control, has located a valuable site after 2½ years of conscientious effort and study.

50 Acres Donated

The letter notes that Mr. and Mrs. Shaller have donated 50 acres of property for the college on the Winston estate. The communication urges Supervisor Webber, his committee and all public officials to give serious consideration to the 50-acre offer and to select the property for a site for the proposed college.

The Saugerties Chamber letter points out that the 50-acres offered for the site has a high assessed valution, which, the letter states will be matched by the state as reimbursement to the county.

Tshombe Is Still Held By Kasavubu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Soldiers of President Joseph Kasavubu's Leopoldville government apparently were still holding President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province today, or at least preventing him from flying to Elisabethville, his capital.

The soldiers arrested Tshombe as he prepared to board a plane Wednesday to quit the political conference at Coquilhatville, 375 miles up the Congo River. Tshombe walked out on the conference after blasting an agreement Kasavubu had made with the U.N. Command.

Deny Arrest

Reports to the U.N. Command this morning said Tshombe had been roughed up, released after a brief detention, and would fly home this morning.

But at noon a U.N. spokesman said the Katanga leader and his party were reported still at the airport. A Leopoldville government source said the soldiers still were holding Tshombe.

Other officials of Kasavubu's government denied Tshombe had ever been arrested. They said he had been prevented from leaving "by the spontaneous will of the local people."

No reports were received from Western newsmen covering the Coquilhatville conference. All unofficial communications from the town have been blacked out.

The Coquilhatville conference had been called in an effort to smooth over some of the Congo's political rivalries so that plans could be made for a confederation government.

Firm Against Demand

Tshombe had demanded that Kasavubu renounce his agreement with the U.N. calling on all foreign advisers to quit the Congo unless invited to serve by Kasavubu himself, a provision aimed at the many Belgians serving the Katanga government as advisers and officers in the Katanga army.

Kasavubu stood firm against Tshombe's demand and the Katanga leader decided to leave.

Castro Well Equipped, Says Rebel; Force to Fight Again

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —A Cuban invader who says "we never had a chance" against Castro's guns arrives in the United States today. He was rescued from a life raft in the Caribbean Sea.

Manuel Penabaz, 27, and four companions were picked up early Tuesday 55 miles south of the Isle of Pines by the S.S. Louise of the Caribbean Steamship Co. The ore ship was due to dock at Ingleside, just off Corpus Christi Bay, early today.

"When we landed we tried to get the best position we could, but we have no chance," Penabaz told Spencer Pearson, Corpus Christi-Caller-Times staff writer Wednesday in a ship-to-shore radio interview.

Penabaz, a lawyer from the Oriente Province who joined the forces attempting to overthrow Fidel Castro, said that the heavy fire from Castro's army literally tore the invading forces to pieces.

He said Castro's army was armed with tanks, machine-guns and mortars from the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia. He said the Castro forces had many planes from the United States and Great Britain.

"We had only a few B26s and most of them were shot down. We were completely without air support for our troops," Penabaz, who speaks English well, said.

"But we will go back," he said. "The next time we will need equipment. We do not need people. We need good planes."

Penabaz identified his companions as Jose Francisco, 25, a law student from Santiago; Rebe Alviaz, 30, of Oriente Province and Orando Rodriquez, 25, of Havana. He declined to name his fourth companion, explaining "his family is in Cuba."

Penabaz would not say from which country the ill-fated invasion of Cuba was launched, but added it was not the United States.

Fidel in Marathon Harangue

Rifle Fire Is Only Break for Castro

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro today staged a marathon harangue before nearly 1,000 captured rebel invaders in a dramatic Cuban television show interrupted once by an apparently accidental burst of gunfire.

The Cuban prime minister appeared momentarily startled when a guard's weapon discharged.

Urges Calmness

Then, he raised his arms over his head, urged the large Havana Sports Palace crowd to remain calm and said: "Don't anybody move. Everyone put their weapons where they belong."

Minutes after the unexpected interruption, Castro continued his long political and economic lecture to a captive audience seated in bleachers and guarded by soldiers armed with automatic rifles.

"You all thought you were going to be assassinated, didn't you?" Castro asked.

"Yes," the prisoners roared back.

"Instead," he said, "you have been treated politely." Most nodded agreement. Last Sunday Castro had strongly indicated the pris-

First Automobile Show Scheduled For Strand Area

An automobile show with day-long music and dancing will be held Saturday by the Rondout Area Business Men's Association.

A ribbon-cutting by Mayor Edwin F. Radel at 10:30 a. m., will open the show which continues to 7:30 p. m.

More than 30 1961 model cars are to be displayed by individual dealers.

Kingston's own Bobby Banner, now recording for 20th Century Fox, and who has a coming hit in, "Your Cheating Heart," is to appear in person.

Recordings through the day will be spun by Bill Draper. A five-piece orchestra is due to play live music from 2 to 5 p. m.

Downtown show windows will display items listed in special sales in conjunction with the auto show. An attendance of upwards of 2,000 is anticipated.

Labor Groups Endorse Mrs. Murphy, Stedge

Mrs. Edith Case Murphy of Kingston and Robert S. Stedge of the Town of Ulster received the endorsement of a number of area labor groups today as seven candidates prepared themselves for tonight's third and final panel discussion in a series which began almost two weeks ago.

The endorsements came from the Hudson District Council of Carpenters, Carpenters Local 1175, Kingston Metal Trades Council, and Local 666 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes.

Endorsement by the labor groups, composed of some thousands of members, came as the campaign for the school board entered its final phase.

Two candidates will be elected at the polls from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday, May 2, succeeding President Robert Herzog and Vice President Robert O'Reilly.

Persons who voted in the last general election are eligible to cast their ballots.

The final panel discussion will be held at 8 p. m. today at the Lake Katrine School.

The first such meeting was held Monday April 17, at the Port Ewen School, the second last Monday at the George Washington School, attended by approximately 150 persons. The meetings have been sponsored by the Kingston Parent Teacher Association Council (Consolidated).

At the meeting Monday night the moderator, Charles Grant Ellis, was deluged with questions. He was able to ask only a portion of them during the evening.

At the meeting tonight each candidate will make a brief statement. A question and answer period will follow.

The candidates, besides Mrs. Murphy and Stedge, who are supported by the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, are Hugh Greer, a member of the Kingston Fire Department; Howard Mansfield of Tillson, an employe of IBM; Bernie Singer, North Front Street businessmen; Robert MacKinnon, Kingston attorney, and Mrs. Ruth Clair of Kingston, a teacher in the Onteora Central School District.

Will Name Officer to Ethics Job

'No Exceptions,' Congress Is Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today he intends to appoint an officer to coordinate ethical standards in the government's executive departments and agencies.

This officer would report directly to him, Kennedy said in a special message to Congress on conflicts of interest.

"Regulation of ethical conduct," Kennedy said, "must be coordinated in order to ensure that all employes are held to the same general standards of conduct."

At the same time, Kennedy proposed a broad overhaul of conflicts of interest laws. He also urged adoption of specific codes of conduct in every government agency relating to private contacts over pending business. Kennedy was understood to have a "no exception" rule in mind on such contacts, which would include members of Congress.

White House aides described the message as the most far-reaching document on ethics ever submitted to Congress by a president.

Landis May Get Post

Kennedy said he will, by executive order, shortly blueprint those things which a government employe may not do if he wants to continue on the payroll.

Kennedy did not indicate whom he intended to appoint to the ethics post. But, there was immediate speculation that the job might be offered to James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School.

Last December, Landis, 61, special assistant to the President for regulatory agencies, prepared a report on the agencies for Kennedy, then President-elect. Among other recommendations, Landis proposed that an office be created within the executive branch to "assist the President in discharging his responsibility of assuring the efficient execution of those laws that these agencies administer."

Lists Responsibilities

Kennedy said he would charge his ethics coordinator with these responsibilities:

Preparing for presidential proclamation general regulations as needed.

Developing methods of informing government personnel about ethical standards.

Conducting studies and accumulating experience leading to more effective regulation of ethical conduct, including the formulation of rules in areas not yet regulated.

Clearing and coordinating agency regulations to assure consistent executive policy.

Says Vets Paid Bingo Inspector; Gives No Reason

NEW YORK (AP)—A New Jersey official told the New York State Investigation Commission today he feels that bingo should not be played in commercial halls.

Norman D. Valentine, executive officer of the New Jersey Legalized Games of Chance Control Commission, said the commission has recommended repeal of the commercial renters licensing law in his state.

Explains N.

The New York commission, probing the conduct of bingo in this state, heard from Valentine details of bingo operations in New Jersey.

Valentine said bingo and raffles netted sponsors $29,471,790 from 1954 through 1960 in New Jersey. Gross receipts in the period were $128,649,078.

Rent Exceeded Proceeds

He said that sponsoring organizations pay rental on every occasion, and that the commission has found that in many instances rent for use of a hall greatly exceeds proceeds derived from bingo games by qualified organizations.

Wednesday, a member of a Disabled American Veterans post told the commission he gave small amounts of money to two inspectors for the State Lottery Control Commission.

"For the life of me, I can't ex-

Laos Urges Friday Halt, Outlook Bleak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Laotian government today proposed a cease-fire at noon Friday as fears rose among some Westerners in Laos that resistance to pro-Communist rebel attacks was nearing collapse.

The call for a cease-fire was broadcast by radio and given to the Russians for relay to the Pathet Lao rebels, but there was no indication of any quick agreement from the rebel side.

Western sources in Vientiane, the administrative capital of Laos, said there was no report of major fighting since the rebels Wednesday captured Muong Sai, a trading village 55 miles north of Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

These informed quarters referred to the drooping morale of royal army soldiers, battered by the Communist-supplied Pathet Laos in the weeks of political maneuvering for a truce.

Whether the new airlift of arms to royal troops, launched Wednesday by the U.S. Air Force, could stem the tide was a question. Washington declared the flow of arms will continue until a cease-fire is reached.

Both sides have agreed to a cease-fire but the rebels appear in no hurry to agree to a date as long as they continue to extend their control over wide areas of Laos.

In New Delhi, the three-power commission to supervise a truce haggled over the same issues that wrecked the commission in 1958—freedom of movement in rebel territory. Members are Canada, Communist Poland and Canada.

First Automobile Show Scheduled For Strand Area

An automobile show with day-long music and dancing will be held Saturday by the Rondout Area Business Men's Association.

A ribbon-cutting by Mayor Edwin F. Radel at 10:30 a. m., will open the show which continues to 7:30 p. m.

More than 30 1961 model cars are to be displayed by individual dealers.

Kingston's own Bobby Banner, now recording for 20th Century Fox, and who has a coming hit in, "Your Cheating Heart," is to appear in person.

Recordings through the day will be spun by Bill Draper. A five-piece orchestra is due to play live music from 2 to 5 p. m.

Downtown show windows will display items listed in special sales in conjunction with the auto show. An attendance of upwards of 2,000 is anticipated.

Laos Urges Friday Halt, Outlook Bleak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Laotian government today proposed a cease-fire at noon Friday as fears rose among some Westerners in Laos that resistance to pro-Communist rebel attacks was nearing collapse.

The call for a cease-fire was broadcast by radio and given to the Russians for relay to the Pathet Lao rebels, but there was no indication of any quick a greement from the rebel side.

Western sources in Vientiane, the administrative capital of Laos, said there was no report of major fighting since the rebels Wednesday captured Muong Sai, a trading village 55 miles north of Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

These informed quarters referred to the drooping morale of royal army soldiers, battered by the Communist-supplied Pathet Laos in the weeks of political maneuvering for a truce.

Whether the new airlift of arms to royal troops, launched Wednesday by the U.S. Air Force, could stem the tide was a question. Washington declared the flow of arms will continue until a cease-fire is reached.

Both sides have agreed to a cease-fire but the rebels appear in no hurry to agree to a date as long as they continue to extend their control over wide areas of Laos.

In New Delhi, the three-power commission to supervise a truce haggled over the same issues that wrecked the commission in 1958—freedom of movement in rebel territory. Members are Canada, Communist Poland and Canada.

Labor Groups Endorse Mrs. Murphy, Stedge

Mrs. Edith Case Murphy of Kingston and Robert S. Stedge of the Town of Ulster received the endorsement of a number of area labor groups today as seven candidates prepared themselves for tonight's third and final panel discussion in a series which began almost two weeks ago.

The endorsements came from the Hudson District Council of Carpenters, Carpenters Local 1175, Kingston Metal Trades Council, and Local 666 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes.

Endorsement by the labor groups, composed of some thousands of members, came as the campaign for the school board entered its final phase.

Two candidates will be elected at the polls from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday, May 2, succeeding President Robert Herzog and Vice President Robert O'Reilly.

Persons who voted in the last general election are eligible to cast their ballots.

The final panel discussion will be held at 8 p. m. today at the Lake Katrine School.

The first such meeting was held Monday April 17, at the Port Ewen School, the second last Monday at the George Washington School, attended by approximately 150 persons. The meetings have been sponsored by the Kingston Parent Teacher Association Council (Consolidated).

At the meeting Monday night the moderator, Charles Grant Ellis, was deluged with questions. He was able to ask only a portion of them during the evening.

At the meeting tonight each candidate will make a brief statement. A question and answer period will follow.

The candidates, besides Mrs. Murphy and Stedge, who are supported by the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, are Hugh Greer, a member of the Kingston Fire Department; Howard Mansfield of Tillson, an employe of IBM; Bernie Singer, North Front Street businessmen; Robert MacKinnon, Kingston attorney, and Mrs. Ruth Clair of Kingston, a teacher in the Onteora Central School District.

Says Vets Paid Bingo Inspector; Gives No Reason

NEW YORK (AP)—A New Jersey official told the New York State Investigation Commission today he feels that bingo should not be played in commercial halls.

Norman D. Valentine, executive officer of the New Jersey Legalized Games of Chance Control Commission, said the commission has recommended repeal of the commercial renters licensing law in his state.

Explains N.

The New York commission, probing the conduct of bingo in this state, heard from Valentine details of bingo operations in New Jersey.

Valentine said bingo and raffles netted sponsors $29,471,790 from 1954 through 1960 in New Jersey. Gross receipts in the period were $128,649,078.

Rent Exceeded Proceeds

He said that sponsoring organizations pay rental on every occasion, and that the commission has found that in many instances rent for use of a hall greatly exceeds proceeds derived from bingo games by qualified organizations.

Wednesday, a member of a Disabled American Veterans post told the commission he gave small amounts of money to two Inspectors for the State Lottery Control Commission.

Suit Against NH Railroad Is Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court jury, unable to agree in the trial of a $750,000 damage suit against the New Haven railroad, has been dismissed.

The all-male jury began deliberations Wednesday afternoon in the suit brought by Mrs. Mildred E. Shepard, of Montgomery, N.Y., widow of a New Haven Railroad fireman shot to death aboard a train.

The panel announced Wednesday night that it was "evenly divided with no possibility of unanimity."

Judge Thomas F. Murphy discharged the panel after an eight-day trial. An attorney for Mrs. Shepard said he will attempt to have the case returned to the trial calendar as soon as possible.

Mrs. Shepard accuses the railroad of negligence in permitting her husband Bryon's killer, a freight conductor, to remain in its employ although he had a history of mental disturbance.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — An English newsmen, recently returned from 18 months in Africa predicts "a violent solution to the problem of the Union of South Africa."

David Holden, a former member of the staff of the London Times and about to join the Manchester Guardian in New York City, said Wednesday Africa would be in a state of ferment for some time because of its emerging nationalism.

"I can see nothing eventually except a black government for the Union of South Africa," he told newsmen.

$38,000 Estate Theft Charged to Broome Leader

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Republican majority leader of the Binghamton City Council is charged with stealing more than $38,000 from estates and other sources.

Joseph P. Mangan, 41, surrendered to the district attorney's office Wednesday on a warrant charging Mangan stole $13,659 from the estate of a former Binghamton school teacher.

Dist. Atty. Louis Greenblott said the balance of the alleged thefts were from "other estates and other matters" but declined to elaborate.

Mangan was freed in $10,000 bail.

He has been a member of the council since 1956 and was council president last year. He ran unsuccessfully in the Republican primary for mayor in 1957.

Mangan was charged with failing to pay federal and state inheritance taxes on the estate of Eunice M. Davis after her sister, Caroline, gave him a check for $13,659.

Mangan's brother John, since has paid the taxes, Greenblott said.

Making Plans for Civil War Centennial at Senate Museum

Preliminary plans for an exhibit to be held in July at the Senate House Museum on Fair Street in observance of the Civil War Centennial, were formulated at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the museum.

Captain Andrew S. Hickey, U. S. Navy, retired, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Senate House Museum, called the meeting of interested representatives of area organizations for the purpose of planning and promoting the exhibit.

The Civil War Centennial observance was officially opened in New York State at ceremonies in Chancellors Hall, Albany, on April 17. Bruce Catton, noted author and editor, is chairman of the State Civil War Centennial Commission.

More Relics Needed

Initial plans for an extensive appeal to organizations and local citizens for donations or loans of any type of Civil War relic, including trophies, prints, letters, papers and other historical data suitable for display at the museum.

Individuals and organizations loaning any article for display at the exhibit will receive a receipt issued by the Senate House Museum curator. All persons interested in making contributions of relics are urged to communicate with Mrs. Mary B. Terwilliger at the museum on Fair Street in person or by telephone.

Has Unusual Items

The present exhibit of Civil War items at the museum contains many unusual items of interest to students and historians alike. A special room in the museum has been set aside for the centennial observance exhibit.

The public is urged to assist and endorse this effort by the committee to remind area residents of the heroism and character that came out of the Civil War.

Those at Meeting

Attending the first organizational meeting of the exhibit committee were Mrs. Herbert Zaccheo, representing the American Association of University Women, who acted as committee secretary; Mrs. Roger Mabie, of the Junior League, in charge of committee records; Ira V. D. Warren, Ulster County historian and editor of The Kingstonian, and Chief Warrant Officer Thomas W. Miller, assistant adjutant and Civil War projects officer, 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, who is publicity chairman.

Joseph Sullivan, city historian, and members of the Friends of the Senate House, were unable to attend the session.

The group will meet again on May 10.

Individual Must Honor Rights of His Fellow Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The individual citizen expecting protection of law must "conduct himself with full regard for the rights of his fellow man," Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today.

"Every facet of our system of laws is predicated alike on respect for the indivdual," Lefkowtz said. "On his part, the individual citizen has a concomitant obligation and responsibility to government and to his fellow man."

The attorney general's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at Law Day exercises in the Court of Appeals building.

Gov. Rockefeller was also on the list of speakers.

Lefkowitz said that individuals "must honor the rights and importance of his fellow man in no less a degree than he expects his government to act toward himself."

SeawayTollsDown But U. S. Able To Pay Its Debts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the United States' share of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls fell short of expectations durng its first two years of operation, it will have no trouble paying its debts, the seaway administrator maintains.

M. W. Oettershagen, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., told Congress Wednesday tolls fell $212,000 below estimates during the first year.

But he said revenues should increase sufficiently to permit the agency to catch up on its interest payments to the U.S. Treasury and to begin paying off its $130 million debt by 1969. The debt must be paid within 50 years.

Oettershagen asked a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee to approve a $1,425,000 spending program for his agency during the year beginning July 1. This is $36,000 more than requested last year.

Congress does not appropriate money for operation of the inland waterway but must fix a yearly limit on corporation spending.

All tolls collected above the agency's congress - approved budget must be turned over to the Treasury to pay interest on borrowed money and to reduce the corporation's debt.

Oettershagen said the corporation collected $3,115,040 in tolls during 1960 and paid the Treasury $1,908,235 in interest charges.

The spending program he advocated included $425,000 for administrative expenses, $11,000 more than last year, and $1 million for operations, $25,000 more than last year.

The operations budget increase, he said, was due to wage increases for employes.

Oettershagen said $508,000 would be spent for locks and canals and $492,000 for maintenance of plant and navigation aids.

Rochester Co. Given Right on Equipment

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Rochester Telephone Co. had state permission today to buy $810,000 worth of equipment from the New York Telephone Co. that is used in handling toll calls between the two utilities.

The Public Service Commission on Wednesday authorized the purchase of the equipment, now housed in the Rochester Telephone Building in Rochester.

The PSC said Rochester Telephone sought to make the purchase as the "first move toward acquiring full responsibility for all aspects of telephone service within its franchised area."

Initial plans for an extensive appeal to organizations and local citizens for donations or loans of any type of Civil War relic, including trophies, prints, letters, papers and other historical data suitable for display at the museum.

Individuals and organizations loaning any article for display at the exhibit will receive a receipt issued by the Senate House Museum curator. All persons interested in making contributions of relics are urged to communicate with Mrs. Mary B. Terwilliger at the museum on Fair Street in person or by telephone.

Has Unusual Items

The present exhibit of Civil War items at the museum contains many unusual items of interest to students and historians alike. A special room in the museum has been set aside for the centennial observance exhibit.

The public is urged to assist and endorse this effort by the committee to remind area residents of the heroism and character that came out of the Civil War.

Those at Meeting

Attending the first organizational meeting of the exhibit committee were Mrs. Herbert Zaccheo, representing the American Association of University Women, who acted as committee secretary; Mrs. Roger Mabie, of the Junior League, in charge of committee records; Ira V. D. Warren, Ulster County historian and editor of The Kingstonian, and Chief Warrant Officer Thomas W. Miller, assistant adjutant and Civil War projects officer, 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, who is publicity chairman.

Joseph Sullivan, city historian, and members of the Friends of the Senate House, were unable to attend the session.

The group will meet again on May 10.

CHECKING ON CIVIL WAR RELICS — Looking over part of collection at Senate House are four people interested in Civil War relics to be displayed there in July to commemorate the centennial of the war between the states. From left are Thomas Miller, chief warrant officer, representing the 156th Artillery, New York National Guard; Mrs. Herbert Zaccheo from American Association of University Women; Mrs. Roger Mabie of the Junior League and Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, (U. S. Navy, retired), a member of the board of trustees of the Senate House, who called the meeting. (Freeman photo).

Jurors to Elect, Install Monday

An important meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County will be held Monday, May 1, at the Court House at 8 p. m., Thomas J. Murphy, president, announced today.

Election and installation of officers will take place.

Plans for the 27th annual banquet, scheduled May 18, also will be made Monday night. The event is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock at the Tropical Inn in Port Ewen.

Principal speaker will be County Judge Raymond J. Mino while District Attorney David W. Corwin will be master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Anne M. Ashdown, secretary, will send out reply cards soon for reservations. Members may invite guests. The ticket reservation deadline is Monday, May 15.

Chairman of this year's dinner is F. Leslie Garrison.

Individual Must Honor Rights of His Fellow Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The individual citizen expecting protection of law must "conduct himself with full regard for the rights of his fellow man," Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today.

"Every facet of our system of laws is predicated alike on respect for the indivdual," Lefkowtz said. "On his part, the individual citizen has a concomitant obligation and responsibility to government and to his fellow man."

The attorney general's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at Law Day exercises in the Court of Appeals building.

Gov. Rockefeller was also on the list of speakers.

Lefkowitz said that individuals "must honor the rights and importance of his fellow man in no less a degree than he expects his government to act toward himself."

SeawayTollsDown But U. S. Able To Pay Its Debts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the United States' share of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls fell short of expectations durng its first two years of operation, it will have no trouble paying its debts, the seaway administrator maintains.

M. W. Oettershagen, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., told Congress Wednesday tolls fell $212,000 below estimates during the first year.

But he said revenues should increase sufficiently to permit the agency to catch up on its interest payments to the U.S. Treasury and to begin paying off its $130 million debt by 1969. The debt must be paid within 50 years.

Oettershagen asked a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee to approve a $1,425,000 spending program for his agency during the year beginning July 1. This is $36,000 more than requested last year.

Congress does not appropriate money for operation of the inland waterway but must fix a yearly limit on corporation spending.

All tolls collected above the agency's congress - approved budget must be turned over to the Treasury to pay interest on borrowed money and to reduce the corporation's debt.

Oettershagen said the corporation collected $3,115,040 in tolls during 1960 and paid the Treasury $1,908,235 in interest charges.

The spending program he advocated included $425,000 for administrative expenses, $11,000 more than last year, and $1 million for operations, $25,000 more than last year.

The operations budget increase, he said, was due to wage increases for employes.

Oettershagen said $508,000 would be spent for locks and canals and $492,000 for maintenance of plant and navigation aids.

Rochester Co. Given Right on Equipment

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Rochester Telephone Co. had state permission today to buy $810,000 worth of equipment from the New York Telephone Co. that is used in handling toll calls between the two utilities.

The Public Service Commission on Wednesday authorized the purchase of the equipment, now housed in the Rochester Telephone Building in Rochester.

The PSC said Rochester Telephone sought to make the purchase as the "first move toward acquiring full responsibility for all aspects of telephone service within its franchised area."

TRIBUTE TO NURSES

"Nursing—A Community Calling," this is the theme around which various programs and observances are now being held for "Nurse Week." All professional nurses who are members of the New York State League for Nursing, the New York State Nurses Association and the Student Nurses Association of New York State have arranged a series of activities reminding the public of the service their profession renders the community.

Truly, the nursing profession is a community calling. After she has gone through an intensive period of study, training and, finally, application of her education and skills, the nurse takes the Nightingale Pledge vowing faithful, loyal and devoted practice of her profession. Then she steps into a lifetime of service to others.

In the community she may be on duty in a hospital, or in a school caring for your youngster's health needs, or in a factory tending industrial injuries, or in a public health office. Many times her work may be exciting and glamorous, but more often it is tedious and backbreaking. But whatever the case, it is always rewarding and stimulating . . . because it is her chosen career and she entered it because she wanted to . . . because she feels a sense of responsibility toward her fellowmen.

As well as bedside care, she is concerned with the rehabilitation of patients and their mental, spiritual and emotional health. The nurse is trained in a multitude of modern medical routines, nutrition, psychology and up-to-date health procedures. Her practice of them makes for a better community.

Her working life is dedicated to people, their health, welfare and well-being.

For her this dedication is a 52-week job. Let us, then, for this period, take a moment to join with and actively support the civic groups that are paying tribute to her. Let us accord her with the recognition she so justly deserves for her unflagging zeal in her contribution to a better community.

NON-PARTISAN NOMINATIONS

The Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, which is supporting two candidates for the board of education, was born of dissatisfaction with the manner in which candidates for the board had previously been chosen. It was the belief of many that endorsement by a pressure group devoted to one or another partisan view was not, in itself, sufficient qualification for service on the board of education; that the schools are everybody's business; that to be truly fit to serve a person must have an understanding of our children's needs, courage to support his convictions and experience to enable him to perform the task properly.

It was the aim of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee to select and present candidates possessing such qualifications. This is an ambitious aim. To achieve it the Committee worked long and hard. Prospective candidates filled out questionnaires as to their qualifications. They appeared before the Committee and answered questions. Later they appeared together in a panel discussion. In these and other ways, the Committee tried to get the facts before coming to a decision.

The members of the Committee, a cross-section of the community, have no axe to grind. Their purpose was to inform themselves before supporting candidates. Having informed themselves they passed their conclusions on to you, the public. This is not presumption. It is responsible citizenship in the highest sense of the word.

Those who wish to stay healthy and avoid a rundown look will look both ways before crossing the street.

Nowadays the jilted bride left waiting at the church is likely to call a taxi to hurry and try to get her job back.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

The United States failed in Cuba. The camps in Miami and in Louisiana were organized for invasion. They were camps manned by Cuban refugees who hoped to save their country from Communism. They were willing to risk and sacrifice their lives for their country and they did. They expected the support of the United States. That support was inadequate and trifling. Castro had ample support provided by Soviet Russia.

The object of the expedition was to establish a beachhead upon which the rebels would set up a government headed by Jose Miro Cardona, Dr. Manuel Antonio Verona and Manuel Ray, three important Cubans of varying political complexion. Once the government was actually on Cuban soil, it could be recognized by the United States and any other governments. Legitimacy would have the value of making it possible for the United State to send supplies to the government which it recognized.

This legitimacy was only important because some of the experts in the State Department felt that the United States could not violate the authority of the Organization of American States (OAS). On the other hand the members of the OAS have permitted the violation of the Caracas Declaration, signed on March 28, 1954 and which provided:

"The American republics at the Ninth International Conference of American States declared that international Communism, by its anti-democratic nature and its interventionist tendency, is incompatible with the concepts of American freedom, and resolved to adopt within their respective territories the measures necessary to eradicate and prevent subversive activities;"

"The Fourth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs recognized that, in addition to adequate internal measures in each state, a high degree of international cooperation is required to eradicate the danger which the subversive activities of international Communism pose for the American States; and"

"The aggressive character of the international Communist movement continues to constitute, in the context of world affairs, a special and immediate threat to the national institutions and the peace and security of the American States, and to the right of each state to develop its cultural, political, and economic life freely and naturally without intervention in its internal or external affairs by other states. . . ."

Further, this Declaration of Solidarity for the Preservation of the Political Integrity of the American States stipulates:

"That the domination or control of the political institutions of any American State by the international Communist movement, extending to this Hemisphere, the political system of an extracontinental power, would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American States, endangering the peace of America, and would call for a Meeting of Consultation to consider the adoption of appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

Thus, it is clear beyond peradventure that the member states of the OAS are required to join the United States in opposing the establishment of a Communist satellite anywhere in the American hemisphere.

The Charter of the OAS arranged at Bogota in 1948, sets forth the purposes of the Organization as follows:

"A) To strengthen the peace and security of the continent;

B) To prevent possible causes of difficulties and to ensure the pacific settlement of disputes that may arise among the Member States;

C) To provide for common action on the part of those States in the event of aggression;

D) To seek the solution of political, juridical and economic problems that may arise among them; and

E) To promote, by cooperative action, their economic, social and cultural development."

Obviously, there is ample evidence to establish that Castro's Cuba has violated every article of these agreements. The United States is absolved from any responsibility to associate itself with the OAS unless the OAS undertakes to punish Castro's Cuba. Those who seek a legitimate reason for the United States moving into Cuba alone, can find it in the Bogota Agreement and the Caracas Declaration. If the other members of the OAS are afraid to punish Castro's Cuba, the United States will have to go it alone. After all, even if they agreed to join in any primitive expedition, it would be the United States that would have to go it alone, for precisely how much help can be expected of the Argentine or Brazil or Mexico?

Certainly, time is wasting — as the expression has it! Do we have to stand still until Soviet Russia has established a missile and a submarine base in Cuba?

Diabetes Not 'Dreaded' Since Insulin and Sulfa

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—"What is being done about diabetes? Of all the discoveries and many wonderful things being done today, why can't our scientists find the cause or cure for this dreaded, hopeless disease?"

I don't know where you've been all these years, dear lady, or where you get your misinformation but I had to re-read your letter to be sure it was written seriously.

I know of few diseases that have been as greatly benefited by scientific research as diabetes. I know of few chronic disturbances to which the words "dreaded" and "hopeless" apply less. Indeed, if any of us had to choose a chronic disease with which to be afflicted, I imagine many would select diabetes.

Less than 50 years ago, diabetes was "dreaded and hopeless." To keep child diabetics alive, for example, it was necessary to reduce them to living skeletons. With the introduction of insulin in 1922, by the Canadian team of Banting and Best, the whole picture changed. And within another 10 years thousands of diabetics were leading normal lives, thanks to a combination of insulin injections usually self-administered and a modestly restricted but completely satisfactory diet.

With the chance discovery a few years ago that one of the sulfa drugs produced a lowering of blood sugar, though it was useless as an anti-infective, many thousands of diabetics who relied on insulin injections were able to throw away their hypodermic needles and syringes and substitute these sulfa tablets. And most of the newly discovered diabetics never needed to learn to give an insulin injection to themselves. They were immediately given tablets and instructions about diet.

As a result of these discoveries diabetes is today just about the simplest and easiest of chronic disturbances to control. It does not, except in extreme circumstances, interfere with daily living. It is neither a threat to health or life although it does require special attention in the face of pregnancy, intercurrent infection, surgical procedure or any other unrelated incident or accident.

Striking examples of the "unhopeless" nature of diabetes have been furnished by baseball players and political figures who are diabetic.

If you are diabetic and in need of more information, why don't you address the American Diabetic Assn., One East 45 Street, New York City 11? They'll give you all the information you need without charge.

"What a Coincidence!---I'm Headed That Way, Too"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Top planners on the staff of the U. S. Peace Corps being organized under R. Sargent Shriver call up Dr. J. S. Noffsinger, executive director of the eight-year-old International Voluntary Services, Inc., to ask him how he handles problems they face for the first time.

With over 50 years experience in foreign education, health and welfare projects, Nosinger is glad to give his counsel. He thinks the Peace Corps has a great potential. But its future contains many pitfalls which he would like to see it avoid.

IVS HAS LEARNED THE HARD WAY, for instance, that no married couples should be sent overseas, with one exception:

That is for the head of a mission, whose wife is expected to create a home away from home for the young volunteer workers. But not even the supervisors are allowed to take large families overseas with them.

The new and larger Peace Corps will not be able to duplicate this, but the young people IVS sends abroad must have been reared on a farm, be agricultural college graduates and know how to work with their hands.

From Selective Service director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, IVS has had recommendations to local draft boards that educational deferments be granted to its volunteers on a year-to-year basis.

In return, IVS agreed it would pay its workers no more than a buck private. This was originally $60 a month, but it has now been raised to $78 plus food, travel and shelter. IVS pays its supervisors $3,000 a year plus allowances, in contrast to the $10,000 plus allowances which the government's International Cooperation Administration foreign aid mission chiefs get.

IVS SCREENS ITS PROBLEM CHILDREN before they are hired, through reports from job applicants' college professors. If one or more from five or six professors who know the student run up a red flag of warning on him, he isn't hired.

IVS hires only college men who have been leaders on the campus. College loafers aren't accepted. A church affiliation—any church—is considered essential.

Voluntary Services, in pilot operations for what is to become the Peace Corps, has found that do-gooders who may have enthusiasm for helping the heathen, but don't know how to go about it, are no good abroad.

The "heathen," Noffsinger points out, often have cultures of their own thousands of years old. Trying to make Americans of them is the wrong approach. People in rural areas of the less developed countries may be illiterate, but they are shrewd and proud and must be dealth with sympathetically.

IVS formerly trained its volunteers in the United States before sending them abroad, but it doesn't do that any more. Experience showed the young workers learned the wrong things.

Instead, the volunteer worker is now given three months training overseas in the mission where he is to work. Mornings are spent in learning the language and local dialect. Afternoons are spent in field work with experienced leaders.

YOUNG WORKERS GOING ABROAD FOR THE FIRST TIME often get the shock of their lives. They find that the natives often know more than Americans about George Washington's farewell address warning against entangling foreign alliances, Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death," and Abraham Lincoln's views on democracy, freedom and slavery.

The Voluntary Services has found that supervisors must not be too old—not as old as some of the ICA mission chiefs have been. People who have been school administrators, vocational teachers, agricultural extension agents, and state 4-H club leaders make the best supervisors.

Supervisors must give the volunteers under them sympathetic handling and direction. If they don't, the young workers become either dominated by the foreigners or too cocksure in their own approach to the natives. Either way, they're useless.

'Liberals' Silence Is Noted On Probe of Electric Case

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26 — Maybe it's unfortunate the executives of those electrical companies aren't Communist sympathizers or party members—for, if they were, they probably would have won the support of many of the so-called "liberals" and might not have been subjected to the current "trial by publicity." There might even have been demonstrations in their behalf and a demand for the "abolition" of the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee which is at present conducting the hearings.

For, basically, it might have been argued the electrical executives exercised only their right of "freedom of association" or "freedom of speech," and merely got together to indulge in "freedom of conversation."

It will be noted that the witnesses from the electrical business who have testified thus far before Sen. Kefauver's committee didn't take refuge in the Fifth Amendment. Nor did they condemn the committee for engaging in "exposure for exposure's sake."

Denunciation Recalled

Not long ago the American Civil Liberties Union issued a fervent statement, signed by 250 college professors, denouncing a Congressional committee for trying to substitute its investigations for trials and law-enforcement proceedings. The statement said:

"Not only teachers, but all Americans, we insist, must be free from trial by publicity—from what Mr. Justice Black has called 'exposure, obloquy and public scorn.' We would be the first to concede that teachers have no greater rights than other citizens—just as they have no lesser rights."

But, strangely enough, hardly a voice has since been lifted in support of the men in the electrical business who are being made the object of considerable publicity through the Senate committee's public investigations.

Unpleasant, however, though it may be to the electrical companies' executives who are testifying about the meetings at which prices were allegedly fixed, it is in the public interest for Congress to get all the facts from every individual who has any knowledge of the price-fixing process. The purpose of this, of course, is to learn how to write corrective legislation for the future.

Laws Called Unclear

For, unhappily, the anti-trust laws are by no means clear, nor are the decisions in the court cases that have been tried over a long period of years models of simplicity. Senators this week asked some of the witnesses, for instance, if they knew they were violating anti-trust laws, and one of the executives replied:

"It had been so common and had gone on for so many years that we lost sight of that."

But the public gets from this the impression that violations were always willful, when actually there is little doubt that the fuzziness of the whole anti-trust question has resulted in all sorts of individual interpretations as to where legality begins or ends.

Thus, for example, is any meeting between business men to discuss industrial costs, such as wage rates and uniform charges in the whole employment field, illegal? If so, many a conference of the managements of several competing companies — induced by industry-wide negotiations with national labor unions—might possibly be construed as part of a conspiracy to fix sales prices.

Concerned With Collusion

Incidentally, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy has just made a speech to the American Management Association in which he is quoted as having said that the Department of Justice is concerned with collusion and conspiracy and not with prices as such. He added:

"I can conceive of a number of different instances where you have identical pricing which wouldn't be illegal or improper."

The surrounding factors are proper subjects for examination by the Department of Justice in each case because, as Chief Justice Warren said in the Watkins case on June 17, 1957, a Congressional committee has certain limitations. He wrote in behalf of the majority of the court:

"Nor is the congress a law enforcement or trial agency. These are functions of the executive and judicial departments of government."

Basic Purpose Cited

Unquestionably some individuals and companies will get some unfavorable publicity, but the underlying purpose of a Congressional committee is to find out what happened so that new legislation or amendments to existing laws may be enacted. Painful as it may be to the persons who are pilloried in public, that is the best way Congress can learn what happens when ambiguously phrased laws and even more perplexing phrases of court decisions are proclaimed as the "law of the land."

Only by thorough inquiry can the facts of anti-trust and monopoly be fully exposed. The same holds true of laws affecting national security, subversions or infiltration. Whatever mistakes the electrical companies' executives may have made they didn't question the right of the committee to investigate, and they certainly didn't take the Fifth Amendment or the First Amendment. Nor did they instigate college professors to demand the "abolition" of the committee. Nor did they encourage student demonstrations throughout the country. They just took it on the chin. And what they did may turn out to be in the interest of a clarification and perhaps strengthening of the anti-trust laws, especially in the uncertain field of price-fixing.

Hospital in Congo Carries On Despite Many Shortages

Editor's Note — John A. Kennedy, publisher and editor in chief of the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, and Mrs. Kennedy have just concluded a visit to the troubled Congo. In this second of a series on the nation's basic problems, Mrs. Kennedy describes the work of an embattled hospital.

By BRUCE LEE KENNEDY

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—They brought a 14-year-old youngster, half-paralyzed, into native Katambo Hospital the other day. A cursory examination showed the child was suffering from polio.

Nine others were already in a ward in this institution, one of the two in Leopoldville taken over and operated by the Congolese last summer.

"What are you doing for these children?" Sister Eloardo, the medical sister superior, was asked.

Hope Against Epidemic

"All we can do is put them to bed and hope this is not the start of a polio epidemic because we have no vaccine and have only very limited technical facilities for treatment, and very few doctors, technicians and nurses."

Sanitary conditions in the Congo have disintegrated terribly—the Belgians used to spray for mosquitoes twice a week with helicopters, and three times a week during the rainy season. Additional spray tanks then roamed the streets, taking care of lawns and gardens to curb the rise of mosquitoes and the dreaded tsetse fly in the swamps. A little spraying was being done a few weeks ago but this too has vanished for lack of equipment and material.

The sister's worry could be a genuine one for only a small percentage of the sick people come to the hospital and then only as a last resort—whether because of fear, ignorance or superstition, I could not find out.

Ambassador's Wife Works

I made my tour with Clare Hayes Timberlake, wife of our ambassador. She is "Julie" to the nuns and to the many native assistants who greeted her warmly. She works there every Monday morning, bathing babies and assisting in every way possible.

Mrs. Timberlake devotes an additional two afternoons each week teaching English in a secondary school.

All babies are delivered by midwives here. A doctor is called to the maternity section only in grave cases.

Only about 25 per cent of the Congolese women come to the hospital to have their babies. To our eyes this one seemed quite unsanitary and of very low standard but it is far superior to giving birth to a baby in the bush.

Most maternity cases are kept in the hospital for a week — at least until the baby's cord is healed so as to prevent infection that could develop after they return to their primitive wattle huts.

Basinettes Empty

After the birth in the maternity room, the mothers walk to their beds in a nearby ward, taking their babies with them. There is a basinette at the foot of each bed but as I walked around the wards, I didn't see a single baby in its basinette—they were all in bed with their mothers.

In one of the wards there were about 40 children with various illnesses. Many of their mothers were with them as well as their brothers and sisters who had no one to care for them at home.

In the kitchen, six men, dressed in khaki aprons were preparing lunch for 387 patients registered that day.

There were three Africans, who were dressed in white, in the sterilizing room and I peeked into two operating rooms where European surgeons were at work.

I left feeling grateful that the hospital had the wonderful Belgian sisters who dedicated their lives to helping the sick of the Congo.

TRIBUTE TO NURSES

"Nursing—A Community Calling," this is the theme around which various programs and observances are now being held for "Nurse Week." All professional nurses who are members of the New York State League for Nursing, the New York State Nurses Association and the Student Nurses Association of New York State have arranged a series of activities reminding the public of the service their profession renders the community.

Truly, the nursing profession is a community calling. After she has gone through an intensive period of study, training and, finally, application of her education and skills, the nurse takes the Nightingale Pledge vowing faithful, loyal and devoted practice of her profession. Then she steps into a lifetime of service to others.

In the community she may be on duty in a hospital, or in a school caring for your youngster's health needs, or in a factory tending industrial injuries, or in a public health office. Many times her work may be exciting and glamorous, but more often it is tedious and backbreaking. But whatever the case, it is always rewarding and stimulating . . . because it is her chosen career and she entered it because she wanted to . . . because she feels a sense of responsibility toward her fellowmen.

As well as bedside care, she is concerned with the rehabilitation of patients and their mental, spiritual and emotional health. The nurse is trained in a multitude of modern medical routines, nutrition, psychology and up-to-date health procedures. Her practice of them makes for a better community.

Her working life is dedicated to people, their health, welfare and well-being.

For her this dedication is a 52-week job. Let us, then, for this period, take a moment to join with and actively support the civic groups that are paying tribute to her. Let us accord her with the recognition she so justly deserves for her unflagging zeal in her contribution to a better community.

NON-PARTISAN NOMINATIONS

The Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, which is supporting two candidates for the board of education, was born of dissatisfaction with the manner in which candidates for the board had previously been chosen. It was the belief of many that endorsement by a pressure group devoted to one or another partisan view was not, in itself, sufficient qualification for service on the board of education; that the schools are everybody's business; that to be truly fit to serve a person must have an understanding of our children's needs, courage to support his convictions and experience to enable him to perform the task properly.

It was the aim of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee to select and present candidates possessing such qualifications. This is an ambitious aim. To achieve it the Committee worked long and hard. Prospective candidates filled out questionnaires as to their qualifications. They appeared before the Committee and answered questions. Later they appeared together in a panel discussion. In these and other ways, the Committee tried to get the facts before coming to a decision.

The members of the Committee, a cross-section of the community, have no axe to grind. Their purpose was to inform themselves before supporting candidates. Having informed themselves they passed their conclusions on to you, the public. This is not presumption. It is responsible citizenship in the highest sense of the word.

Those who wish to stay healthy and avoid a rundown look will look both ways before crossing the street.

Nowadays the jilted bride left waiting at the church is likely to call a taxi to hurry and try to get her job back.

'These Days'

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

The United States failed in Cuba. The camps in Miami and in Louisiana were organized for invasion. They were camps manned by Cuban refugees who hoped to save their country from Communism. They were willing to risk and sacrifice their lives for their country and they did. They expected the support of the United States. That support was inadequate and trifling. Castro had ample support provided by Soviet Russia.

The object of the expedition was to establish a beachhead upon which the rebels would set up a government headed by Jose Miro Cardona, Dr. Manuel Antonio Verona and Manuel Ray, three important Cubans of varying political complexion. Once the government was actually on Cuban soil, it could be recognized by the United States and any other governments. Legitimacy would have the value of making it possible for the United State to send supplies to the government which it recognized.

This legitimacy was only important because some of the experts in the State Department felt that the United States could not violate the authority of the Organization of American States (OAS). On the other hand the members of the OAS have permitted the violation of the Caracas Declaration, signed on March 28, 1954 and which provided:

"The American republics at the Ninth International Conference of American States declared that international Communism, by its anti-democratic nature and its interventionist tendency, is incompatible with the concepts of American freedom, and resolved to adopt within their respective territories the measures necessary to eradicate and prevent subversive activities;"

"The Fourth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs recognized that, in addition to adequate internal measures in each state, a high degree of international cooperation is required to eradicate the danger which the subversive activities of international Communism pose for the American States; and"

"The aggressive character of the international Communist movement continues to constitute, in the context of world affairs, a special and immediate threat to the national institutions and the peace and security of the American States, and to the right of each state to develop its cultural, political, and economic life freely and naturally without intervention in its internal or external affairs by other states. . . ."

Further, this Declaration of Solidarity for the Preservation of the Political Integrity of the American States stipulates:

"That the domination or control of the political institutions of any American State by the international Communist movement, extending to this Hemisphere, the political system of an extracontinental power, would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American States, endangering the peace of America, and would call for a Meeting of Consultation to consider the adoption of appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

Thus, it is clear beyond peradventure that the member states of the OAS are required to join the United States in opposing the establishment of a Communist satellite anywhere in the American hemisphere.

The Charter of the OAS arranged at Bogota in 1948, sets forth the purposes of the Organization as follows:

"A) To strengthen the peace and security of the continent;

B) To prevent possible causes of difficulties and to ensure the pacific settlement of disputes that may arise among the Member States;

C) To provide for common action on the part of those States in the event of aggression;

D) To seek the solution of political, juridical and economic problems that may arise among them; and

E) To promote, by cooperative action, their economic, social and cultural development."

Obviously, there is ample evidence to establish that Castro's Cuba has violated every article of these agreements. The United States is absolved from any responsibility to associate itself with the OAS unless the OAS undertakes to punish Castro's Cuba. Those who seek a legitimate reason for the United States moving into Cuba alone, can find it in the Bogota Agreement and the Caracas Declaration. If the other members of the OAS are afraid to punish Castro's Cuba, the United States will have to go it alone. After all, even if they agreed to join in any primitive expedition, it would be the United States that would have to go it alone, for precisely how much help can be expected of the Argentine or Brazil or Mexico?

Certainly, time is wasting — as the expression has it! Do we have to stand still until Soviet Russia has established a missile and a submarine base in Cuba?

Diabetes Not 'Dreaded' Since Insulin and Sulfa

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—"What is being done about diabetes? Of all the discoveries and many wonderful things being done today, why can't our scientists find the cause or cure for this dreaded, hopeless disease?"

I don't know where you've been all these years, dear lady, or where you get your misinformation but I had to re-read your letter to be sure it was written seriously.

I know of few diseases that have been as greatly benefited by scientific research as diabetes. I know of few chronic disturbances to which the words "dreaded" and "hopeless" apply less. Indeed, if any of us had to choose a chronic disease with which to be afflicted, I imagine many would select diabetes.

Less than 50 years ago, diabetes was "dreaded and hopeless." To keep child diabetics alive, for example, it was necessary to reduce them to living skeletons. With the introduction of insulin in 1922, by the Canadian team of Banting and Best, the whole picture changed. And within another 10 years thousands of diabetics were leading normal lives, thanks to a combination of insulin injections usually self-administered and a modestly restricted but completely satisfactory diet.

With the chance discovery a few years ago that one of the sulfa drugs produced a lowering of blood sugar, though it was useless as an anti-infective, many thousands of diabetics who relied on insulin injections were able to throw away their hypodermic needles and syringes and substitute these sulfa tablets. And most of the newly discovered diabetics never needed to learn to give an insulin injection to themselves. They were immediately given tablets and instructions about diet.

As a result of these discoveries diabetes is today just about the simplest and easiest of chronic disturbances to control. It does not, except in extreme circumstances, interfere with daily living. It is neither a threat to health or life although it does require special attention in the face of pregnancy, intercurrent infection, surgical procedure or any other unrelated incident or accident.

Striking examples of the "unhopeless" nature of diabetes have been furnished by baseball players and political figures who are diabetic.

If you are diabetic and in need of more information, why don't you address the American Diabetic Assn., One East 45 Street, New York City 11? They'll give you all the information you need without charge.

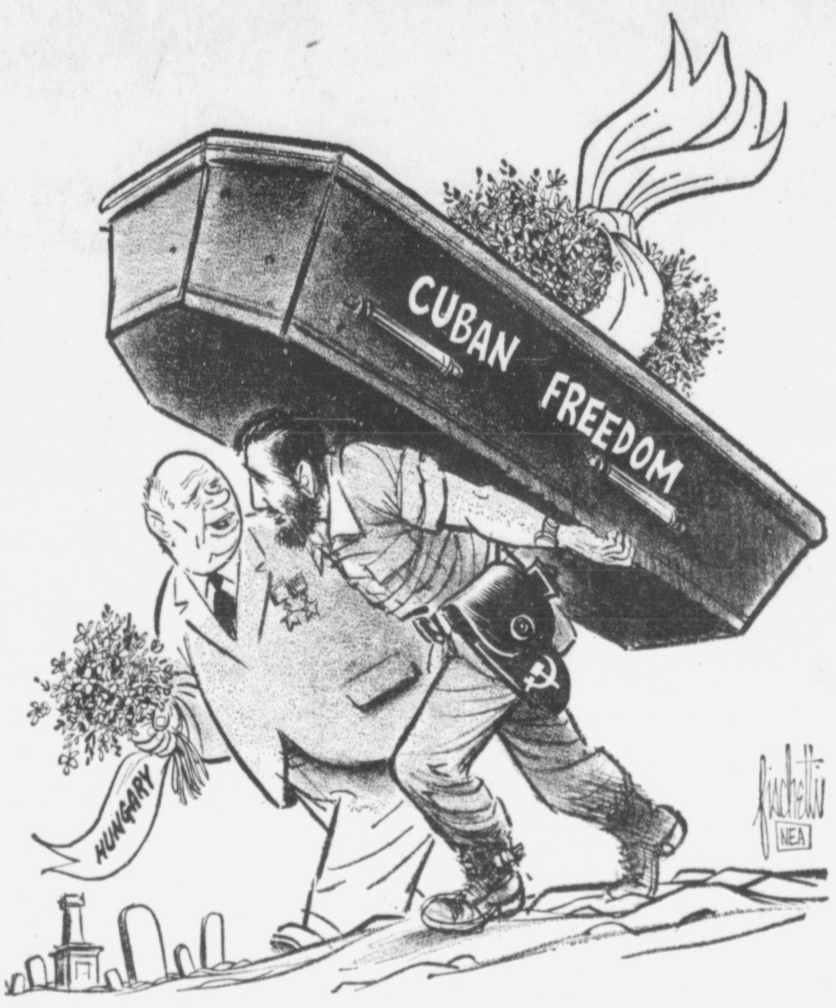
"What a Coincidence!---I'm Headed That Way, Too"



Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Top planners on the staff of the U. S. Peace Corps being organized under R. Sargent Shriver call up Dr. J. S. Noffsinger, executive director of the eight-year-old International Voluntary Services, Inc., to ask him how he handles problems they face for the first time.

With over 50 years experience in foreign education, health and welfare projects, Nosinger is glad to give his counsel. He thinks the Peace Corps has a great potential. But its future contains many pitfalls which he would like to see it avoid.

IVS HAS LEARNED THE HARD WAY, for instance, that no married couples should be sent overseas, with one exception:

That is for the head of a mission, whose wife is expected to create a home away from home for the young volunteer workers. But not even the supervisors are allowed to take large families overseas with them.

The new and larger Peace Corps will not be able to duplicate this, but the young people IVS sends abroad must have been reared on a farm, be agricultural college graduates and know how to work with their hands.

From Selective Service director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, IVS has had recommendations to local draft boards that educational deferments be granted to its volunteers on a year-to-year basis.

In return, IVS agreed it would pay its workers no more than a buck private. This was originally $60 a month, but it has now been raised to $78 plus food, travel and shelter. IVS pays its supervisors $3,000 a year plus allowances, in contrast to the $10,000 plus allowances which the government's International Cooperation Administration foreign aid mission chiefs get.

IVS SCREENS ITS PROBLEM CHILDREN before they are hired, through reports from job applicants' college professors. If one or more from five or six professors who know the student run up a red flag of warning on him, he isn't hired.

IVS hires only college men who have been leaders on the campus. College loafers aren't accepted. A church affiliation—any church—is considered essential.

Voluntary Services, in pilot operations for what is to become the Peace Corps, has found that do-gooders who may have enthusiasm for helping the heathen, but don't know how to go about it, are no good abroad.

The "heathen," Noffsinger points out, often have cultures of their own thousands of years old. Trying to make Americans of them is the wrong approach. People in rural areas of the less developed countries may be illiterate, but they are shrewd and proud and must be dealth with sympathetically.

IVS formerly trained its volunteers in the United States before sending them abroad, but it doesn't do that any more. Experience showed the young workers learned the wrong things.

Instead, the volunteer worker is now given three months training overseas in the mission where he is to work. Mornings are spent in learning the language and local dialect. Afternoons are spent in field work with experienced leaders.

YOUNG WORKERS GOING ABROAD FOR THE FIRST TIME often get the shock of their lives. They find that the natives often know more than Americans about George Washington's farewell address warning against entangling foreign alliances, Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death," and Abraham Lincoln's views on democracy, freedom and slavery.

The Voluntary Services has found that supervisors must not be too old—not as old as some of the ICA mission chiefs have been. People who have been school administrators, vocational teachers, agricultural extension agents, and state 4-H club leaders make the best supervisors.

Supervisors must give the volunteers under them sympathetic handling and direction. If they don't, the young workers become either dominated by the foreigners or too cocksure in their own approach to the natives. Either way, they're useless.

'Liberals' Silence Is Noted On Probe of Electric Case

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26 — Maybe it's unfortunate the executives of those electrical companies aren't Communist sympathizers or party members—for, if they were, they probably would have won the support of many of the so-called "liberals" and might not have been subjected to the current "trial by publicity." There might even have been demonstrations in their behalf and a demand for the "abolition" of the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee which is at present conducting the hearings.

For, basically, it might have been argued the electrical executives exercised only their right of "freedom of association" or "freedom of speech," and merely got together to indulge in "freedom of conversation."

It will be noted that the witnesses from the electrical business who have testified thus far before Sen. Kefauver's committee didn't take refuge in the Fifth Amendment. Nor did they condemn the committee for engaging in "exposure for exposure's sake."

Denunciation Recalled

Not long ago the American Civil Liberties Union issued a fervent statement, signed by 250 college professors, denouncing a Congressional committee for trying to substitute its investigations for trials and law-enforcement proceedings. The statement said:

"Not only teachers, but all Americans, we insist, must be free from trial by publicity—from what Mr. Justice Black has called 'exposure, obloquy and public scorn.' We would be the first to concede that teachers have no greater rights than other citizens—just as they have no lesser rights."

But, strangely enough, hardly a voice has since been lifted in support of the men in the electrical business who are being made the object of considerable publicity through the Senate committee's public investigations.

Unpleasant, however, though it may be to the electrical companies' executives who are testifying about the meetings at which prices were allegedly fixed, it is in the public interest for Congress to get all the facts from every individual who has any knowledge of the price-fixing process. The purpose of this, of course, is to learn how to write corrective legislation for the future.

Laws Called Unclear

For, unhappily, the anti-trust laws are by no means clear, nor are the decisions in the court cases that have been tried over a long period of years models of simplicity. Senators this week asked some of the witnesses, for instance, if they knew they were violating anti-trust laws, and one of the executives replied:

"It had been so common and had gone on for so many years that we lost sight of that."

But the public gets from this the impression that violations were always willful, when actually there is little doubt that the fuzziness of the whole anti-trust question has resulted in all sorts of individual interpretations as to where legality begins or ends.

Thus, for example, is any meeting between business men to discuss industrial costs, such as wage rates and uniform charges in the whole employment field, illegal? If so, many a conference of the managements of several competing companies — induced by industry-wide negotiations with national labor unions—might possibly be construed as part of a conspiracy to fix sales prices.

Concerned With Collusion

Incidentally, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy has just made a speech to the American Management Association in which he is quoted as having said that the Department of Justice is concerned with collusion and conspiracy and not with prices as such. He added:

"I can conceive of a number of different instances where you have identical pricing which wouldn't be illegal or improper."

The surrounding factors are proper subjects for examination by the Department of Justice in each case because, as Chief Justice Warren said in the Watkins case on June 17, 1957, a Congressional committee has certain limitations. He wrote in behalf of the majority of the court:

"Nor is the congress a law enforcement or trial agency. These are functions of the executive and judicial departments of government."

Basic Purpose Cited

Unquestionably some individuals and companies will get some unfavorable publicity, but the underlying purpose of a Congressional committee is to find out what happened so that new legislation or amendments to existing laws may be enacted. Painful as it may be to the persons who are pilloried in public, that is the best way Congress can learn what happens when ambiguously phrased laws and even more perplexing phrases of court decisions are proclaimed as the "law of the land."

Only by thorough inquiry can the facts of anti-trust and monopoly be fully exposed. The same holds true of laws affecting national security, subversions or infiltration. Whatever mistakes the electrical companies' executives may have made they didn't question the right of the committee to investigate, and they certainly didn't take the Fifth Amendment or the First Amendment. Nor did they instigate college professors to demand the "abolition" of the committee. Nor did they encourage student demonstrations throughout the country. They just took it on the chin. And what they did may turn out to be in the interest of a clarification and perhaps strengthening of the anti-trust laws, especially in the uncertain field of price-fixing.

Hospital in Congo Carries On Despite Many Shortages

Editor's Note — John A. Kennedy, publisher and editor in chief of the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, and Mrs. Kennedy have just concluded a visit to the troubled Congo. In this second of a series on the nation's basic problems, Mrs. Kennedy describes the work of an embattled hospital.

By BRUCE LEE KENNEDY

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—They brought a 14-year-old youngster, half-paralyzed, into native Katambo Hospital the other day. A cursory examination showed the child was suffering from polio.

Nine others were already in a ward in this institution, one of the two in Leopoldville taken over and operated by the Congolese last summer.

"What are you doing for these children?" Sister Eloardo, the medical sister superior, was asked.

Hope Against Epidemic

"All we can do is put them to bed and hope this is not the start of a polio epidemic because we have no vaccine and have only very limited technical facilities for treatment, and very few doctors, technicians and nurses."

Sanitary conditions in the Congo have disintegrated terribly—the Belgians used to spray for mosquitoes twice a week with helicopters, and three times a week during the rainy season. Additional spray tanks then roamed the streets, taking care of lawns and gardens to curb the rise of mosquitoes and the dreaded tsetse fly in the swamps. A little spraying was being done a few weeks ago but this too has vanished for lack of equipment and material.

The sister's worry could be a genuine one for only a small percentage of the sick people come to the hospital and then only as a last resort—whether because of fear, ignorance or superstition, I could not find out.

Ambassador's Wife Works

I made my tour with Clare Hayes Timberlake, wife of our ambassador. She is "Julie" to the nuns and to the many native assistants who greeted her warmly. She works there every Monday morning, bathing babies and assisting in every way possible.

Stratton Charges Depressed-Areas Bill Is Altered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., charges that a section he sponsored was dropped from the depressed-areas bill at the urging of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The portion of the bill, Stratton said, would have required the Secretary of Commerce to study the effect the planned closing of a military installation would have in an area of substantial unemployment.

Stratton said he introduced the amendment in view of the Defense Department's study to close procurement facilities at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y. The Air Force has postponed a decision on closing the facility until this fall.

The amendment was dropped by Senators and House members who reconciled differences in depressed-areas bills passed by the House and Senate.

The compromise $394-million bill was passed in the House Wednesday.

Stratton said McNamara's main complaint apparently was that his decision would be subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce. Stratton made public a letter from McNamara, which said the Defense Department planned to undertake a similar review in unemployment areas.

Phone Company Gets Rate Hike Permission

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today approved higher rates and individual line service by the Dalton Telephone Co., which services approximately 240 manual telephones in Dalton, Swain, Hunt, Nunda, Portage, Grove and Granger in Allegany and Livingston counties.

The company said it needed the higher rates to continue adequate service. The raises will produce about $2,400 in additional revenue.

After May 1, individual line service will be offered at $4.75 for private homes and $6.25 for businesses. Monthly rates for party lines will be increased 85 cents, to $3.85 for residential service, and by $1, to $5 for business service.

Cuban, French Trouble Hits Vacation Plans

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The tense Cuban and French situations appear to have affected summer vacation plans of some persons—even those who want to travel in this country.

An Albany travel agent says a woman asked him whether it was "safe to go to Miami."

Another travel agent said that the difficulties of the government of French President Charles DeGaulle had resulted in "a few reroutings" of planned tours.

Stratton Charges Depressed-Areas Bill Is Altered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., charges that a section he sponsored was dropped from the depressed-areas bill at the urging of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The portion of the bill, Stratton said, would have required the Secretary of Commerce to study the effect the planned closing of a military installation would have in an area of substantial unemployment.

Stratton said he introduced the amendment in view of the Defense Department's study to close procurement facilities at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y. The Air Force has postponed a decision on closing the facility until this fall.

The amendment was dropped by Senators and House members who reconciled differences in depressed-areas bills passed by the House and Senate.

The compromise $394-million bill was passed in the House Wednesday.

Stratton said McNamara's main complaint apparently was that his decision would be subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce. Stratton made public a letter from McNamara, which said the Defense Department planned to undertake a similar review in unemployment areas.

Phone Company Gets Rate Hike Permission

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today approved higher rates and individual line service by the Dalton Telephone Co., which services approximately 240 manual telephones in Dalton, Swain, Hunt, Nunda, Portage, Grove and Granger in Allegany and Livingston counties.

The company said it needed the higher rates to continue adequate service. The raises will produce about $2,400 in additional revenue.

After May 1, individual line service will be offered at $4.75 for private homes and $6.25 for businesses. Monthly rates for party lines will be increased 85 cents, to $3.85 for residential service, and by $1, to $5 for business service.

Cuban, French Trouble Hits Vacation Plans

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The tense Cuban and French situations appear to have affected summer vacation plans of some persons—even those who want to travel in this country.

An Albany travel agent says a woman asked him whether it was "safe to go to Miami."

Another travel agent said that the difficulties of the government of French President Charles DeGaulle had resulted in "a few reroutings" of planned tours.

3 Youths Lose Lives in Crash

SOUTH DAYTON, N. Y. (AP) —Three 18-year-old youths, were killed today when their automobile missed a curve on Route 62 near this Cattaraugus County village and struck a tree.

Ronald Butcher, son of South Dayton Police Chief Ralph Butcher; David A. Steffui, also of South Dayton; and Malon F. Herrington of nearby Cottage were killed.

Police said the youths were returning home from a bowling banquet.

The car, driven by Butcher, skidded about 150 feet before smashing into the tree, police said.

First U. S. postage stamps were issued in 1847.

Plattekill Notes

More than 100 were in attendance at the meeting of the Plattekill Grange on Saturday evening when third and fourth degrees were conferred on a class of 36 candidates.

Affiliating with the local Grange were Mr. and Mrs. William Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Antonuvic, Mrs. Segrid Pedersen, Charles Schoonmaker, Mrs. Beverly Tremper, Mrs. Amanda Huschle, Mrs. Jon Evans, Paul Evans, William Sisti, and Robert, Joanne and Karen Engle.

Other candidates were from Lake Katrine, Ulster, Mt. Tremper, Highland, Patroon and Huguenot Granges. Grange masters attending were Jack Nace from Highland, Percy Bush from Lake Katrine, John Schreiber from Huguenot, and Raymond Johnson from Patroon Granges.

George Martin as acting master of the degree team was assisted by George Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Van Aken, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Burton Ward, Mrs. Robert Zuelle, Charles Everett, Elaine McMann, and Elmore Lozier with Mrs. Elmore Lozier as pianist.

Tableaux staff with Betty Melody, Patricia Kleeman, Mary Zalezak, Muriel Fosler, and Mrs. Nathaniel Dawes, was directed by Mrs. Linwood Underhill.

At the next meeting of the Grange May 13, the new members will be honored guests at a supper to be served at the Grange hall 6:30 p. m. for all members and their families. Mrs. Ruth Lockwood and Mrs. Elsie Van Wyck are co-chairmen of the event.

Members of the local Grange will join Hurley Grange in a visitation meeting at Highland Grange Tuesday evening, and will present a program by Mrs. Charles Everett, lecturer. This is part of the schedule of visitation meetings for Ulster County as planned by the Pomona lecturer, Miss Katherine Lewis.

County Notes

Members of Ulster County Granges will be hosts to members of Dutchess County Granges at an open meeting to be held at Highland Grange Friday, May 5, at 8:30 p. m. The program will be presented by Mrs. Lewis Beasimer, Pomona Lecturer of Dutchess County on the state theme, "Neighborliness."

The meeting will be conducted by the Ulster County Pomona officers with Charles T. Everett, master. Reception committee will be the Pomona service and hospitality committee, Mrs. Leslie Rathbun, Mrs. John Schreiber and Mrs. Betty Phillips. Refreshments will be served by Pomona officers, with each subordinate Grange cooperating.

Subordinate and Pomona Granges of the county will join in an observance of Rural Life Sunday as guests of the New Hurley Dutch Reformed Church, Route 208, near Walkill, Sunday, May 7 at 8 p. m. Social hour following the service will be directed by the Pomona service and hospitality committee.

Dispute Cancels Times Edition; Talks Set Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times was hit Wednesday night by a wildcat walkout of printers, causing cancellation of its first edition and creating publication delays for the three other major morning newspapers in the city.

Arbitration machinery for settling the dispute was tentatively scheduled to be set up today.

The work stoppage brought an announcement from all seven major New York dailies that they would suspend publication because of "irresponsible and unlawful conduct" by members of the printers' union. The action was not necessary. The New York papers operate on a "one-for-all, all-for-one" basis in relations with labor unions.

The8 stoppage at the Times came after a printer was fired by a foreman following an argument. At first all the Times printers left their jobs, and the first edition was cancelled. But enough of them returned later to turn out a 44-page paper. A 72-page edition had been planned.

Delaying their own early editions until enough printers had returned to the Times to permit publication, were The New York Herald Tribune, The Daily News and The Mirror.

Watching developments were the evening papers—The Post, The Journal-American, and The World-Telegram & Sun.

Man Is Cleared In Love Slaying

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Lyman Herring, a 30-year-old electronics technician, was free today on a charge of second-degree murder in the shooting of a man in an alleged love triangle.

A jury of two women and 10 men found Herring innocent Wednesday night after a six-day trial. He was accused in the death of Jeremiah Mitchell, 28, last June 17.

Both Herring and Mitchell's wife, Berthetta, 27, mother of six, admitted from the witness stand of their love for each other.

Mitchell was a Negro, as are Herring and Mrs. Mitchell.

Robert Fulton, steamboat inventor, built a submarine which he called the Nautilus.

Guilty Verdict Is Returned by Jury In Factory Entry

Robert L. Hendrickson, 27, of 167 Flatbush Avenue, was found guilty of third degree burglary by a jury in County Court Wednesday afternoon. Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker will hear motions Monday after which sentence will be pronounced.

The jury which returned the verdict deliberated approximately four hours before returning the verdict.

Hendrickson was accused by indictment of entrance to the J. B. Back cigar factory on Wilbur Avenue on Dec. 7, 1960. Police found the rear door open, an attempt to open the safe had been made and tools which were confiscated by the police were found in the building where they alleged their arrival on the scene had evidently frightened off the intruder.

Hendrickson was later arrested and charged with the entrance when fingerprints found on a paper in the place compared with his prints.

Thomas Saccoman appeared for Hendrickson and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt prosecuted the case for The People.

Hendrickson is also charged by other indictments with having entered the Grand Union at New Paltz on November 2, 1960 and also, along with Bernard Ferraro with entrance to the William Schmershal premises at Barclay Heights, Saugerties, on March 7, 1961.

Slides of Mohonk To Be Shown Here

MRS. DANIEL SMILEY

A special program will be presented Saturday 2 p. m. at the Artcraft Gallery, 694 Broadway.

Mrs. Daniel Smiley will show color slides of Lake Mohonk. The Smileys, members of the Photographic Society of America, are known in the Hudson Valley area as accomplished photographers.

As Lake Mohonk is beautiful at all seasons, the slides titled "Mohonk Moods" will provide views of the change of scenery. The photographic attractions in this natural beauty spot will be highlighted.

A "Photographic Holiday" is also sponsored each fall by Mohonk. Photographers from all parts of the country attend. Lecture programs and field trips are offered with top protographers on hand to help in all phases.

This is one of a series of Saturday afternoon slide shows offered by the Artcraft Gallery. The public may attend.

Doctor Confirms Cooper's Cancer, Condition Worse

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Cooper's physician has confirmed reports that the veteran film star is gravely ill of cancer.

Although his condition is worsening, Cooper continues to "fight vigorously and is unafraid," Dr. Rexford Kennamer said Wednesday in the first medical report on the actor's illness.

Cooper, 59, is in bed at his home.

Dr. Kennamer disclosed that Cooper underwent surgery in 1960 for cancer of the colon. He said that several months ago it was found to have spread "to multiple sites throughout the body."

Gower Must Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gower Champion, dancer and stage producer, is hospitalized. The diagnosis is exhaustion; the treatment, rest.

More Figures Are Needed on Lots For Parking Use

Proposed uptown parking sites were left for evaluation by City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan after discussion Wednesday night by a Common Council committee, Mayor Edwin F. Radel and a committee of the Uptown Business Men's Association.

Several projects were presented and reviewed, and it was indicated that full evaluations have not been compiled on two recommended to the city engineer.

Figures were previously obtained, however, on one adjacent to the Montgomery & Ward Co., lot which has been considered for some years by uptown merchants. An announcement after last night's meetings did not mention the lots to be evaluated.

It was indicated earlier this month that another site to be considered is one involving land owned by the Kingston Lumber Co., off Fair Street Extension, part of which is to be used for a shopping center.

A report by the city engineer covering cost, maintenance and income of the sites to be evaluated is expected to be ready for another meeting of the group slated for May 9.

Removing Filbert Skins

To remove the skins from shelled filberts, place them in a shallow pan in a hot oven to toast; shake the pan several times. Then rub the hot nuts between the folds of a tea towel and most of the skin will come off.

Dutchess Appoints Planning Director

Dutchess County Board of Supervisors on Wednesday appointed the county's first planning director by a 23 to 3 vote. He is Henry H. J. Heissenbuttel, 31, Salt Point.

The appointment was made after Majority Leader Louis Donaldson objected to the Planning Board's procedure of recommending a candidate to the supervisors without interviewing all candidates for the job.

Guilty Verdict Is Returned by Jury In Factory Entry

Robert L. Hendrickson, 27, of 167 Flatbush Avenue, was found guilty of third degree burglary by a jury in County Court Wednesday afternoon. Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker will hear motions Monday after which sentence will be pronounced.

The jury which returned the verdict deliberated approximately four hours before returning the verdict.

Hendrickson was accused by indictment of entrance to the J. B. Back cigar factory on Wilbur Avenue on Dec. 7, 1960. Police found the rear door open, an attempt to open the safe had been made and tools which were confiscated by the police were found in the building where they alleged their arrival on the scene had evidently frightened off the intruder.

Hendrickson was later arrested and charged with the entrance when fingerprints found on a paper in the place compared with his prints.

Thomas Saccoman appeared for Hendrickson and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt prosecuted the case for The People.

Hendrickson is also charged by other indictments with having entered the Grand Union at New Paltz on November 2, 1960 and also, along with Bernard Ferraro with entrance to the William Schmershal premises at Barclay Heights, Saugerties, on March 7, 1961.

STANG, the undersigned, Referee in said Judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the Court house at 285 Wall Street in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, New York, on the 5th day of May, 1961, at 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon, the premises described in said judgment as follows, viz:—

ALL THOSE LOTS, PIECES OR PARCELS OF LAND situate at Port Ewen, in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, and being Lots Nos. 78, 79 and 80 on map of subdivision of Hasbrouck Estates made by G. W. Codwise, Civil Engineer, dated February 11, 1930, and amended May 1930, which map is filed in the Ulster County Clerk's Office as Map No. 1319, and which said lots and property herein conveyed are more particularly bounded and described as follows, viz:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of a proposed road referred to on said map as Hamilton Avenue, said point also being the most northwesterly corner of Lot No. 77 on said map; thence from said point of beginning and along the division line between lots 77 and 78 on said map South 13° 41' West 125 feet to a point; thence on a course of North 76° 19' West 150 feet to a point, being the southeasterly corner of Lot No. 80; thence along the westerly bounds of Lot No. 80 as shown on said map North 13° 41' East 125 feet to a point on the Southerly bounds of the proposed street referred to on said map as Hamilton Avenue; thence along the southerly bounds of same South 76° 19' East 150 feet to the point and place of beginning.

TOGETHER with a right of way over the street or way indicated on said map as Hamilton Avenue for ingress and egrees to and from the lots herein conveyed, on foot and with vehicles of all kinds, and to be used in common by the parties hereto and their distributees and assigns and such other persons as may now or hereafter be legally entitled to use the same. The grantees, their distributees and assigns shall have the right (but not obligation) to improve and maintain the same without obligation or responsibility on the part of the grantors.

The lots herein conveyed are further subject to the use or dedication of the most northerly ten (10) feet of said lots for public highway purposes, if the road herein referred to as Hamilton Avenue is hereafter widened or proposed to be widened to 50 feet as a public highway, and the grantees, their distributees and assigns covenant and agree to execute such other papers or instruments as may be necessary to effect the same when and if requested.

BEING the same premises conveyed by Thomas J. Killeen, and Joan A. Killeen, his wife, to George W. Soura and Donna F. Soura, his wife, by deed dated May 19th, 1960, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on May 20th, 1960, in Liber 1092 of Deeds at page 651.

Slides of Mohonk To Be Shown Here

MRS. DANIEL SMILEY

A special program will be presented Saturday 2 p. m. at the Artcraft Gallery, 694 Broadway.

Mrs. Daniel Smiley will show color slides of Lake Mohonk. The Smileys, members of the Photographic Society of America, are known in the Hudson Valley area as accomplished photographers.

As Lake Mohonk is beautiful at all seasons, the slides titled "Mohonk Moods" will provide views of the change of scenery. The photographic attractions in this natural beauty spot will be highlighted.

A "Photographic Holiday" is also sponsored each fall by Mohonk. Photographers from all parts of the country attend. Lecture programs and field trips are offered with top protographers on hand to help in all phases.

This is one of a series of Saturday afternoon slide shows offered by the Artcraft Gallery. The public may attend.

Doctor Confirms Cooper's Cancer, Condition Worse

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Cooper's physician has confirmed reports that the veteran film star is gravely ill of cancer.

Although his condition is worsening, Cooper continues to "fight vigorously and is unafraid," Dr. Rexford Kennamer said Wednesday in the first medical report on the actor's illness.

Cooper, 59, is in bed at his home.

Dr. Kennamer disclosed that Cooper underwent surgery in 1960 for cancer of the colon. He said that several months ago it was found to have spread "to multiple sites throughout the body."

Gower Must Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gower Champion, dancer and stage producer, is hospitalized. The diagnosis is exhaustion; the treatment, rest.

More Figures Are Needed on Lots For Parking Use

Proposed uptown parking sites were left for evaluation by City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan after discussion Wednesday night by a Common Council committee, Mayor Edwin F. Radel and a committee of the Uptown Business Men's Association.

Several projects were presented and reviewed, and it was indicated that full evaluations have not been compiled on two recommended to the city engineer.

Figures were previously obtained, however, on one adjacent to the Montgomery & Ward Co., lot which has been considered for some years by uptown merchants. An announcement after last night's meetings did not mention the lots to be evaluated.

It was indicated earlier this month that another site to be considered is one involving land owned by the Kingston Lumber Co., off Fair Street Extension, part of which is to be used for a shopping center.

A report by the city engineer covering cost, maintenance and income of the sites to be evaluated is expected to be ready for another meeting of the group slated for May 9.

Removing Filbert Skins

To remove the skins from shelled filberts, place them in a shallow pan in a hot oven to toast; shake the pan several times. Then rub the hot nuts between the folds of a tea towel and most of the skin will come off.

Dutchess Appoints Planning Director

Dutchess County Board of Supervisors on Wednesday appointed the county's first planning director by a 23 to 3 vote. He is Henry H. J. Heissenbuttel, 31, Salt Point.

The appointment was made after Majority Leader Louis Donaldson objected to the Planning Board's procedure of recommending a candidate to the supervisors without interviewing all candidates for the job.

2 Survive Bloody Invasion, Will Return to Fight Castro

By ROBERT D. CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"We're going back. And the sooner, the better."

That was the defi hurled today at Fidel Castro by two rugged, sun-tanned Cubans who said that in surviving the bloody repulse of their invasion force they learned lessons that will help them "next time."

The men, 35, and 42, smiled when asked if they and brother rebels were demobilized.

"We're only on leave," one said. "In a few days we're going back to training camp."

"Where?"

Traveled by Night

"Fidel would like to know Guatemala? Nicaragua? He's not even close in his guesses so far. The men he captured didn't know where they trained for the invasion of April 17. They traveled by night and were restricted to the training area."

His companion, a big man with prematurely gray hair and bristling mustache, said he was an Oriente rancher. Both declined use of their names because of danger to relatives still living under the Castro government.

In a cozy southwest Miami parlor where they sat with their families, they described the rebels' pull-out April 19 under fire and attack by growing hordes of Castro troops.

1,500 Force Lands

"Our force—about 1,500 men—was able to land without difficulty the first day. It was four or five hours before the invaders met any material opposition," they related.

"Most of the opposition came the next day (April 18)—wave after wave of troops; Stalin tanks and a large number of cannon.

"We had landed five tanks, but the turrets of two were out of commission.

"Our weakness was especially in lacking airplanes that could match the performance of the Sea Furies and jets that bombed and machinegunned our men. Next time, we will have to have aviation that can compete."

Tickets Himself

BURR OAK, Mich. (AP)—Police Chief Ralph Barry issued a traffic ticket to himself Wednesday on a charge of "not looking where he was driving" when his patrol car was involved in a minor collision."

The chief said he bumped into another car when he took his eyes off the road to wave at some school children.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Garry Moore, star and principal salesman of his own television program, is in the unusual spot of being reluctant to take a new sponsor on his show. It is, he feels, a matter of personal "integrity."

One of the current sponsors of Moore's Tuesday night CBS variety show is an auto manufacturer. The sponsor will leave the show at the end of the season, and CBS has found another automobile manufacturer who wants to take over the spot next fall.

Moore himself isn't talking for publication about the situation, but a member of his staff confirmed a trade report that the performer feels that if he abruptly switched from praising one make of car to another, the public's faith in him as an individual would be shaken.

Moore, CBS officials and representatives of the prospective sponsor are meeting today in an effort to work out a solution. One move under consideration is to permit Moore to tell the home viewers that, while he still thinks his earlier sponsor's car is just dandy, he also likes the other car, a more expensive model.

Perry Como's producing company, after considerable difficulty in finding some entertainment for a summer replacement for the singer's Wednesday night variety hour, has decided to use English mystery movies, chopped to 60 minutes running time.

Meanwhile, another hour-long mystery series will be used as Dinah Shore's Sunday night replacement for the warm weather series—these, alas, being re-runs of the shows used for the same purpose last summer.

Recommended tonight: "Summer Sports Spectacular," CBS, 7:30-8:30 (Eastern Standard Time)—starting with a tribute to the amateur ice skaters lost in a recent plane crash; "Family Classics," CBS, 9-10 — "Jane Eyre," with Sally Ann Howes and Zachary Scott in an adaptation of Charlotte ronte's novel.

Gift of Scarf Cause Of Mistrial Decision

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A woman juror who impulsively befriended a plaintiff with the gift of a scarf caused a mistrial in a chancery court lawsuit.

Attorneys said the juror, who was not identified, watched Viola Brown testify and decided that a green scarf would go well with the chic brown suit she wore. After an overnight recess, the juror returned with the scarf and gave it to Mrs. Brown.

Chancellor Ceylon Frazer called the mistrial Wednesday after an attorney for Mrs. Brown's side told him of the incident. The chancellor said he was convinced the act was completely innocent.

Suspect Wounded By Police After Escape Attempt

Edward Fevola, 20, who is wanted in New Jersey for questioning about charges of car theft and carrying a concealed weapon at Palisades Park, is in Greene County Memorial Hospital with a shoulder wound from the gun of Catskill Patrolman Louis Jeune.

Patrolman Jeune was shot by a fugitive in the face and chest about 18 months ago when he stopped a man after a car chase. As he approached the car, the man opened fire, wounding Jeune. Jeune drove back to the station and gave the alarm. The man who shot Jeune, Heyward Newcomb, fled after the shooting, but was later arrested and jailed.

Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock Patrolman Jeune and State Police BCI Investigator Joseph Valicenti spotted Fevola driving a station wagon on Main Street, Catskill. They stopped him to question him about the New Jersey affair. Fevola, whose father has a summer home in Acra, several miles northwest of Catskill, sped away. This time officer Jeune fired first.

An hour later Fevola was captured by state police, Cats... Police and Greene county deputy sheriffs who had scoured the area. Fevola was located near the end of the Rip Van Winkle bridge after the abandoned car was found near the river.

Fevola was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital where his condition was reported as f

Fevola now faces charges by Greene county officials of resisting arrest and being a fugitive from justice.

State police in Greene County had been notified about a week ago that Fevola might be in the Catskill area where his father owned a summer place. Police had been on the alert for the man since.

Queens Firm Has Low Bid for Paltz Building

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Geyyn Construction Corp., Whitestone, Queens, submitted a low bid of $1,739,800 for the general construction of a fine arts and classroom building at the State University College of Education at New Paltz.

The State Public Works Department said Wednesday it received low bids totaling $2.4 million for work on the building.

An expansion program at the college is geared to bringing the enrollment from 1,600 to 3,500 by 1970.

Plans are under way for a health and physical education building to cost 1.9 million, a science building estimated at 1.6 million and new dormitory and dining hall facilities.

The fine arts building will house an auditorium, stage and gallery plus classrooms.

A 200-bedroom dormitory costing $836,000 nears completion, and a second of the same size is due to be finished in 1962. A dining hall for accommodation of 460 students is due for completion in September. It is to cost $614,000.

James Lawrence and Peggy Starkman National Merit Scholarship Winners

A year-long, nation-wide academic competition was concluded today when nearly 1,000 students from throughout the country were named recipients of four-year Merit Scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

Listed among the winners are James Abram Lawrence and Peggy Ann Starkman, students at Kingston High School. Other area winners are Norman Howard Christ of Arlington High School, Poughkeepsie; Stephanie Alice Flanigan, Arlington High School, Poughkeepsie; and Deborah Moore Averill, Poughkeepsie High School.

About 550 students received Merit Scholarships sponsored by more than 130 business corporations and foundations, professional assications and individuals. This is a new high in the number of participating sponsors.

About 400 Merit Scholars received their scholarships from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation which conducts the annual competition.

Kingston winner, Miss Starkman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Starkman of Boice's Lane, Kingston. She has won a Singer Company Merit Scholarship in nationwide competition. Miss Starkman plans to major in home economics education at Syracuse University and plans a career teaching home economics.

Miss Starkman is a member of B'nai B'rith Girls, Future Teachers of America, Jewish Community Center Drama Group, member of the KHS Orchestra and Band, on the staff of the yearbook, Prisma, and counselor for Jewish Community Center day camp.

James Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Lawrence of 19 Abruyn Street, this city, won the Thomas J. Watson Memorial Merit Scholarship. Lawrence will major in liberal arts at Yale University. He is a member of Boy Scouts, Explorer Scout; was secretary of post and drew up its constitution; member of church Senior High Youth Fellowship; member of senior play cast; and has done publicity work for various school activities.

The National Merit Scholarship Program was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The grants are used to support scholarships and to provide the administration and professional services required by sponsors. By underwriting of program expenses in this way, it has been possible for the sponsors to devote their scholarship funds, in their entirety, to able students and colleges, and to avoid the expenses of separate competitions with the added expense and duplication of work for the schools.

In the first six years of the Merit Program, nearly 5,000 Merit Scholarships have been awarded. They have an estimated value of almost $25,000,000.

Suspect Wounded By Police After Escape Attempt

Edward Fevola, 20, who is wanted in New Jersey for questioning about charges of car theft and carrying a concealed weapon at Palisades Park, is in Greene County Memorial Hospital with a shoulder wound from the gun of Catskill Patrolman Louis Jeune.

Patrolman Jeune was shot by a fugitive in the face and chest about 18 months ago when he stopped a man after a car chase. As he approached the car, the man opened fire, wounding Jeune. Jeune drove back to the station and gave the alarm. The man who shot Jeune, Heyward Newcomb, fled after the shooting, but was later arrested and jailed.

Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock Patrolman Jeune and State Police BCI Investigator Joseph Valicenti spotted Fevola driving a station wagon on Main Street, Catskill. They stopped him to question him about the New Jersey affair. Fevola, whose father has a summer home in Acra, several miles northwest of Catskill, sped away. This time officer Jeune fired first.

An hour later Fevola was captured by state police, Cats...l Police and Greene county deputy sheriffs who had scoured the area. Fevola was located near the end of the Rip Van Winkle bridge after the abandoned car was found near the river.

Fevola was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital where his condition was reported as f...

Fevola now faces charges by Greene county officials of resisting arrest and being a fugitive from justice.

State police in Greene County had been notified about a week ago that Fevola might be in the Catskill area where his father owned a summer place. Police had been on the alert for the man since.

Queens Firm Has Low Bid for Paltz Building

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Geyyn Construction Corp., Whitestone, Queens, submitted a low bid of $1,739,800 for the general construction of a fine arts and classroom building at the State University College of Education at New Paltz.

The State Public Works Department said Wednesday it received low bids totaling $2.4 million for work on the building.

An expansion program at the college is geared to bringing the enrollment from 1,600 to 3,500 by 1970.

Plans are under way for a health and physical education building to cost 1.9 million, a science building estimated at 1.6 million and new dormitory and dining hall facilities.

The fine arts building will house an auditorium, stage and gallery plus classrooms.

A 200-bedroom dormitory costing $836,000 nears completion, and a second of the same size is due to be finished in 1962. A dining hall for accommodation of 460 students is due for completion in September. It is to cost $614,000.

Says Vets Paid

plain why," said Peter Pupchyk, of DAV Post 16 in Yonkers.

He added that he received no favors from the inspectors and that one of them returned the money to him.

Filed False Statements

"There was nothing wrong with our games," he declared. "There was nothing to be gained."

Pupchyk conceded, however, that his post filed false financial statements with the lottery control commission to cover up illegal payments to post members who assisted in operating the games.

Pupchyk testified Wednesday at the second session of the investigation commission's five-day hearing on bingo game operations.

The commission charges that racketeers and gamblers have worked their way into promotion of bingo games sponsored by many charitable, religious, civic and veterans groups and have reaped big profits.

Pupchyk took the witness stand shortly after the commission reported that William P. Buckner, a convicted swindler, received $172,529 from bingo games he promoted for seven nonprofit organizations in 1959 and 1960.

JFK Calls Leaders on Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called congressional leaders of both parties to the White House today to discuss the explosive situation in Laos.

In announcing this, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger would add only that Kennedy wanted to "bring them up to date on the situation in Laos."

But at the State Department, it was disclosed the United States has strongly voiced directly to Russia its concern over "obstructionism" delaying a cease-fire in Laos.

The department said Undersecretary Chester Bowles, as acting secretary of state, Wednesday night called in Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov for a 25-minute discussion in which Bowles orally expressed the U.S. view.

Board Meets

the accessability of the property, which is located at the entrance and exit of the State Thruway at Exit 20. The directors contended that the bulk of Ulster County's growth is in Saugerties, Town of Ulster, Woodstock, Kingston and Hurley areas, and the Chamber board said the proposed site in the Town of Saugerties s accessible from Ellenville on Route 209 and Highland by way of the Thruway.

The directors pointed out in the letter to Supervisor Webber that the State Board of Education after completing a survey several years ago, indicated that the community college should be located in the northern part of the county.

Space for Expansion

The directors described the 50 acres as picturesque, with ample space for expansion in future years. It was noted in the letter that the Saugerties village water system has its main line feeding from the reservoir on Route 212 adjoining the Winston estate.

The proposed Saugerties site land is tile drained, leading to a small creek, and has ample room to provide for building sites for homes for the college faculty and students, according to the Chamber officials.

Inspected by Committee

The property has been inspected within the last two years by members of the Board of Supervisors Community college committee, and also by Harry Eddinger, superintendent of the Ulster County Health Department and Roland Green, County highway department superintendent.

At the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Webber requested a special meeting, which is slated for tonight.

Three sites have been under consideration by the site committee and brochures have been prepared setting forth the locations and qualities of each site. These will be submitted to the State Education Department, which must approve the site in order that participating funds be made available.

Two Other Sites

The three sites include the Town of Saugerties property, one on Lindermann Avenue in Kingston and a tract of land near the IBM Country Club at Flatbush.

Supervisor Webber indicated at the last meeting of the board that progress on the community college project had reached a point where a special session of the board would be required. It is expected the committee will have a comprehensive report tonight.

Collapses at Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Melvin J. Maas, Ret., collapsed today in the midst of a speech to the annual meeting of the President's Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped, of which he is chairman.

Maas, 62, Marine Corps general blinded after a wartime injury, fell to the stage in the Interdepartmental Auditorium and was taken unconscious by ambulance to Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Dr. Frank H. Krusen examined Maas and told the audience of about 1,000 that he found Maas' pulse and respiration "good, and I think he'll be all right in a little while."

Air Force Opens New Recruiting Office on May 4

The United States Air Force in announcements today said a new recruiting office will be opened at 597 Broadway on May 4 with appropriate programs, a Miss Air Force Recruiter will be named and presented to the public during the ceremonies and the 26th Air Division band will perform at the Municipal Auditorium.

Technical Sergeant Dick Lambert in making the announcement of the USAF recruiting office opening, gave the following schedule of events for the opening day, next Thursday:

4 p. m. — Formal ceremonies attended by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Miss Air Force Recruiter and various other civilian and military officials.

5 p. m.—Cocktail party, Hotel Kingston, for military and civilian officials.

8 p. m. to 12 midnight—Public dance at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium with music furnished by the 26th Air Division dance band. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Sergeant Lambert also stated that military officials from Syracuse and Stewart AFB will also be in attendance.

Miss Air Force Recruiter will act as hostess for all of the events scheduled for the grand opening ceremonies.

Michael J. Marchuk, secretary, Local 215, Kingston Musicians Union, announced the union has given approval for the appearance and performance of the Air Division band. Permission of the union was requested by USAF officials for the purpose of providing a public dance with no admission fee to celebrate the opening of the new recruiting office, which will officially open at 4 p. m. Thursday, May 4.

JFK Expresses Regrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy personally expressed regret today to an African diplomat over his being refused service in a Hagerstown, Md., restaurant.

Kennedy told the diplomat, Dr. W. H. Fitzjohn, charge d'affaires of the Sierra Leone Embassy, that the United States government was doing everyting possible to prevent such incidents.

Fitzjohn was refused service March 9 in a Howard Johnson restaurant at Hagerstown. The restaurant since has adopted a policy against racial discrimination.

Troops Surround Camp

ALGIERS (AP)—Tough French riot forces today surrounded the paratrooper camp at Zeralda to split up a Foreign Legion regiment, one of two that furnished the military backbone of the Algerian insurrection.

Earlier reports had said three fugitive generals of the rebel junta had hidden out at the camp. But other accounts indicated they may have fled into the interior.

The three generals are Raoul Salan, Andre Zeller and Edmond Jouhaud. The leader of the insurrection, Gen. Maurice Challe, surrendered and now is in a Paris prison.

Low Bid Is Given For Newburgh Work

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A low bid of $1,278,670 was submitted to the State Public Works Department today for construction of 1.88 miles of the South Street arterial in Newburgh.

The bid was submitted by Johnson, Drake & Piper Inc.

The contract for construction of seven miles of highway between Cannonville and Granton, estimated at $3.6 million, was withdrawn from bidding until May 4 for a review of specifications, the department said.

Wagner to Rap SIC Today for Favor Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner was termed "mad as hell" today over a reported state agency investigation to see whether he received favors from a steamship executive whose firm leases a city pier.

The state of the mayor's temper was described by a spokesman at City Hall, who said Wagner will "blast" the State Investigation Commission in a statement to be issued later today.

The furor was touched off when The New York Daily News reported that an inquiry directed at Wagner and 40 other top city officials was being conducted by a special unit of the investigation commission. The unit is headed by Whitney North Seymour Jr.

Chairman Jacob Grumet adopted a cagey—and confusing—attitude about the situation.

He first was asked whether the reported probes had been authorized by the commission. He replied that all inquires of the unit are authorized by the commission. But he declined comment when asked whether he was aware the mayor was under investigation.

At another point, in response to a question, he remarked:

"This is not an investigation of the mayor of the City of New York."

Grumet announced, however, that George Sanders, president of the Hudson River Day Line, would appear before the commission in a private hearing later today.

The Daily News had said the commission unit was investigating Wagner's relations with Sanders, as well as financial dealings of other top city officials.

Jury Is Selected

Selection of a jury in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino was commenced today for trial of the robbery, first degree, assault and grand larceny charges against Robert Jay McCandless and his brother, John Ellsworth McCandless. Assistant District Attorney James T. Murray appeared for the prosecution and Richard W. Griggs for defendants. The charge is that they robbed an Ellenville woman last January 21. John Ellsworth McCandless is a member of the U. S. Marine Corps and was stationed on the west coast. His brother, from Pennsylvania, had been in Ellenville for some time prior to the alleged act.

WALLKILL NEWS

WALLKILL—The Ladies Auxiliary of Rose-Sheeley Post 1034 will hold a penny social Friday 8 p. m. at the Legion Rooms. The Post Home will be open Friday afternoon to receive donations. Refreshments will be served, and the public may attend.

Public Health Program

The Wallkill Public Health Committee will present an information program on the subject of Mental Health, entitled, "Good Living With People," 8 p. m. in the Wallkill Central School Auditorium on Monday, May 1.

The film, "The Angry Boy" will be shown through the cooperation of the Ulster County Mental Health Association, and the film will be discussed following the program. The speakers for the evening are Dr. Eugene Link, chairman of the department of social studies, and Dr. Esther Morgan, a psychologist, both faculty members of the State University College of Education of New Paltz.

Voluntary contributions to the Mental Health Association may be made at the door.

A group of ladies, all members of the Wallkill Public Health Association had a luncheon at LeHerbs, Kingston, and made their annual visit to the Tumor Clinic and Kingston Infirmary on Thursday.

Stopping at the American Cancer Society office, they delivered 41 dozen 8x8 cancer dressings and nine nylon pillows made by the ladies during the season.

At the Kingston Infirmary, they donated 34 bed pads, and 65 johnny coats for the patients' use.

Community Events

The Ulster County Electrical Contractors Association met on Wednesday evening at Lawsons Restaurant in Wallkill. Representatives from Westinghouse Corporation spoke to the group. The next regular meeting will be held in Ellenville.

The Ivanhoe Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Wallkill will hold its annual roast beef supper Wednesday, May 3, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. There will be servings, at 5:30 p. m. and 7 p. m. Chef Walter Smith is in charge of the kitchen and the dining room will be staffed by Wes Wright. Ticket chairman is C. E. Penney, and tickets are now on sale from any member of the Lodge.

Anyone not yet registered in the Wallkill Blood Assurance Program through some organization, may register Friday, May 5 from 10 a. m. through 4 p. m. at the Public Health Rooms. The Blood Donation Day for Wallkill residents will be May 17 and will be held at the Wallkill Legion Home, rather than the Church Hall as originally planned.

Local Cancer Crusade

Cancer Month is April in the Township of Shawangunk, but because of the weather, the house-to-house drive made each year by the Ivanhoe Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will be held over until Tuesday evening, May 9 beginning at 7 p. m.

Workers in the outlying areas are already collecting according to an announcement by Township Chairman, Mrs. Jesse McHugh. Those in New Hurley area are Mrs. Hans Detels, and Mrs. Walter Mason; in Sherwood Corners, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Joseph Knoth, Mrs. Anne Wensley, and Joseph and John Powell. Bruynswyck area will be covered by Mrs. Gene Corey and Mrs. Gregston Greer will head the drive in Walker Valley.

Wallkill chairman is Mrs. Joseph Morris, and canvassing the businesses will be C. E. Penney.

ReformedChurchNotes

Thursday 3 p. m., a junior choir rehearsal will be held in the church and at 7:30 p. m., the senior choir will rehearse at the church.

Friday, 1 p. m., the Willing Workers will hold the second in the series of food sales at 1 p. m. at Edsalls Drug Store. Members will make contributions either in food, or money.

Saturday 9:30 a. m., the property committee of the consistory has requested that all male members of the church come to assist in the annual clean up day. This will be an outdoor clean-up, and those attending will bring rakes and shovels.

Sunday school hour will be 10 a. m., with Harry Vogt, conducting the morning worship services. At 11 a. m., the regular morning hour of worship will be held with the Rev. Walter N. Van Popering officiating.

CYO Play Finals Scheduled Here; Winners Listed

Upstate finals of the One Act Play contest will be held Sunday at St. Mary's Hall, this city, beginning at 2 p. m., it was announced today by Maureen Rice, chairman of the drama committee of the Ulster County Catholic Youth Organization.

Eight teams representing parishes in four upstate counties will compete.

The 1960-61 basketball season was officially closed with a dinner feting the champs in elementary school divisions at St. Mary's School. Bill Mahoney, athletic chairman of the County C.Y.O., was presented with an engraved plaque by County Director Leo A. Schupp on behalf of the youth of the county.

Mahoney has given more than 10 years of volunteer service to the organization's program.

Miss Marguerite Flaherty announced the winners of the CYO essay contest as follows: Boys' division—Robert Kofler of St. Joseph's, first; Robert Keeley of St. John's, West Hurley, second; Frank Brooks of St. Joseph's, third. Girls' division — Hilda Kruger of St. Mary's of the Snows, first; Maureen McGahan of St. Peter's, Rosendale, second; Marlene Amarello of St. Joseph's, Kingston, third.

Papers of the winners were sent to New York City for judging in the Archdiocesan contest. Cardinal Spellman will present the finalist with a special award at the Chancery office on Wednesday, May 27.

Margaret Hornung and Gary Smith of St. Mary's defeated seven teams representing parishes in Ulster County in the elementary division of the CYO quiz contest. They will represent Ulster in the Archdiocesan finals in New York at the Catholic Charities Center on Friday, May 26 at 7:30 p. m.

William Cranston and Carol Cooke, winners of the teen-age division of the quiz contest representing St. Joseph's parish, defeated five teams for the county title. Cranston is a student at St. Patrick's High School, Newburgh, while Miss Cooke attended St. Ursula's School, Kingston. They will meet the winners of the other 12 counties in the Archdiocese of New York in the finals.

Kennedy Warning Of '38 Is Given At Israel Trial

JERUSALEM (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, father of President Kennedy, reported in 1938 that the outlook for the Jews in Germany was "very bad," evidence introduced today in the trial of Adolf Eichmann showed.

Kennedy was the American ambassador to Great Britain at the time. Kennedy cabled to the State Department on Dec. 8, 1938. Asst. Atty. Gen. Ya'akov Bar'or told the judges it was obtained from the National Archives in Alexandria, Va.

Kennedy relayed a report, received from the French foreign office, of a conversation between Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and French Ambassador Henri Bonnet.

"The results were very bad," Kennedy cabled Washington.

Kennedy's message also referred to "financial arrangements" and "our plans with the British."

Bar'or said Kennedy's cable was about "the refugees from Germany, ways of helping them and easing their situation."

The Kennedy report was one of several dozen entered in the record today by Bar'or.

He produced documents, photostats, quotations from speeches and copies of letters. They all served to fill in the picture of the situation of Jews in Germany on the eve of World War II, and the measures taken by Nazis to force them to leave Germany penniless.

Many of the documents, Bar'or told the court, were microfilmed from originals of the Nazi papers now kept in the archives at Alexandria, Va.

No new witnesses were called to the stand during the first three hours of the hearing today.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and evening.

Says Vets Paid

plain why," said Peter Pupchyk, of DAV Post 16 in Yonkers.

He added that he received no favors from the inspectors and that one of them returned the money to him.

Filed False Statements

"There was nothing wrong with our games," he declared. "There was nothing to be gained."

Pupchyk conceded, however, that his post filed false financial statements with the lottery control commission to cover up illegal payments to post members who assisted in operating the games.

Pupchyk testified Wednesday at the second session of the investigation commission's five-day hearing on bingo game operations.

The commission charges that racketeers and gamblers have worked their way into promotion of bingo games sponsored by many charitable, religious, civic and veterans groups and have reaped big profits.

Pupchyk took the witness stand shortly after the commission reported that William P. Buckner, a convicted swindler, received $172,529 from bingo games he promoted for seven nonprofit organizations in 1959 and 1960.

JFK Calls Leaders on Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called congressional leaders of both parties to the White House today to discuss the explosive situation in Laos.

In announcing this, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger would add only that Kennedy wanted to "bring them up to date on the situation in Laos."

But at the State Department, it was disclosed the United States has strongly voiced directly to Russia its concern over "obstructionism" delaying a cease-fire in Laos.

The department said Undersecretary Chester Bowles, as acting secretary of state, Wednesday night called in Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov for a 25-minute discussion in which Bowles orally expressed the U.S. view.

Board Meets

the accessability of the property, which is located at the entrance and exit of the State Thruway at Exit 20. The directors contended that the bulk of Ulster County's growth is in Saugerties, Town of Ulster, Woodstock, Kingston and Hurley areas, and the Chamber board said the proposed site in the Town of Saugerties s accessible from Ellenville on Route 209 and Highland by way of the Thruway.

The directors pointed out in the letter to Supervisor Webber that the State Board of Education after completing a survey several years ago, indicated that the community college should be located in the northern part of the county.

Space for Expansion

The directors described the 50 acres as picturesque, with ample space for expansion in future years. It was noted in the letter that the Saugerties village water system has its main line feeding from the reservoir on Route 212 adjoining the Winston estate.

The proposed Saugerties site land is tile drained, leading to a small creek, and has ample room to provide for building sites for homes for the college faculty and students, according to the Chamber officials.

Inspected by Committee

The property has been inspected within the last two years by members of the Board of Supervisors Community college committee, and also by Harry Eddinger, superintendent of the Ulster County Health Department and Roland Green, County highway department superintendent.

At the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Webber requested a special meeting, which is slated for tonight.

Three sites have been under consideration by the site committee and brochures have been prepared setting forth the locations and qualities of each site. These will be submitted to the State Education Department, which must approve the site in order that participating funds be made available.

Two Other Sites

The three sites include the Town of Saugerties property, one on Lindermann Avenue in Kingston and a tract of land near the IBM Country Club at Flatbush.

Supervisor Webber indicated at the last meeting of the board that progress on the community college project had reached a point where a special session of the board would be required. It is expected the committee will have a comprehensive report tonight.

Collapses at Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Melvin J. Maas, Ret., collapsed today in the midst of a speech to the annual meeting of the President's Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped, of which he is chairman.

Maas, 62, Marine Corps general blinded after a wartime injury, fell to the stage in the Interdepartmental Auditorium and was taken unconscious by ambulance to Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Dr. Frank H. Krusen examined Maas and told the audience of about 1,000 that he found Maas' pulse and respiration "good, and I think he'll be all right in a little while."

Air Force Opens New Recruiting Office on May 4

The United States Air Force in announcements today said a new recruiting office will be opened at 597 Broadway on May 4 with appropriate programs, a Miss Air Force Recruiter will be named and presented to the public during the ceremonies and the 26th Air Division band will perform at the Municipal Auditorium.

Technical Sergeant Dick Lambert in making the announcement of the USAF recruiting office opening, gave the following schedule of events for the opening day, next Thursday:

4 p. m.—Formal ceremonies attended by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Miss Air Force Recruiter and various other civilian and military officials.

5 p. m.—Cocktail party, Hotel Kingston, for military and civilian officials.

8 p. m. to 12 midnight—Public dance at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium with music furnished by the 26th Air Division dance band. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Sergeant Lambert also stated that military officials from Syracuse and Stewart AFB will also be in attendance.

Miss Air Force Recruiter will act as hostess for all of the events scheduled for the grand opening ceremonies.

Michael J. Marchuk, secretary, Local 215, Kingston Musicians Union, announced the union has given approval for the appearance and performance of the Air Division band. Permission of the union was requested by USAF officials for the purpose of providing a public dance with no admission fee to celebrate the opening of the new recruiting office, which will officially open at 4 p. m. Thursday, May 4.

JFK Expresses Regrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy personally expressed regret today to an African diplomat over his being refused service in a Hagerstown, Md., restaurant.

Kennedy told the diplomat, Dr. W. H. Fitzjohn, charge d'affaires of the Sierra Leone Embassy, that the United States government was doing everyting possible to prevent such incidents.

Fitzjohn was refused service March 9 in a Howard Johnson restaurant at Hagerstown. The restaurant since has adopted a policy against racial discrimination.

Troops Surround Camp

ALGIERS (AP)—Tough French riot forces today surrounded the paratrooper camp at Zeralda to split up a Foreign Legion regiment, one of two that furnished the military backbone of the Algerian insurrection.

Earlier reports had said three fugitive generals of the rebel junta had hidden out at the camp. But other accounts indicated they may have fled into the interior.

The three generals are Raoul Salan, Andre Zeller and Edmond Jouhaud. The leader of the insurrection, Gen. Maurice Challe, surrendered and now is in a Paris prison.

Low Bid Is Given For Newburgh Work

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A low bid of $1,278,670 was submitted to the State Public Works Department today for construction of 1.88 miles of the South Street arterial in Newburgh.

The bid was submitted by Johnson, Drake & Piper Inc.

The contract for construction of seven miles of highway between Cannonville and Granton, estimated at $3.6 million, was withdrawn from bidding until May 4 for a review of specifications, the department said.

Wagner to Rap SIC Today for Favor Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner was termed "mad as hell" today over a reported state agency investigation to see whether he received favors from a steamship executive whose firm leases a city pier.

The state of the mayor's temper was described by a spokesman at City Hall, who said Wagner will "blast" the State Investigation Commission in a statement to be issued later today.

The furor was touched off when The New York Daily News reported that an inquiry directed at Wagner and 40 other top city officials was being conducted by a special unit of the investigation commission. The unit is headed by Whitney North Seymour Jr.

Chairman Jacob Grumet adopted a cagey—and confusing—attitude about the situation.

He first was asked whether the reported probes had been authorized by the commission. He replied that all inquires of the unit are authorized by the commission. But he declined comment when asked whether he was aware the mayor was under investigation.

At another point, in response to a question, he remarked:

"This is not an investigation of the mayor of the City of New York."

Grumet announced, however, that George Sanders, president of the Hudson River Day Line, would appear before the commission in a private hearing later today.

The Daily News had said the commission unit was investigating Wagner's relations with Sanders, as well as financial dealings of other top city officials.

Jury Is Selected

Selection of a jury in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino was commenced today for trial of the robbery, first degree, assault and grand larceny charges against Robert Jay McCandless and his brother, John Ellsworth McCandless. Assistant District Attorney James T. Murray appeared for the prosecution and Richard W. Griggs for defendants. The charge is that they robbed an Ellenville woman last January 21. John Ellsworth McCandless is a member of the U. S. Marine Corps and was stationed on the west coast. His brother, from Pennsylvania, had been in Ellenville for some time prior to the alleged act.

WALLKILL NEWS

WALLKILL—The Ladies Auxiliary of Rose-Sheeley Post 1034 will hold a penny social Friday 8 p. m. at the Legion Rooms. The Post Home will be open Friday afternoon to receive donations. Refreshments will be served, and the public may attend.

Public Health Program

The Wallkill Public Health Committee will present an information program on the subject of Mental Health, entitled, "Good Living With People," 8 p. m. in the Wallkill Central School Auditorium on Monday, May 1.

The film, "The Angry Boy" will be shown through the cooperation of the Ulster County Mental Health Association, and the film will be discussed following the program. The speakers for the evening are Dr. Eugene Link, chairman of the department of social studies, and Dr. Esther Morgan, a psychologist, both faculty members of the State University College of Education of New Paltz.

Voluntary contributions to the Mental Health Association may be made at the door.

A group of ladies, all members of the Wallkill Public Health Association had a luncheon at LeHerbs, Kingston, and made their annual visit to the Tumor Clinic and Kingston Infirmary on Thursday.

Stopping at the American Cancer Society office, they delivered 41 dozen 8x8 cancer dressings and nine nylon pillows made by the ladies during the season.

At the Kingston Infirmary, they donated 34 bed pads, and 65 johnny coats for the patients' use.

Community Events

The Ulster County Electrical Contractors Association met on Wednesday evening at Lawsons Restaurant in Wallkill. Representatives from Westinghouse Corporation spoke to the group. The next regular meeting will be held in Ellenville.

The Ivanhoe Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Wallkill will hold its annual roast beef supper Wednesday, May 3, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. There will be servings, at 5:30 p. m. and 7 p. m. Chef Walter Smith is in charge of the kitchen and the dining room will be staffed by Wes Wright. Ticket chairman is C. E. Penney, and tickets are now on sale from any member of the Lodge.

Anyone not yet registered in the Wallkill Blood Assurance Program through some organization, may register Friday, May 5 from 10 a. m. through 4 p. m. at the Public Health Rooms. The Blood Donation Day for Wallkill residents will be May 17 and will be held at the Wallkill Legion Home, rather than the Church Hall as originally planned.

Local Cancer Crusade

Cancer Month is April in the Township of Shawangunk, but because of the weather, the house-to-house drive made each year by the Ivanhoe Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will be held over until Tuesday evening, May 9 beginning at 7 p. m.

Workers in the outlying areas are already collecting according to an announcement by Township Chairman, Mrs. Jesse McHugh. Those in New Hurley area are Mrs. Hans Detels, and Mrs. Walter Mason; in Sherwood Corners, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Joseph Knoth, Mrs. Anne Wensley, and Joseph and John Powell. Bruynswyck area will be covered by Mrs. Gene Corey and Mrs. Gregston Greer will head the drive in Walker Valley.

Wallkill chairman is Mrs. Joseph Morris, and canvassing the businesses will be C. E. Penney.

ReformedChurchNotes

Friday, 1 p. m., the Willing Workers will hold the second in the series of food sales at 1 p. m. at Edsalls Drug Store. Members will make contributions either in food, or money.

Saturday 9:30 a. m., the property committee of the consistory has requested that all male members of the church come to assist in the annual clean up day. This will be an outdoor clean-up, and those attending will bring rakes and shovels.

Sunday school hour will be 10 a. m., with Harry Vogt, conducting the morning worship services. At 11 a. m., the regular morning hour of worship will be held with the Rev. Walter N. Van Popering officiating.

Sunday, May 14 at the 11 a. m. service, the Sacrament of Baptism will be administered to infants by the Rev. Mr. Van Popering. Anyone desiring baptism should contact the minister in advance of this date.

Tuesday, May 16, at 7:15 p. m., the semi-annual Dutch Arms dinner for the men of the Classis' of Orange will be held at the Dutch Reformed Church in Newburgh. The Rev. Howard C. Schade of Nyack will be the guest speaker.

CYO Play Finals Scheduled Here; Winners Listed

Upstate finals of the One Act Play contest will be held Sunday at St. Mary's Hall, this city, beginning at 2 p. m., it was announced today by Maureen Rice, chairman of the drama committee of the Ulster County Catholic Youth Organization.

Eight teams representing parishes in four upstate counties will compete.

The 1960-61 basketball season was officially closed with a dinner feting the champs in elementary school divisions at St. Mary's School. Bill Mahoney, athletic chairman of the County C.Y.O., was presented with an engraved plaque by County Director Leo A. Schupp on behalf of the youth of the county.

Mahoney has given more than 10 years of volunteer service to the organization's program.

Miss Marguerite Flaherty announced the winners of the CYO essay contest as follows: Boys' division—Robert Kofler of St. Joseph's, first; Robert Keeley of St. John's, West Hurley, second; Frank Brooks of St. Joseph's, third. Girls' division — Hilda Kruger of St. Mary's of the Snows, first; Maureen McGahan of St. Peter's, Rosendale, second; Marlene Amarello of St. Joseph's, Kingston, third.

Papers of the winners were sent to New York City for judging in the Archdiocesan contest. Cardinal Spellman will present the finalist with a special award at the Chancery office on Wednesday, May 27.

Margaret Hornung and Gary Smith of St. Mary's defeated seven teams representing parishes in Ulster County in the elementary division of the CYO quiz contest. They will represent Ulster in the Archdiocesan finals in New York at the Catholic Charities Center on Friday, May 26 at 7:30 p. m.

William Cranston and Carol Cooke, winners of the teen-age division of the quiz contest representing St. Joseph's parish, defeated five teams for the county title. Cranston is a student at St. Patrick's High School, Newburgh, while Miss Cooke attended St. Ursula's School, Kingston. They will meet the winners of the other 12 counties in the Archdiocese of New York in the finals.

Kennedy Warning Of '38 Is Given At Israel Trial

JERUSALEM (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, father of President Kennedy, reported in 1938 that the outlook for the Jews in Germany was "very bad," evidence introduced today in the trial of Adolf Eichmann showed.

Kennedy was the American ambassador to Great Britain at the time. Kennedy cabled to the State Department on Dec. 8, 1938. Asst. Atty. Gen. Ya'akov Bar'or told the judges it was obtained from the National Archives in Alexandria, Va.

Kennedy relayed a report, received from the French foreign office, of a conversation between Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and French Ambassador Henri Bonnet.

"The results were very bad," Kennedy cabled Washington.

Kennedy's message also referred to "financial arrangements" and "our plans with the British."

Bar'or said Kennedy's cable was about "the refugees from Germany, ways of helping them and easing their situation."

The Kennedy report was one of several dozen entered in the record today by Bar'or.

He produced documents, photostats, quotations from speeches and copies of letters. They all served to fill in the picture of the situation of Jews in Germany on the eve of World War II, and the measures taken by Nazis to force them to leave Germany penniless.

Many of the documents, Bar'or told the court, were microfilmed from originals of the Nazi papers now kept in the archives at Alexandria, Va.

Ulster CD, Public to Take Part in 1961 Alert Friday

Ulster County will operate as an integral part of the New York City Target Support Area during Operation Alert 1961, the annual nationwide Civil Defense exercise scheduled this week.

Charles L. Arnold, acting director, today announced that the public participation phase of the exercise will be held Friday, April 28 at 4 p. m. EST.

This public participation portion of the exercise is mandatory and all parts of the county will be expected to observe Civil Defense regulations as follows:

Vehicular Traffic — On the sounding of the "Take Cover" signal, all vehicular traffic, including Civil Defense and military vehicles on all streets, highways and public roads, will halt as close to the curb as possible and remain standing in that position until the Alert notification is sounded ten (10) minutes later.

Must Clear Highway

All thoroughfares must remain clear and no intersection shall be blocked in case of an actual emergency. Drivers of pleasure cars are urged to leave their vehicles, taking keys with them, and take shelter if available nearby. Otherwise they will be expected to remain in their cars and open all windows. Drivers and passengers in buses and commercial vehicles will be permitted to remain in their seats but drivers are asked to open all windows.

Exceptions: Police and fire vehicles, U. S. Mail, ambulances, clergy, doctors, and public utility, and any other emergency vehicles responding to an actual emergency in line of duty are excepted from this restriction and will be permitted passage to their destination.

Vehicles at emergency work locations, such as telephone, electric, water and sewer, should not be left unguarded during the ten minute "Take Cover" period. One man from each vehicle or work crew shall be exempt from taking shelter during this period. He shall remain with his vehicle or at his work location and all other members of said crews shall seek shelter if available.

Halt Thruway Traffic

Thruway traffic will be halted by state police only at entrances and exits.

Air Traffic — Planes in air will be permitted to land. Any planes on the ground will wait for take-off until test in concluded.

Pedestrians — All pedestrians shall be directed to take shelter in stores, public buildings, and in places other than private residences or in estabishments where such congregating would interfere with business. If no shelter is available, they will be expected to stand close to an object, such as a tree, stone wall, etc.

Railroads—No rail traffic will be expected to halt.

Schools — Upon hearing the "Take Cover" signal, all activity will cease and all school personnel still in the schools will proceed to nearest available shelter and remain there for the 10 minute period in accordance with the school's "Take Cover" plan.

Urges Cooperation

Official Personnel—Because of the nature of their duties, all regular police, sheriffs, contables, and properly identified Civil Defense Auxiliary Police who must enforce these regulations, will not be required to take shelter. All Civil Defense personnel will display an attitude of helpfulness, patience and forbearance during the "Take Cover" period. However, it is also expected that the public will cooperate in this training exercise.

CONELRAD — The Federal Communications Commission has authorized a CONELRAD drill on the afternoon of April 28 from 4:00 to 4:30 p. m. All TV, FM and those AM radio stations not in the CONELRAD program will have to leave the air for the duration of the CONELRAD drill. AM stations participating in CONELRAD will change to assigned CONELRAD frequencies. It is expected that the Federal Communications Commission will issue instructions directly to the broadcasters.

Members of the County Civil Defense staff will participate in the exercise as ordered by the New York State Civil Defense Commission. The alterate control center located in the basement of the Court House on Wall Street will be activated and all Services will operate from this headquarters.

The chief executives of both City and County government have been urged to consult with the Director of Civil Defense to determine the affect of the "attack" on Ulster County, the necessity of re-location of the seat of government, and the safety of essential records, etc.

Korea Vets Told To Enroll Early For School Plan

Korean conflict veterans were reminded today by Charles L. Culver, State Veteran Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency that under the provisions of Public Law 550 (Korean G.I. Bill) educational training must be initiated within three years after separation or discharge from the Armed Forces.

There have been numerous cases where a Korean veteran has waited until the last minute to apply for school only to be turned down; and, before acceptance in another school could be arranged, has gone past his deadline.

Veterans in training in a school or college on a full time basis under P.L. 550 receive $110 a month, $135 if they have one dependent and $160 if they have two or more dependents. The monthly allowance is to cover tuition, books and living expenses. A veteran attending school on less than a full time basis will receive lower monthly rates.

Culver and Tyler further stated that Korean veterans should start making the necessary arrangements now if they expect to enroll in school next semester, and should take a personal inventory to determine just what their individual deadline is for starting such training. By starting now, the processing of the necessary applications and other papers can be completed well in advance of the semester and the veteran will be able to formulate his educational plans.

For information concerning your rights and entitlements under the Korean G.I. Bill or to any question you may have concerning your veterans benefits contact the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston or any of the branch offices located at Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

All thoroughfares must remain clear and no intersection shall be blocked in case of an actual emergency. Drivers of pleasure cars are urged to leave their vehicles, taking keys with them, and take shelter if available nearby. Otherwise they will be expected to remain in their cars and open all windows. Drivers and passengers in buses and commercial vehicles will be permitted to remain in their seats but drivers are asked to open all windows.

Exceptions: Police and fire vehicles, U. S. Mail, ambulances, clergy, doctors, and public utility, and any other emergency vehicles responding to an actual emergency in line of duty are excepted from this restriction and will be permitted passage to their destination.

Vehicles at emergency work locations, such as telephone, electric, water and sewer, should not be left unguarded during the ten minute "Take Cover" period. One man from each vehicle or work crew shall be exempt from taking shelter during this period. He shall remain with his vehicle or at his work location and all other members of said crews shall seek shelter if available.

Halt Thruway Traffic

Thruway traffic will be halted by state police only at entrances and exits.

Air Traffic — Planes in air will be permitted to land. Any planes on the ground will wait for take-off until test in concluded.

Pedestrians — All pedestrians shall be directed to take shelter in stores, public buildings, and in places other than private residences or in establishments where such congregating would interfere with business. If no shelter is available, they will be expected to stand close to an object, such as a tree, stone wall, etc.

Railroads—No rail traffic will be expected to halt.

Schools — Upon hearing the "Take Cover" signal, all activity will cease and all school personnel still in the schools will proceed to nearest available shelter and remain there for the 10 minute period in accordance with the school's "Take Cover" plan.

Urges Cooperation

Official Personnel—Because of the nature of their duties, all regular police, sheriffs, contables, and properly identified Civil Defense Auxiliary Police who must enforce these regulations, will not be required to take shelter. All Civil Defense personnel will display an attitude of helpfulness, patience and forbearance during the "Take Cover" period. However, it is also expected that the public will cooperate in this training exercise.

CONELRAD — The Federal Communications Commission has authorized a CONELRAD drill on the afternoon of April 28 from 4:00 to 4:30 p. m. All TV, FM and those AM radio stations not in the CONELRAD program will have to leave the air for the duration of the CONELRAD drill. AM stations participating in CONELRAD will change to assigned CONELRAD frequencies. It is expected that the Federal Communications Commission will issue instructions directly to the broadcasters.

Members of the County Civil Defense staff will participate in the exercise as ordered by the New York State Civil Defense Commission. The alterate control center located in the basement of the Court House on Wall Street will be activated and all Services will operate from this headquarters.

The chief executives of both City and County government have been urged to consult with the Director of Civil Defense to determine the affect of the "attack" on Ulster County, the necessity of re-location of the seat of government, and the safety of essential records, etc.

Korea Vets Told To Enroll Early For School Plan

Korean conflict veterans were reminded today by Charles L. Culver, State Veteran Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency that under the provisions of Public Law 550 (Korean G.I. Bill) educational training must be initiated within three years after separation or discharge from the Armed Forces.

There have been numerous cases where a Korean veteran has waited until the last minute to apply for school only to be turned down; and, before acceptance in another school could be arranged, has gone past his deadline.

Veterans in training in a school or college on a full time basis under P.L. 550 receive $110 a month, $135 if they have one dependent and $160 if they have two or more dependents. The monthly allowance is to cover tuition, books and living expenses. A veteran attending school on less than a full time basis will receive lower monthly rates.

Culver and Tyler further stated that Korean veterans should start making the necessary arrangements now if they expect to enroll in school next semester, and should take a personal inventory to determine just what their individual deadline is for starting such training. By starting now, the processing of the necessary applications and other papers can be completed well in advance of the semester and the veteran will be able to formulate his educational plans.

For information concerning your rights and entitlements under the Korean G.I. Bill or to any question you may have concerning your veterans benefits contact the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston or any of the branch offices located at Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

'Borders on Subversion'

McClellan Probes Missile Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called for more testimony today about missile base strikes and work slowdowns he pictured as something that "borders on subversion."

McClellan said he wants additional details from missile contractors working at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and other bases before hearing from labor unions under fire in hearings before his Senate investigations subcommittee.

Says Slowdown Deliberate

Henry Gable, a Texas electrical contractor working on six Canaveral projects, swore Wednesday that labor union leaders there have deliberately slowed the missile program.

"There is no way the Communists could do this nation's missile effort the damage done by labor at Cape Canaveral," Gable said.

But he said with emphasis he believes no Communists are involved in what he called "rotten" abuse of union power at missile bases.

Gable heads the Gable Electric Service of Dallas. He said he hopes for a chance to send his Texas staff onto his six Cape Canaveral jobs to show their fellow union members what can be done and the savings possible.

In its first two days of inquiry, the subcommittee has received sworn testimony from many witnesses that strikes, slowdowns and featherbedding practices have held back the pace and grossly inflated the costs of missile development, testing and production.

No witness has given a closer estimate than "millions of dollars" for the extra costs.

Robert E. Dunne, a subcommittee staff investigator, and J. J. Bevis, a government accountant, told about well-paid ditchdiggers and other workers at the Vandenberg base in California and at the Cape Canaveral base.

$674.50 a Week Possible

Dunne and Bevis said an electrician's $3.50 hourly wage rate can produce a weekly pay check of $674.50 as overtime amounts into quadruple time.

Dunne and Bevis said spot checks for one week last September and one week last January showed plumbers, pipefitters and electricians at Vandenberg were better paid than the commanding general of the base.

They said plumbers and pipefitters drew wages of $420 to $733 a week, including overtime computed at up to four times the regular rate; electricians $413 to $670 a week. Maj. Gen. David Wade, the commander, got pay and allowances totaling only $365 a week.

They wrote that common laborers, including ditchdiggers, earned up to $287 during the weeks checked—more than the pay and allowances of astronauts. The laborers' foreman, they said, made $434—more than the secretary of the air force.

Rocky Rejects Site Change for Buffalo Office

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, citing need for jobs for the unemployed, rejected today pleas that the state find a new site for a proposed State Office Building in Buffalo.

Selection of another site would mean a lengthy delay, he said.

The governor said in a statement that the state would proceed with plans to construct the eight-story, $3.5-million structure on the lower Main Street site in downtown Buffalo.

Buffalo Mayor Frank A. Sedita and representatives of several organizations in that city had urged the governor to overrule the State Public Works Department and construct the building closer to the main shopping districts.

The governor said, however, that construction at the lower Main Street site would provide immediate employment for many workers in Buffalo, one of the state's major labor-surplus areas.

The governor said he had requested the Public Works Department to seek bids immediately.

Kennedy Favors

that "no web of statute or regulation" could hope to meet all possible challenges to a federal employe's integrity or his devotion to the public interest.

"The ultimate answer to ethical problems in government," Kennedy said, "is honest people in a good ethical environment."

Confident of Bulk

And, the President affirmed a confidence in the integrity and dedication of the vast bulk of government workers. "Venal conduct by public officials in this country has been comparatively rare," he said.

However, the President said he intends to issue executive orders to:

Prohibit gifts to government personnel which appear to be designed to influence official conduct.

Forbid government employes from using for private gain official information which is not available to the general public, such as for stock market speculation.

Bans Linking Jobs

Prohibit employes from seeking "anything of economic value" from anyone whose private interests may be affected by actions of the employe or his agency.

Ban outside employment "incompatible" with government work.

Regulate in more detail the conduct of presidential appointees, including the White House staff.

Apply government-wide standards to continuance of property or stock holding by appointees in the executive branch.

Kennedy said shortly after his election that he planned to propose a new code covering "basic principles of ethics" which he intended to enforce in his administration with or without the aid of supporting law.

The White House announced last month that administration officials were being advised that if they accepted pay for writing articles or maping speeches the money had to be turned over to charity. Also, the announcement said the President intended to tighten up an old Pentagon regulation prohibiting members of the armed forces from cashing in on stories about official experiences while on active duty.

They are elite shock units with proud battle streamers from major engagements in modern French history.

De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria—which will almost certainly lead to independence—has cast doubt on the future of the whole Foreign Legion. Under the French constitution, no legion unit can be permanently based in metropolitan France, and Algeria is the last big overseas French possession.

negotiations without reaching conclusive agreements, according to a union spokesman.

The union is seeking general wage increases, fringe benefits and improvements.

Strike votes have been taken at all area plants, it is reported. This means that union members are prepared to strike if they deem it necessary.

No area negotiations are on the agenda but a meeting has been tentatively set between union officials and the Marquette Cement Company in New York City. The former North American plant in Catskill was recently acquired by Marquette.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft-missiles, coppers and some electronics made gains in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 243.40 with industrials up .10, rails unchanged and utilities up .40.

Fractional gains and losses were scattered liberally among most key stocks but advances of a point or so among some pivotal issues gave the average a tilt to the upside.

Steels, oils, tobaccos and drugs edged to the downside. Rails moved up slightly. Motors were mixed.

Martin Co. spurted about 2 as the missile stocks moved ahead. Rohr Aircraft was around a point higher.

United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics made moderate gains.

Magma jumped more than 2. Up more than a point were Kennecott, Anaconda and Phelps Dodge.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .95 at 683.13.

peared to be normal and there was every indication orbit was achieved.

He said confirmation could not be made until the satellite had made one pass around the earth.

The test was only indirectly related to the man-in-space program which suffered a serious setback Tuesday. In that trial, rocket failure cut short an attempt to put into orbit and bring back to earth just such a space capsule as a Mercury astronaut will ride. The Atlas booster wandered off course and was intentionally destroyed.

Today's satellite—to be called Explorer XI—was planned to give United States scientists the world's first astronomical observatory in space.

The specific assignment is to measure Gamma rays.

High-energy Gamma rays stream out from cosmic sources such as the Milky Way and other star-cluster galaxies. They are associated with nuclear activity and scientists believe they may be the keys to information about the elements making up the universe.

Disappears Quickly

The early portion of the flight appeared to be normal as the Juno II sped across a clear sky, disappearing from sight about 2½ minutes after launch.

Explorer XI is shaped roughly like a telescope but is not like the familiar telescopes through which man looks at the stars.

Stuffed With Instruments

The front end of the tubular section is stuffed with instruments intended to peer into millions of miles of space, sorting out Gamma rays from other space radiation such as protons and electrons.

The payload includes equipment to relay the data to earth to be recorded in photographs of wavy lines on an oscilloscope. Each intended 98-minute orbit is expected to produce 36 feet of 35mm film for study.

The space platform was developed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology to enable scientists to observe conditions in space above the distorting influence of the earth's atmosphere. Science currently is limited in study of extraterrestrial Gamma radiation because radiation in the atmosphere interferes with measurements.

Researchers have concluded after many balloon flights designed to study cosmic and Gamma rays, that the only way to solve the problem is to get their instruments beyond the atmosphere, NASA said.

Others Roar Approval

After Castro spoke of the danger of American aggression against Cuba, several of the prisoners excitedly grabbed microphones and pledged to fight off any attack. The rest of the prisoners roared their approval.

At one point Castro was asked by one of the prisoners if his government was "completely Communist." He shouted back: "The Cuban people have a right to a Communist government if they want one. Ours is a Socialist government."

Castro's public appearance, only the second since the April 17 invasion, climaxed a five-day parade of captives before Havana's TV cameras.

Each prisoner stood and gave his name and home town. The television audience was asked to search the sea of faces and telephone in if they recognized any of the prisoners as "criminals of the dictatorship."

Boy to Face Exam

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy who has admitted setting fire to the chapel of LaSalle School, was being held for a mental examination, police say.

The chapel was ruined and other parts of the institution were damaged in the fire Saturday night. There were no injuries.

The name of the boy, who was taken into custody yesterday, was not revealed because of his age.

4 More Named In Cage Scandal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three senior members of St. Joseph College's NCAA third-place basketball team and one player from LaSalle College are involved in the 1960-61 basketball gambling scandal, college authorities said today.

The Very Rev. J. Joseph Bluett, president of St. Joseph College, said Jack Egan, Vince Kempton and Frank Majewski have been expelled from school.

The LaSalle player named was Ed Bowler, a sophomore, who said at his Jersey City, N.J., home he had not been expelled from school yet.

Father Bluett in a statement said St. Joseph had been informed Wednesday by the New York District Attorney's office that previous assurances given by the students that they were not involved were untrue.

All three St. Joseph players were members of the college's third-place National Collegiate Athletic Association tourney finishers. St. Joseph was defeated by Ohio State in last month's semi-finals at Kansas City, but beat Utah in a consolation game to wind up what had been regarded until now as a "Cinderella season" for a team lightly-regarded before the season opened.

According to the Book of Genesis, Terah was the father of Abraham.

GE Stockholders

Wednesday following a grilling by a small but vocal minority.

Then the directors overwhelmingly re-elected, in a sometimes unruly 6½ hour session, Cordiner's tenure as chairman and gave him in addition the title of GE president.

Cordiner, 61, had doubled as acting president since the early retirement in February of Robert Paxton from that position. Paxton gave reasons of health for laying down his duties.

Paxton has been invited to appear before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

Most but not all of the annual meeting fireworks were touched off by James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, and Wilma Soss of New York, president of the Women's Shareholders in American Business.

Smothered by Ballot

In a showdown vote on their main proposition, Carey and Mrs. Soss were smothered by a ballot of 69,856,355 to 1,404,850.

By that margin, their demand was rejected for an independent inquiry to determine whether Cordiner and other directors should "reasonably" have known of illegal activities within the company before federal antitrust indictments were handed up naming 16 company officials.

All the GE men drew fines for conspiring with representatives of 28 other manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment to fix prices and rig bids. Three also were sentenced to 30 days in jail apiece.

Elderly Couple Requests A Stock for Safe Income

Q. "I am 82 years old and my wife is 68. We have $50,000 in common stocks. We would like to invest an additional $2,000 and have been thinking of three stocks, Union Electric of St. Louis, Thatcher Glass, and Electric Autolite. At our age we want to play it safe. Which of the three do you advise us to buy? E.M.

A. I heartily commend your desire for safe income, and I hope you'll have many more years to enjoy it.

Your three stock suggestoins are sound and each pays a good return. In your particular circumstances, I prefer Union Electric (NYSE). This utility supplies electricity to eastern Missouri and bordering areas of Illinois and Iowa. The stock pays a secure dividend and can be expected to show gradual appreciation.

Thatcher Glass is one of the smaller manufacturers of glass bottles. Earnings were off last year, but the long-term outlook is reasonably good. I don't believe the stock offers the very high degree of security you require.

Electric Autolite is an auto-parts producer whose earnings have fluctuated widely in past years. This stock is for investors who can assume more market risk than is warranted in your case.

Q. "I'm a New York City fireman who occasionally invests. I have followed your column, watching especially for your growth recommendations. Many of them are of a high-priced nature. Do you have any less expensive growth stocks?" B.P.

A. First, I'd like to point out that a high-priced stock is not necessarily expensive and a low-priced stock is not necessarily cheap.

Don't be misled because a stock sells for a low price. There is frequently a very good reason why it is selling there.

In contrast, investors bid up the market prices of stocks that appear to have a strong future. In the moderately priced group, I like Tex-Star Oil & Gas (OTC) and Chock Full O'nuts (NYSE). In the junior growth division, where there is more risk, I suggest Tenax (OTC), which is doing well in the frozen food business.

Dunne and Bevis said an electrician's $3.50 hourly wage rate can produce a weekly pay check of $674.50 as overtime amounts into quadruple time.

Dunne and Bevis said spot checks for one week last September and one week last January showed plumbers, pipefitters and electricians at Vandenberg were better paid than the commanding general of the base.

They said plumbers and pipefitters drew wages of $420 to $733 a week, including overtime computed at up to four times the regular rate; electricians $413 to $670 a week. Maj. Gen. David Wade, the commander, got pay and allowances totaling only $365 a week.

They wrote that common laborers, including ditchdiggers, earned up to $287 during the weeks checked—more than the pay and allowances of astronauts. The laborers' foreman, they said, made $434—more than the secretary of the air force.

Rocky Rejects Site Change for Buffalo Office

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, citing need for jobs for the unemployed, rejected today pleas that the state find a new site for a proposed State Office Building in Buffalo.

Selection of another site would mean a lengthy delay, he said.

The governor said in a statement that the state would proceed with plans to construct the eight-story, $3.5-million structure on the lower Main Street site in downtown Buffalo.

Buffalo Mayor Frank A. Sedita and representatives of several organizations in that city had urged the governor to overrule the State Public Works Department and construct the building closer to the main shopping districts.

The governor said, however, that construction at the lower Main Street site would provide immediate employment for many workers in Buffalo, one of the state's major labor-surplus areas.

The governor said he had requested the Public Works Department to seek bids immediately.

Kennedy Favors

that "no web of statute or regulation" could hope to meet all possible challenges to a federal employe's integrity or his devotion to the public interest.

"The ultimate answer to ethical problems in government," Kennedy said, "is honest people in a good ethical environment."

Confident of Bulk

And, the President affirmed a confidence in the integrity and dedication of the vast bulk of government workers. "Venal conduct by public officials in this country has been comparatively rare," he said.

However, the President said he intends to issue executive orders to:

Prohibit gifts to government personnel which appear to be designed to influence official conduct.

Forbid government employes from using for private gain official information which is not available to the general public, such as for stock market speculation.

Bans Linking Jobs

Prohibit employes from seeking "anything of economic value" from anyone whose private interests may be affected by actions of the employe or his agency.

Ban outside employment "incompatible" with government work.

Regulate in more detail the conduct of presidential appointees, including the White House staff.

Apply government-wide standards to continuance of property or stock holding by appointees in the executive branch.

Kennedy said shortly after his election that he planned to propose a new code covering "basic principles of ethics" which he intended to enforce in his administration with or without the aid of supporting law.

The White House announced last month that administration officials were being advised that if they accepted pay for writing articles or maping speeches the money had to be turned over to charity. Also, the announcement said the President intended to tighten up an old Pentagon regulation prohibiting members of the armed forces from cashing in on stories about official experiences while on active duty.

They are elite shock units with proud battle streamers from major engagements in modern French history.

De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria—which will almost certainly lead to independence—has cast doubt on the future of the whole Foreign Legion. Under the French constitution, no legion unit can be permanently based in metropolitan France, and Algeria is the last big overseas French possession.

negotiations without reaching conclusive agreements, according to a union spokesman.

The union is seeking general wage increases, fringe benefits and improvements.

Strike votes have been taken at all area plants, it is reported. This means that union members are prepared to strike if they deem it necessary.

No area negotiations are on the agenda but a meeting has been tentatively set between union officials and the Marquette Cement Company in New York City. The former North American plant in Catskill was recently acquired by Marquette.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft-missiles, coppers and some electronics made gains in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 243.40 with industrials up .10, rails unchanged and utilities up .40.

Fractional gains and losses were scattered liberally among most key stocks but advances of a point or so among some pivotal issues gave the average a tilt to the upside.

Steels, oils, tobaccos and drugs edged to the downside. Rails moved up slightly. Motors were mixed.

United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft and General Dynamics made moderate gains.

Magma jumped more than 2. Up more than a point were Kennecott, Anaconda and Phelps Dodge.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .95 at 683.13.

peared to be normal and there was every indication orbit was achieved.

He said confirmation could not be made until the satellite had made one pass around the earth.

The test was only indirectly related to the man-in-space program which suffered a serious setback Tuesday. In that trial, rocket failure cut short an attempt to put into orbit and bring back to earth just such a space capsule as a Mercury astronaut will ride. The Atlas booster wandered off course and was intentionally destroyed.

Today's satellite—to be called Explorer XI—was planned to give United States scientists the world's first astronomical observatory in space.

The specific assignment is to measure Gamma rays.

High-energy Gamma rays stream out from cosmic sources such as the Milky Way and other star-cluster galaxies. They are associated with nuclear activity and scientists believe they may be the keys to information about the elements making up the universe.

Disappears Quickly

The early portion of the flight appeared to be normal as the Juno II sped across a clear sky, disappearing from sight about 2½ minutes after launch.

Explorer XI is shaped roughly like a telescope but is not like the familiar telescopes through which man looks at the stars.

Stuffed With Instruments

The front end of the tubular section is stuffed with instruments intended to peer into millions of miles of space, sorting out Gamma rays from other space radiation such as protons and electrons.

The payload includes equipment to relay the data to earth to be recorded in photographs of wavy lines on an oscilloscope. Each intended 98-minute orbit is expected to produce 36 feet of 35mm film for study.

The space platform was developed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology to enable scientists to observe conditions in space above the distorting influence of the earth's atmosphere. Science currently is limited in study of extraterrestrial Gamma radiation because radiation in the atmosphere interferes with measurements.

Researchers have concluded after many balloon flights designed to study cosmic and Gamma rays, that the only way to solve the problem is to get their instruments beyond the atmosphere, NASA said.

Others Roar Approval

After Castro spoke of the danger of American aggression against Cuba, several of the prisoners excitedly grabbed microphones and pledged to fight off any attack. The rest of the prisoners roared their approval.

At one point Castro was asked by one of the prisoners if his government was "completely Communist." He shouted back: "The Cuban people have a right to a Communist government if they want one. Ours is a Socialist government."

Castro's public appearance, only the second since the April 17 invasion, climaxed a five-day parade of captives before Havana's TV cameras.

Each prisoner stood and gave his name and home town. The television audience was asked to search the sea of faces and telephone in if they recognized any of the prisoners as "criminals of the dictatorship."

Boy to Face Exam

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy who has admitted setting fire to the chapel of LaSalle School, was being held for a mental examination, police say.

The chapel was ruined and other parts of the institution were damaged in the fire Saturday night. There were no injuries.

The name of the boy, who was taken into custody yesterday, was not revealed because of his age.

4 More Named In Cage Scandal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three senior members of St. Joseph College's NCAA third-place basketball team and one player from LaSalle College are involved in the 1960-61 basketball gambling scandal, college authorities said today.

The Very Rev. J. Joseph Bluett, president of St. Joseph College, said Jack Egan, Vince Kempton and Frank Majewski have been expelled from school.

The LaSalle player named was Ed Bowler, a sophomore, who said at his Jersey City, N.J., home he had not been expelled from school yet.

Father Bluett in a statement said St. Joseph had been informed Wednesday by the New York District Attorney's office that previous assurances given by the students that they were not involved were untrue.

All three St. Joseph players were members of the college's third-place National Collegiate Athletic Association tourney finishers. St. Joseph was defeated by Ohio State in last month's semi-finals at Kansas City, but beat Utah in a consolation game to wind up what had been regarded until now as a "Cinderella season" for a team lightly-regarded before the season opened.

GE Stockholders

Wednesday following a grilling by a small but vocal minority.

Then the directors overwhelmingly re-elected, in a sometimes unruly 6½ hour session, Cordiner's tenure as chairman and gave him in addition the title of GE president.

Cordiner, 61, had doubled as acting president since the early retirement in February of Robert Paxton from that position. Paxton gave reasons of health for laying down his duties.

Paxton has been invited to appear before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee,

Most but not all of the annual meeting fireworks were touched off by James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, and Wilma Soss of New York, president of the Women's Shareholders in American Business.

Smothered by Ballot

In a showdown vote on their main proposition, Carey and Mrs. Soss were smothered by a ballot of 69,856,355 to 1,404,850.

By that margin, their demand was rejected for an independent inquiry to determine whether Cordiner and other directors should "reasonably" have known of illegal activities within the company before federal antitrust indictments were handed up naming 16 company officials.

All the GE men drew fines for conspiring with representatives of 28 other manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment to fix prices and rig bids. Three also were sentenced to 30 days in jail apiece.

Elderly Couple Requests A Stock for Safe Income

Q. "I am 82 years old and my wife is 68. We have $50,000 in common stocks. We would like to invest an additional $2,000 and have been thinking of three stocks, Union Electric of St. Louis, Thatcher Glass, and Electric Autolite. At our age we want to play it safe. Which of the three do you advise us to buy?" E.M.

A. I heartily commend your desire for safe income, and I hope you'll have many more years to enjoy it.

Your three stock suggestoins are sound and each pays a good return. In your particular circumstances, I prefer Union Electric (NYSE). This utility supplies electricity to eastern Missouri and bordering areas of Illinois and Iowa. The stock pays a secure dividend and can be expected to show gradual appreciation.

Thatcher Glass is one of the smaller manufacturers of glass bottles. Earnings were off last year, but the long-term outlook is reasonably good. I don't believe the stock offers the very high degree of security you require.

Electric Autolite is an auto-parts producer whose earnings have fluctuated widely in past years. This stock is for investors who can assume more market risk than is warranted in your case.

Q. "I'm a New York City fireman who occasionally invests. I have followed your column, watching especially for your growth recommendations. Many of them are of a high-priced nature. Do you have any less expensive growth stocks?" B.P.

A. First, I'd like to point out that a high-priced stock is not necessarily expensive and a low-priced stock is not necessarily cheap.

Don't be misled because a stock sells for a low price. There is frequently a very good reason why it is selling there.

In contrast, investors bid up the market prices of stocks that appear to have a strong future. In the moderately priced group, I like Tex-Star Oil & Gas (OTC) and Chock Full O'nuts (NYSE). In the junior growth division, where there is more risk, I suggest Tenax (OTC), which is doing well in the frozen food business.

Newspapers Must Be Sluggers Not Defenders, Editors Told

NEW YORK (AP)—A Texas editor said today newspapers do not need defenders, but rather sluggers who will make the daily newspaper imperative to troubled citizens hungering for information in a tense world.

Must Prove Reasons

"We must prove the reasons our being," Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, told the 75th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

"Wise men gave us constitutional protection. Men before us earned the newspaper's right to that privilege.

"The publisher and editor of today must give that privilege even more stature and repute—or let down completely the millions who hunger to know, that they might live."

McKnight spoke at the final general session of the three-day convention, attended by more than 1,200 publishers, editors and other newspaper executives from across the nation, Canada and Puerto Rico.

JFK Talks Tonight

President Kennedy will speak tonight at a dinner sponsored by the Bureau of Advertising of the ANPA.

Four speakers, besides McKnight, prepared addresses for the ANPA session.

Dr. Claire Eckels of the Baltimore, Md., public school system described the newspaper as "a living textbook" for classrooms.

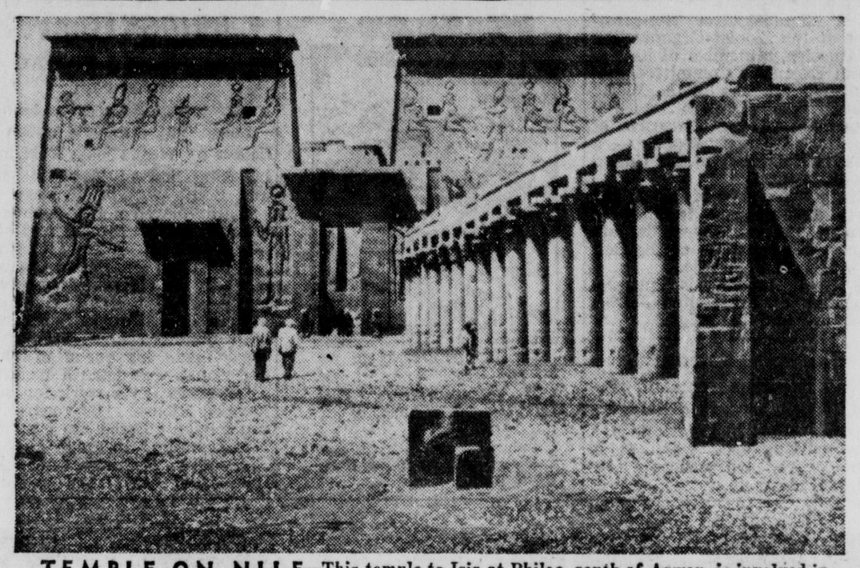
Joyce A. Swan, executive vice president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, reported on a trend toward increased expenditures by newspapers for research.

J. Warren McClure of the Burlington, Vt., Free Press gave some suggestions on how to sell newspaper advertising.

Arthur A. Brown, comptroller of the Newport News, Va., Daily Press and Times-Herald, told the publishers that "to control costs you must first measure costs."

Stanford Smith, who became ANPA general manager upon the retirement of Cranston Williams last year, gave his first annual report.

George N. Dale, chairman of the ANPA special standing committee, reported there were 10 newspaper strikes last year, compared with 38 in 1959, and that "last year arbitration was paramount."



TEMPLE ON NILE—This temple to Isis at Philae, south of Aswan, is involved in President Kennedy's proposal for U.S. contribution to preserve ancient temples and monuments on the upper Nile. They face inundation by the Aswan Dam now under construction.

AnnounceSpeaker For Jewish Fund Meeting on May 4

Joseph E. Honig, Richard M. Kaish and Arthur P. Motzkin, co-chairmen of Initial Gifts for the United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign announce that Jacques Torczyner, distinguished American leader, will speak at the fund raising meeting on Thursday, May 4, 8 p. m. at the home of Arthur P. Motzkin, Flower Lane in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal.

He is a leading spokesman for United Jewish Appeal and for Israel causes and has traveled widely here and abroad to speak in important communities about the problem facing Israel's people.

JACQUES TORCZYNER

Attended Zionist Congress

He was a founder and organizer of the World Confederation of General Zionists in 1946 and is now a member of the Praesidium of the World Zionist Actions Committee. He recently returned from a trip to Israel where he attended the 24th World Zionist Congress, and studied the impact of immigration upon Israel's absorption facilities.

Torczyner is a leader in the diamond industry and has made major contributions to the development of that industry in Israel as well as in the United States. Despite a heavy schedule he devotes a great deal of time to working and speaking for the United Jewish Appeal.

Active for Israel

In addition to his other posts, he is administrative vice-president of the Zionist Organization of America, a member of its National Executive Committee, and chairman of the ZOA World Zoinist Affairs Committee, and a member of the Executive of the United Israel Appeal — a constituent agency of the United Jewish Appeal.

He is a member of one of the most distinguished families in prewar, Europe where his late father was president of the Belgian Zionist Federation.

Samuel Levine is general chairman of the United Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign.

South put dummy's queen of hearts on West's jack. East took his king and returned the suit and South was in dummy.

South played a few rounds of trumps; cashed the ace and king of diamonds; ruffed dummy's last diamond and slaped the jack of clubs on the table. West was ready with a small club and after a little thought South rose with dummy's king. Eventually West made his queen of clubs and South was down a trick.

"Finesses never work for me," moaned South. "Of course, I could have guessed the club, but I had nothing to guide me."

Actually, South had chucked the hand out the window through a "Hard Luck Joe" type play. Do you see what he did wrong?

The error occurred at trick one. Sometimes it just does not pay to finesse. If South had simply played the ace of hearts at trick one; drawn two trumps; played rounds of diamonds (trumping the third lead, of course); and continued by leading his last heart, he could have claimed his hand right then and there.

It would not matter where the king of hearts and queen of clubs were. Whichever opponent held the king of hearts would be in the lead. If he played a red card South would ruff in his hand and discard a club from dummy. If he led a club the queen would be trapped in either hand.

Bloomington Vols To Meet May 2

Reports of progress on the new truck fund drive will be discussed during the meeting of Bloomington Fire Company, Inc., next Tuesday night, May 2.

President Fred Sauer, in announcing the meeting, said that response to the drive to date has been overwhelming, noting that approximately one-sixth of the necessary money has been raised.

The goal has been set for $6,500 as a down payment on the new pumper-tanker.

Chief Oscar Hahn, who is heading the fund drive committee, is urging an all-out drive throughout the Bloomington district to help meet the goal. Letters have been mailed to every home in the district. Those who have not received one are requested to contact the fire company.

In connection with the truck fund drive the Bloomington vols have scheduled two events.

One is the weekly car washing service, held every Saturday from 12 noon until 4 p. m., throughout the spring and summer months.

Serving on this committee are Herbert Faurote, chairman; Joseph Hafner, Edward Brodsky, Charles Peterson, Oscar Hahn, Carl Pedersen, George Hafner, John Markle, Robert Hicks, Rudolph Welsek, Raymond LeFever, Richard Staley, Warren Prandoni and Howard Slover.

The other event planned to raise funds for the new truck is a pancake and sausage supper scheduled for Saturday night, May 6, at the firehouse, with servings from 5 to 8 p. m.

Another event also in the planning stage is the donkey baseball game set for Sunday, July 16, at 2:30 p. m. Further details will be announced.

State Gets $81,614

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Urban Renewal Administration on Wednesday gave the New York State Division of Housing an $81,614 grant to develop model standards for transient housing.

The grant covers two-thirds of a $121,746 project, with the state to pay the remaining portion.

The Suez Canal, 102 miles long, is twice the length of the Panama Canal.

Leader Is Facing Party Challenge Over Judgeship

GENESEO, N.Y. (AP) — The Livingston County Republican Committee will meet tonight without its chairman to consider action that would, in effect, challenge State Sen. Austin Erwin's leadership of the party.

The apparent revolt stems from the senators efforts to get a new State Supreme Court judgeship for his son, Austin Erwin Jr. 24.

The committee recently endorsed County Judge George D. Newton for one of the three new judgeships in the Seventh Judicial District, but the county chairman, J. Donald Root, later announced his preference for the younger Erwin.

Assemblyman Kenneth Willard, the committee vice chairman, called tonight's meeting in the absence of Root, who is vacationing in Florida.

The new judgeships in the seven-county district were created in the last session of the State Legislature.

Gov. Rockefeller is expected to make the bench appointments before July 1, but all three will have to seek full 14-year terms to the $26,000-a-year judgeships in next November's general election.

Neither of the Erwins has said anything publicly in the dispute.

Young Erwin is counsel to the state's Genesee Valley Regional Market Authority, where his salary is on a daily basis not to exceed $2,500-a-year.

Commenting from his vacation spot in Florida this week, Root said:

"Livingston County has not had a Supreme Court justice for 60 years. The way I felt right along has been that Livingston County has to have a judge. If it is going to have a judge, it will be Austin Erwin Jr.

Gordon A. Howe, Monroe County Republican chairman and unofficial spokesman for the party in the judicial district, said a meeting of county chairmen would be conducted next week to consider recommendations to the governor. Willard said the "rootless" Livingston County committee intended to be at the session.

FINAL LINK — Newsmap spots where 17½-mile bridge-tunnel, world's longest, is expected to close the final water gap in the Maine-to-Florida highway of routes 17 and 13. Target date is Fall, 1963.

Survey on Teeners

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Young teen-agers today like to work — especially for money. But they prefer that their parents cover major expenses for clothing and education.

These were among the findings of a survey of 339 ninth-grade pupils by Ruth Ellen Pestle, a graduate student in the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University.

A large majority of the pupils said that working gave them a feeling of accomplishment.

Producer Milk Price Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today producer prices of milk this year will be higher than in 1960, but not by the full extent of recent increases in government support prices.

Manufacturing milk prices were maintained above support levels in the last part of 1960 by a strong demand for milk for making cheddar cheese. But with supplies of cheese now at high levels, this demand is slackening. Because of this, as milk production increases, prices for manufacturing milk and butterfat will tend, the department said, to ride the new price support level more closely.

Ayer Cup Goes To Tribune Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For the tenth time, the New York Herald Tribune has been awarded the Ayer Cup for excellence in typography, makeup and printing.

The Jamestown (N.Y.) Sun received honorable mention in the tabloid class, in which 24 newspapers, the largest number in recent years, were entered. Only one honorable mention is awarded in that class.

Newspapers that reached the finals but were not award-winners included three other New York State entries:

The Saratoga Springs Saratogian and, in the tabloid class, The New York Daily News and The Middletown Times-Herald Record.

In all, 842 English-language newspapers were judged on the basis of their March 15 issues, a date chosen by lot. The competition is sponsored by N. W. Ayer & Son Inc., publisher of a newspaper directory and other books.

Former Area Man Believed Dead in Bay State Crash

HOLDEN, Mass. (AP)—Rescue bands battled an almost impenetrable morass today to reach a wrecked plane in which three men are presumed to be dead.

Their plane was wrecked Wednesday in a forest - bound swamp as a fierce electrical storm swept the area.

The three occupants were identified as Victor Martini, of Drums, Pa., a veteran pilot; Herbert Price, 38, and Benjamin Corwin, 41, both of Hazleton, Pa.

They took off Wednesday from Hazleton on a business trip to Boston.

Corwin was born in Middletown, N. Y., and had been employed by the Spaulding bakery in Hazleton for 18 years. He managed the firm's Middletown plant until last November, when he was transferred to Hazleton.

He and his wife, Emily, have five children.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Mary Sinclair, 78, wife of writer Upton Sinclair, died Wednesday. She had suffered from a heart condition and had been a semi-invalid the past seven years.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. James Ford Bell, 82, wife of the founder, past president and retired board chairman of General Mills Inc., died Tuesday in Honolulu of a heart attack.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—George W. Codrington, 74, retired vice president of the Cleveland Diesel Engine Division of General Motors, died Wednesday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Don Rothenberg, 37, White House correspondent for the Trans-Radio Press during President Harry S. Truman's administration, died Wednesday.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constantly increasing supplies of fresh vegetables and a wide variety of meat specials make the food shopper's task of selection a bit more arduous this week.

Bargains in meat are scattered both by type and by geography. In New England, the New York metropolitan area and Midwest leg of lamb and frying chickens are popular. The latter also pop up in the Far West, reflecting a 4-cent price decline. Fryers ease a cent or two in some other sections.

Round roast is frequently offered in the Middle Atlantic and Southern areas, while smoked butt, a less expensive pork cut, is marked down in the Midwest and East. Fish features are somewhat sparse.

New arrivals in vegetable markets this week include New Jersey spinach, parsley, asparagus and collard greens; Virginia parsley and swiss chard; Georgia cabbage; Pennsylvania spinach and watercress; South Carolina lettuce, beets and cabbage; California squash and North Carolina cabbage, beets and a smattering of asparagus.

Since supplies of these are just beginning, some are fairly expensive.

The shopper can find outstanding buys among items already in good supply such as snap beans, beets, broccoli, regular and Chinese cabbage, eggplant, iceberg lettuce, green peas, old crop potatoes, radishes and escarole.

Fruit bargains remain relatively scarce with bananas, pineapple sand grapefruit considered the best of the lot. Avocados, oranges, lemons and watermelons are good buys.

Demand to Stay High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service predicted today that consumer demand for food and fiber products is expected to continue high the remainder of this year. It also forecast an increase in exports of these products.

Producer Milk Price Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today producer prices of milk this year will be higher than in 1960, but not by the full extent of recent increases in government support prices.

Manufacturing milk prices were maintained above support levels in the last part of 1960 by a strong demand for milk for making cheddar cheese. But with supplies of cheese now at high levels, this demand is slackening. Because of this, as milk production increases, prices for manufacturing milk and butterfat will tend, the department said, to ride the new price support level more closely.

Ayer Cup Goes To Tribune Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For the tenth time, the New York Herald Tribune has been awarded the Ayer Cup for excellence in typography, makeup and printing.

The Jamestown (N.Y.) Sun received honorable mention in the tabloid class, in which 24 newspapers, the largest number in recent years, were entered. Only one honorable mention is awarded in that class.

Newspapers that reached the finals but were not award-winners included three other New York State entries:

The Saratoga Springs Saratogian and, in the tabloid class, The New York Daily News and The Middletown Times-Herald Record.

In all, 842 English-language newspapers were judged on the basis of their March 15 issues, a date chosen by lot. The competition is sponsored by N. W. Ayer & Son Inc., publisher of a newspaper directory and other books.

Former Area Man Believed Dead in Bay State Crash

HOLDEN, Mass. (AP)—Rescue bands battled an almost impenetrable morass today to reach a wrecked plane in which three men are presumed to be dead.

Their plane was wrecked Wednesday in a forest - bound swamp as a fierce electrical storm swept the area.

The three occupants were identified as Victor Martini, of Drums, Pa., a veteran pilot; Herbert Price, 38, and Benjamin Corwin, 41, both of Hazleton, Pa.

They took off Wednesday from Hazleton on a business trip to Boston.

Corwin was born in Middletown, N. Y., and had been employed by the Spaulding bakery in Hazleton for 18 years. He managed the firm's Middletown plant until last November, when he was transferred to Hazleton.

He and his wife, Emily, have five children.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—George W. Codrington, 74, retired vice president of the Cleveland Diesel Engine Division of General Motors, died Wednesday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Don Rothenberg, 37, White House correspondent for the Trans-Radio Press during President Harry S. Truman's administration, died Wednesday.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constantly increasing supplies of fresh vegetables and a wide variety of meat specials make the food shopper's task of selection a bit more arduous this week.

Bargains in meat are scattered both by type and by geography. In New England, the New York metropolitan area and Midwest leg of lamb and frying chickens are popular. The latter also pop up in the Far West, reflecting a 4-cent price decline. Fryers ease a cent or two in some other sections.

Round roast is frequently offered in the Middle Atlantic and Southern areas, while smoked butt, a less expensive pork cut, is marked down in the Midwest and East. Fish features are somewhat sparse.

New arrivals in vegetable markets this week include New Jersey spinach, parsley, asparagus and collard greens; Virginia parsley and swiss chard; Georgia cabbage; Pennsylvania spinach and watercress; South Carolina lettuce, beets and cabbage; California squash and North Carolina cabbage, beets and a smattering of asparagus.

Since supplies of these are just beginning, some are fairly expensive.

The shopper can find outstanding buys among items already in good supply such as snap beans, beets, broccoli, regular and Chinese cabbage, eggplant, iceberg lettuce, green peas, old crop potatoes, radishes and escarole.

Fruit bargains remain relatively scarce with bananas, pineapple sand grapefruit considered the best of the lot. Avocados, oranges, lemons and watermelons are good buys.

History-Making Role

U.S. Acts to Force School's Reopening

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The federal government, in the history-making role of coplaintiff, has moved to force the reopening of Prince Edward County's public schools.

In a motion filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis Wednesday, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked the court to prohibit state support of any public schools in Virginia until Prince Edward schools are reopened on integrated basis.

Kennedy said the government's move to intervene in the case was a departure from custom. He said the government has taken part in many school cases as "a friend of the court" but never before has entered such litigation as an active plaintiff.

Attorneys for Negro pupils are scheduled to challenge May 8 the use of public funds to support the private schools set up in the county for white children. The county closed its public schools in 1959 in the face of a federal court integration order.

Arguments on Kennedy's motion may also be heard then.

There was little immediate reaction from state or local officials. Spokesmen for the Negroes expressed satisfaction at the move.

The county board has had no funds with which to operate public schools since 1959. While 1,376 white children have been educated in a private school system, the county's estimated 1,800 school-age Negro children for the most part have gone without any schooling.

Exams Are Slated For U. S. Academy Openings in July

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton has announced that the U. S. Civil Service Commission will conduct a preliminary examination in July for candidates from this area interested in 1962 designation to the U. S. Air Force, Merchant Marine and military academies

Candidates must have attained the age of 17 years and must not have reached the age of 22 as of July 1, 1962; and, be bonafide residents of Ulster, Greene, Dutchess, Columbia or Schoharie counties.

The 29th Congressional District does not anticipate any Annapolis vacancies, however, one is expected at the Air Force Academy; one at the Military Academy, and 10 names may be submitted to compete for approximately 25 vacancies allotted New York State in the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point.

Application forms may be obtained by writing Congressman Wharton at Room 1009, House Office building, Washington 25, D. C., and completed applications must be on file no later than June 5, 1961.

Science Display At RV Success

The Science Display program at the Rondout Valley High School proved to be popular with parents, students and P.T.F. Club members.

Hundreds turned out to see the display which included science exhibits from the first grade through senior high school. The cake sale conducted by the combined parent organizations of the district also proved popular and the nucleus of a district scholarship fund was realized from the proceeds of the sale.

A brief P.T.F. Club meeting was called at the close of the science display and the following officers were elected to head the high schol organization next year: President Irving Feinberg, First Vice President Merton Blanchard, Second Vice President Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, Secretary Donald Schoonmaker and Treasurer Mrs. Herman Miller.

Weather Delays Little Joe Try

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Cloudy weather today forced indefinite postponement of an attempt to launch a Mercury space capsule in the last test of the emergency escape system before a man trusts his life to it.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in mid-morning that weather conditions were unsuitable and apparently would remain so for at least 24 hours.

The agency said clear skies are essential for photographic purposes.

A Little Joe solid-propellant rocket remained on its stand, ready to send the Mercury space craft aloft in a test of the escape system under the conditions of greatest possible stress.

Railroad Board Agent Assigned To Aid Workers

A U. S. Railroad Retirement Board representative will be at the Central Post Office, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, May 10 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. to assist railroad workers and families in retirement and survivor problems.

The board representative will be available to consult with the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors on any problems about retirement and other matters and answer questions which they may have in connection with the Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts.

The New York Field office services all railroad employers and employes located in several counties including Ulster, Sullivan, Dutchess, Orange and Rockland.

Lana's Ex to Wed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stephen Crane says he and Helen L. Demaree will be married Friday in his Beverly Hills home.

Crane, 44, is the former husband of actress Lana Turner and father of her daughter Cheryl.

Mrs. Demaree, 25, is an interior decorator.

Mrs. Levy Named To Aging Post

Mrs. Marcelle G. Levy, who addressed the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies in Kingston recently, has assumed duties as administrator of the New York State Office for the Aging at a salary of $11,416 a year.

Mrs. Levy is executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Committee on Problems of the Aging and has been serving as consultant to the New York State Committee of One Hundred for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging by appointment of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Her new designation is in accordance with the Governor's announcement at the September meeting of the committee that Mrs. Levy's services on behalf of the aging would be continued after the White House Conference in January and that she would have ready access to his office in carrying her work forward.

The report of the committee recommended the creation of a state agency to "coordinate, stimulate and promote the further development of services to the aging." Mrs. Levy will have offices at 112 State Street, Albany.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The federal government, in the history-making role of coplaintiff, has moved to force the reopening of Prince Edward County's public schools.

In a motion filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis Wednesday, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked the court to prohibit state support of any public schools in Virginia until Prince Edward schools are reopened on integrated basis.

Kennedy said the government's move to intervene in the case was a departure from custom. He said the government has taken part in many school cases as "a friend of the court" but never before has entered such litigation as an active plaintiff.

Attorneys for Negro pupils are scheduled to challenge May 8 the use of public funds to support the private schools set up in the county for white children. The county closed its public schools in 1959 in the face of a federal court integration order.

Arguments on Kennedy's motion may also be heard then.

There was little immediate reaction from state or local officials. Spokesmen for the Negroes expressed satisfaction at the move.

The county board has had no funds with which to operate public schools since 1959. While 1,376 white children have been educated in a private school system, the county's estimated 1,800 school-age Negro children for the most part have gone without any schooling.

Exams Are Slated For U. S. Academy Openings in July

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton has announced that the U. S. Civil Service Commission will conduct a preliminary examination in July for candidates from this area interested in 1962 designation to the U. S. Air Force, Merchant Marine and military academies

Candidates must have attained the age of 17 years and must not have reached the age of 22 as of July 1, 1962; and, be bona-fide residents of Ulster, Greene, Dutchess, Columbia or Schoharie counties.

The 29th Congressional District does not anticipate any Annapolis vacancies, however, one is expected at the Air Force Academy; one at the Military Academy, and 10 names may be submitted to compete for approximately 25 vacancies allotted New York State in the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point.

Application forms may be obtained by writing Congressman Wharton at Room 1009, House Office building, Washington 25, D. C., and completed applications must be on file no later than June 5, 1961.

Science Display At RV Success

The Science Display program at the Rondout Valley High School proved to be popular with parents, students and P.T.F. Club members.

Hundreds turned out to see the display which included science exhibits from the first grade through senior high school. The cake sale conducted by the combined parent organizations of the district also proved popular and the nucleus of a district scholarship fund was realized from the proceeds of the sale.

A brief P.T.F. Club meeting was called at the close of the science display and the following officers were elected to head the high schol organization next year: President Irving Feinberg, First Vice President Merton Blanchard, Second Vice President Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, Secretary Donald Schoonmaker and Treasurer Mrs. Herman Miller.

Weather Delays Little Joe Try

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Cloudy weather today forced indefinite postponement of an attempt to launch a Mercury space capsule in the last test of the emergency escape system before a man trusts his life to it.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in mid-morning that weather conditions were unsuitable and apparently would remain so for at least 24 hours.

The agency said clear skies are essential for photographic purposes.

A Little Joe solid-propellant rocket remained on its stand, ready to send the Mercury space craft aloft in a test of the escape system under the conditions of greatest possible stress.

Railroad Board Agent Assigned To Aid Workers

A U. S. Railroad Retirement Board representative will be at the Central Post Office, 496 Broadway, Room 3 on Wednesday, May 10 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. to assist railroad workers and families in retirement and survivor problems.

The board representative will be available to consult with the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors on any problems about retirement and other matters and answer questions which they may have in connection with the Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts.

The New York Field office services all railroad employers and employes located in several counties including Ulster, Sullivan, Dutchess, Orange and Rockland.

Lana's Ex to Wed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stephen Crane says he and Helen L. Demaree will be married Friday in his Beverly Hills home.

Crane, 44, is the former husband of actress Lana Turner and father of her daughter Cheryl.

Mrs. Demaree, 25, is an interior decorator.

Mrs. Levy Named To Aging Post

Mrs. Marcelle G. Levy, who addressed the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies in Kingston recently, has assumed duties as administrator of the New York State Office for the Aging at a salary of $11,416 a year.

Mrs. Levy is executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Committee on Problems of the Aging and has been serving as consultant to the New York State Committee of One Hundred for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging by appointment of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Her new designation is in accordance with the Governor's announcement at the September meeting of the committee that Mrs. Levy's services on behalf of the aging would be continued after the White House Conference in January and that she would have ready access to his office in carrying her work forward.

The report of the committee recommended the creation of a state agency to "coordinate, stimulate and promote the further development of services to the aging." Mrs. Levy will have offices at 112 State Street, Albany.

News to Be Worse Before It Is Better

Editors' Briefing Carries Out Theme of Kennedy's Union Talk

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — American newspaper editors were prepared this week for what President Kennedy warned about in his State of the Union message last January: The news will be worse before it is better.

For two days in the big auditorium of the State Department Kennedy and some of his top men briefed editors from all over the country on the problems the United States faces abroad in dealing with communism.

Tough Days Ahead

Under the rules laid down nothing they said can be directly attributed to any of them. But if what they said could be boiled down to one sentence this would be it: This country is in for some tough days. There may be wins; but there may also be losses.

The administration is taking seriously Premier Khrushchev's warning—he spoke in January before Kennedy's State of the Union message referred to perilous days ahead—to expect a series of revolutions like the one in Cuba.

At that time Khrushchev said there are three kinds of war:

1. The thermonuclear kind, which the world has escaped so far and which Khrushchev said he wants to avoid.

2. The brush-fire kind—like the Indo-China fighting of 1953-54 and the British-French invasion of Suez in 1956. The Soviet leader said he wants to avoid this kind, too. It could lead to thermonuclear war.

Formidable Task

3. The third class war or national war of liberation, such as Fidel Castro fought in Cuba and the one being waged now by the Algerians against the French. Khrushchev said world communism fully supports this kind.

The administration considers it tough enough to protect a country from external attack but protecting it from the internal, or revolutionary assault, is a truly formidable task.

But the administration — as if trying to cope with Castro and save Laos and South Viet Nam from a Communist take-over were not enough—may get hit by Khrushchev with a new crisis over Berlin in a few months.

Red China Explosive

And in the background, but containing perhaps even more explosive danger, is Red China. Right now it's trying to get on its feet. In a few years, if it develops the atomic bomb, it may start moving.

One high official talked of the Red Chinese this way:

1. The Chinese always have been expansionist. So their claim to Tibet, for instance, is nothing new.

2. But they lack some very important natural resources, like, oil and are horribly short of land.

When they feel strong enough they can turn in three directions:

1. Tell the Russians to move over in Asia to make room for them.

2. Follow a more peaceful path and seek food and other things by trade.

3. Or just try to take what they want—such as natural resources and land—by moving into Southeast Asia.

(What this official didn't allow for is the possibility that in a few years—by the technique of the third class kind of war mentioned by Khrushchev — communism may have gobbled up much of Southeast Asia before China has the bomb at all.)

If you think all this sounds gloomy, the editors were told the administration does not accept the idea that the decline of the West is inevitable.

But an official said: It's possible that in five years the United States will have lost much of its influence in the world.

This kind of talk a dozen years ago—when this country had a monopoly on the hydrogen bomb and before communism began its big drive under Khrushchev — would have been unthinkable by a government official.

It's a good indication of how powerful communism has become and with what misgivings the American government views it.

To Set Standards For Grants Under Incentive Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Board of Regents will adopt academic standards for the state's new, scholar-incentive program at a two-day meeting beginning today.

The Regents will announce the new regulations Friday.

They will specify standards college students must meet to qualify for, and continue to receive, state grants under the incentive program.

The 1961 Legislature approved, at Gov. Rockefeller's recommendation, a plan under which New York students attending colleges within the state will be eligible for grants ranging to $300 a year.

Graduate students who are residents of the state and are studying at a school within the state will be eligible for grants up to $800 a year.

The plan will apply chiefly to students at private institutions, although a relatively small number of students at public colleges also will be eligible.

Chancellor Edgar W. Couper of Binghamton will preside over a meeting of the Regents for the first time today.

He was elected last month to succeed John F. Brosnan of New York who retired.

Also on the schedule for the two-day meeting is the swearing in of Regent Domnick F. Maurillo of New York City Friday for a new term. Presiding Justice Francis Bergan of the Appellate Division, Third Department, will administer the oath.

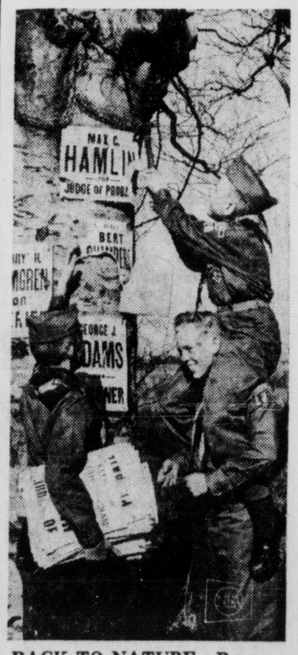
$17,000 for Bridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration will lend Sullivan County, N.Y., $17,000 to help plan construction of a bridge over the Mongaup River between Lumberland and Forestburg.

The bridge will cost $400,000.

Receives Fellowship

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert E. Mates of Cornell University was awarded Wednesday a one-year doctorate fellowship by Standard Oil Foundation Inc. toward furthering a career of college engineering teaching.



BACK TO NATURE—By way of spring cleaning, members of the Manistee County (Mich.) Boy Scout Troop 120 are ripping down old election posters in their "Operation Facelift." Posters will be redeemed for cash by politicians and money will go to Scouts' summer camp fund.

Democratic Rummage Sale Collection Centers Now Open

The Woodstock Democratic Club, which co-sponsored the recent and tremendously successful testimonial dinner for ex-town chairman Louis Lewis, has announced Saturday, June 3, as the date of its annual rummage sale. Always a crowd-attractor, the sale moves this year to a new location, the Woodstock Playhouse, and is scheduled from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Preliminary plans for this all-important fund raising project were formuated at meetings held in the homes of Ms. Elise Twine and Mrs. Jean Gaede. Mrs. Gaede was named, along with Mrs. Betty Biesele, as co-chairman of the sale, and June 3 promises to see a multitude of rummage bargains overflowing the foyer and promenade of the Playhouse. Dozens of local men and women have pledged their wholehearted support towards making the affair an event to be remembered and sub-committees will be named shortly.

Centers Now Open

Storage and collection centers now in operation include: the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilligan, Cooper Lake Road, Bearsville; the cellar of Mrs. Helen Buttrick, Rock City Road near Parnassus Square, Woodstock village; and the garage of Mr. and Mrs. Raph Kricker, Tinker Street, at the intersection near the MacDaniel and Wingert station. Articles may be put inside the Kricker garage, which will be left open at all times, and access to the Buttrick cellar may be gained through an outside door. A collection center will also be established in the heart of the village in the old Lamont Simpkins building, adjacent to the Woodstock Press. Hours of operation will be announced later.

Those who have articles to donate but need them collected may arrange pick-up by calling George Eichler. Volunteers interested in lending a hand with any facet of the sale should contact Mrs. Chester Gaede. The committee is calling for donations of any useabe item of any kind including food, plants, flowers, pictures, picture frames, clothing, books, toys, furniture, etc.

Howard Koch Film-Lecture In Festival Finale Sunday

The Woodstock Festival will present a film-lecture by Howard Koch, Woodstock's noted screen playwright, Sunday, April 30, at 3 p. m. in the Guild Gallery in Woodstock.

Koch will speak on "Present Trends in Flm Making." A similar film-lecture by Koch last year proved a lively and stimulating affair, with considerable audience participation.

The Festival committee feels that the afternoon should prove to be quite interesting for Koch is well qualified to present such a topic. He has just returned from four months in Hollywood where he did the screen play of "Summer World" for Twentieth Century Fox. The picture goes into production in June for release at the end of the year.

Last year, Koch did "The Greengage Summer" which is now playing in London and will have its New York premiere in about a month. He is presently engaged in dramatizing John Hersey's novel "The War Lover" for Columbia Pictures. He has done several pictures frequently seen on television, including the poignant "Letter From an Unknown Woman" and the Academy Award winning screenplay, "Casablanca."

Sunday, Koch will illustrate the new trend in picture making this year by showing Irving Lerner's controversial film "Stude Lonegan" based on the John O'Hara classic.

The film-lecture is the last program in the winter series sponsored by the Woodstock Festival. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Majoros Heads Rec Committee; Schwarz Returns

John M. Majoros, who served as summer playground director for several years, has been appointed chairman of the Woodstock Recreation Committtee for 1961.

Majoros was named along with five other members of the committee by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux at a special meeting of the Town Board on Tuesday.

Other members of the committee are: John J. Bennett, Joseph S. Forno, Cedric Newton, Kermit Schwarz and James Nancarvis. Schwarz was chairman for several years while Majoros was playground director. He resigned late in 1960 due to pressure of business, but recently notified Supervisor Molyneaux that he would be available to serve as a committee member this year.

Councilman Tobie Geertsema, who had voiced objections to the makeup of the 1961 committee at a previous meeting, was unable to attend the special session because of a medical appointment. Mrs. Geertsema had scored the lack of new faces on the committee and pointed up the possibility of conflict of interest involving one member.

Seek Damages

Supervisor Molyneaux serves as ex-officio member of the committee. The motion to approve the committee as recommended by the supervisor was made by Supervisor Molyneaux and approved by a 4-0 vote. Other board members present were Councilman John Pike and Justices of the Peace Charles A. Farley and Rudi Baumgarten.

The supervisor asked and received board authorization to seek recovery for damages inflicted on the Village Green by a motorist several months ago. The motorist, identified only as Allison Finch, demolished a tree on the green in an early morning accident. His address or identity has never been established beyond a Kingston post office box number.

The special meeting was attended by three representatives of the Willow, Lake Hill, Shady taxpayers Association, a League of Women Voters observer and two members of the press.

Woodstock Swim Club Readying For 2nd Season

The Woodstock Estates Swim Club after its successful season last year will again offer outstanding swimming facilities to the residents of Woodstock starting Saturday, May 27.

The facilities of the Woodstock Estates Swim Club include a heated filtered swimming pool, with fully qualified life guard on duty, diving board, bath house, snack bar and soda fountain, badminton, table tennis, chess, checkers, bridge, the lodge, tennis court, 3000 feet of trout stream and 21 acres of landscaped grounds.

Professional swimming instruction will be available. Mrs. Jo McKim Chalmers, who was a member of two Olympic teams and is an Olympic Gold Medal winner and also former all around AAU freestyle champion, will teach swimming. She has taught beginners and advanced students including adult swimmers of Olympic calibre.

Membership includes free use of all facilities except the tennis court. Due to the high cost of maintaining a first class clay tennis court there will be an hourly rate charged for use of the court. Reservations may be made for use of the court.

Membership in the Woodstock Estates Swim Club will be limited and the membership fee will be determined by the number of people in the family and the ages of their children. The club policy is to achieve a balanced membership not dominated by any one age group.

While the games and grounds are available to all members at all times, children's swimming periods will be scheduled so as to allow for their mealtimes and to permit adults to better enjoy the pool.

Mrs. Werner in Program Before Methodist Group

GRACE WERNER

The Women's Society of the Overlook Methodist Church in Woodstock is looking forward to its All Season's Tea to be held in the church hall on Friday, April 28, at 8 p. m.

The highlight of the evening will be the program featuring the gifted and brilliant interpreter of literature, Grace Werner, wife of the Rev. George Werner, Kingston District Superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Werner is nationally known for her creative ability and for platform programs of gay comedy or serious drama and book reviews. She will do a program of scenes from several writings and will review part of the book, "The Answer" by Philip Wylie.

Mrs. Ralph Carlsen is general chairman of the tea. Mrs. Jack Garside is chairman of refreshments with assistance from Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds, and Mrs. Harry L. Mirick Jr.

The following members will have charge of table decorations: January — Mrs. Harley Shultis, Mrs. Stanley Shultis; February — Mrs. Ralph Carlen, Mrs. Russell Fox; March — Mrs. Claude Potter, Mrs. Trevor Williams; April — Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds, Mrs. Vernon De Graff; May — Mrs. Elizabeth Clough, Mrs. Carl Harrington; June — Mrs. William Elliott, Mrs. Richard Gray; July — Mrs. David Logan, Mrs. James Cook; August — Mrs. Ralph Carlen, Mrs. Harry Mirick Jr.; September — Mrs. Freilan VanDeBogart, Mrs. Elliott Ostrander; October — Mrs. Earl Buton, Mrs. Harry Mirick Jr.; November — Mrs. Newton Shultis, Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg; December — Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. John Marcato.

Bishops' Appeal Set Sunday in Overlook Church

"The Bishops' Appeal for Africa" special offering will be received Sunday in Overlook Methodist Church. The Bishops of the Methodist Church are asking Methodists to give at least two-and one-half million dollars for this special cause. The money will be used to: send food to stricken areas; provide emergency medical services; establish mobile clinics; provide emergency transportation; set up (with other denominations) Congo Polytechnic Institute; give overseas scholarships to young men and women; upgrade secondary education; help establish a Junior College in Rhodesia, aid training programs for doctors, nurses, ministers, and government workers, and business administrators.

The sermon for Sunday will be "The Church Reaches Out". Sunday school for all above 6 years old begins at 9:45. The 3-6 year olds have Sunday school at 11 a. m. Worship at 11 a. m. Nursery provided during worship hour.

Last Sunday Kenneth Lyle James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig James of Woodstock Gardens was baptized.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will have an All Seasons Tea Friday evening at 8. Mrs. Grace Werner will be th guest speaker.

A Special Quarterly Conference will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the church hall for the purpose of approving the purchase of land by the church. The District Supt., Rev. George Werner, will preside at the meeting.

Democratic Rummage Sale Collection Centers Now Open

The Woodstock Democratic Club, which co-sponsored the recent and tremendously successful testimonial dinner for ex-town chairman Louis Lewis, has announced Saturday, June 3, as the date of its annual rummage sale. Always a crowd-attractor, the sale moves this year to a new location, the Woodstock Playhouse, and is scheduled from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Preliminary plans for this all-important fund raising project were formuated at meetings held in the homes of Ms. Elise Twine and Mrs. Jean Gaede. Mrs. Gaede was named, along with Mrs. Betty Biesele, as co-chairman of the sale, and June 3 promises to see a multitude of rummage bargains overflowing the foyer and promenade of the Playhouse. Dozens of local men and women have pledged their wholehearted support towards making the affair an event to be remembered and sub-committees will be named shortly.

Centers Now Open

Storage and collection centers now in operation include: the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilligan, Cooper Lake Road, Bearsville; the cellar of Mrs. Helen Buttrick, Rock City Road near Parnassus Square, Woodstock village; and the garage of Mr. and Mrs. Raph Kricker, Tinker Street, at the intersection near the MacDaniel and Wingert station. Articles may be put inside the Kricker garage, which will be left open at all times, and access to the Buttrick cellar may be gained through an outside door. A collection center will also be established in the heart of the village in the old Lamont Simpkins building, adjacent to the Woodstock Press. Hours of operation will be announced later.

Those who have articles to donate but need them collected may arrange pick-up by calling George Eichler. Volunteers interested in lending a hand with any facet of the sale should contact Mrs. Chester Gaede. The committee is calling for donations of any useabe item of any kind including food, plants, flowers, pictures, picture frames, clothing, books, toys, furniture, etc.

Howard Koch Film-Lecture In Festival Finale Sunday

The Woodstock Festival will present a film-lecture by Howard Koch, Woodstock's noted screen playwright, Sunday, April 30, at 3 p. m. in the Guild Gallery in Woodstock.

Koch will speak on "Present Trends in Flm Making." A similar film-lecture by Koch last year proved a lively and stimulating affair, with considerable audience participation.

The Festival committee feels that the afternoon should prove to be quite interesting for Koch is well qualified to present such a topic. He has just returned from four months in Hollywood where he did the screen play of "Summer World" for Twentieth Century Fox. The picture goes into production in June for release at the end of the year.

Last year, Koch did "The Greengage Summer" which is now playing in London and will have its New York premiere in about a month. He is presently engaged in dramatizing John Hersey's novel "The War Lover" for Columbia Pictures. He has done several pictures frequently seen on television, including the poignant "Letter From an Unknown Woman" and the Academy Award winning screenplay, "Casablanca."

Sunday, Koch will illustrate the new trend in picture making this year by showing Irving Lerner's controversial film "Stude Lonegan" based on the John O'Hara classic.

The film-lecture is the last program in the winter series sponsored by the Woodstock Festival. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Majoros Heads Rec Committee; Schwarz Returns

John M. Majoros, who served as summer playground director for several years, has been appointed chairman of the Woodstock Recreation Committtee for 1961.

Majoros was named along with five other members of the committee by Supervisor Abram F. Molyneaux at a special meeting of the Town Board on Tuesday.

Other members of the committee are: John J. Bennett, Joseph S. Forno, Cedric Newton, Kermit Schwarz and James Nancarvis. Schwarz was chairman for several years while Majoros was playground director. He resigned late in 1960 due to pressure of business, but recently notified Supervisor Molyneaux that he would be available to serve as a committee member this year.

Councilman Tobie Geertsema, who had voiced objections to the makeup of the 1961 committee at a previous meeting, was unable to attend the special session because of a medical appointment. Mrs. Geertsema had scored the lack of new faces on the committee and pointed up the possibility of conflict of interest involving one member.

Seek Damages

Supervisor Molyneaux serves as ex-officio member of the committee. The motion to approve the committee as recommended by the supervisor was made by Supervisor Molyneaux and approved by a 4-0 vote. Other board members present were Councilman John Pike and Justices of the Peace Charles A. Farley and Rudi Baumgarten.

The supervisor asked and received board authorization to seek recovery for damages inflicted on the Village Green by a motorist several months ago. The motorist, identified only as Allison Finch, demolished a tree on the green in an early morning accident. His address or identity has never been established beyond a Kingston post office box number.

The special meeting was attended by three representatives of the Willow, Lake Hill, Shady taxpayers Association, a League of Women Voters observer and two members of the press.

Woodstock Swim Club Readying For 2nd Season

The Woodstock Estates Swim Club after its successful season last year will again offer outstanding swimming facilities to the residents of Woodstock starting Saturday, May 27.

The facilities of the Woodstock Estates Swim Club include a heated filtered swimming pool, with fully qualified life guard on duty, diving board, bath house, snack bar and soda fountain, badminton, table tennis, chess, checkers, bridge, the lodge, tennis court, 3000 feet of trout stream and 21 acres of landscaped grounds.

Professional swimming instruction will be available. Mrs. Jo McKim Chalmers, who was a member of two Olympic teams and is an Olympic Gold Medal winner and also former all around AAU freestyle champion, will teach swimming. She has taught beginners and advanced students including adult swimmers of Olympic calibre.

Membership includes free use of all facilities except the tennis court. Due to the high cost of maintaining a first class clay tennis court there will be an hourly rate charged for use of the court. Reservations may be made for use of the court.

Membership in the Woodstock Estates Swim Club will be limited and the membership fee will be determined by the number of people in the family and the ages of their children. The club policy is to achieve a balanced membership not dominated by any one age group.

While the games and grounds are available to all members at all times, children's swimming periods will be scheduled so as to allow for their mealtimes and to permit adults to better enjoy the pool.

Mrs. Werner in Program Before Methodist Group

GRACE WERNER

The Women's Society of the Overlook Methodist Church in Woodstock is looking forward to its All Season's Tea to be held in the church hall on Friday, April 28, at 8 p. m.

The highlight of the evening will be the program featuring the gifted and brilliant interpreter of literature, Grace Werner, wife of the Rev. George Werner, Kingston District Superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Werner is nationally known for her creative ability and for platform programs of gay comedy or serious drama and book reviews. She will do a program of scenes from several writings and will review part of the book, "The Answer" by Philip Wylie.

Mrs. Ralph Carlsen is general chairman of the tea. Mrs. Jack Garside is chairman of refreshments with assistance from Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds, and Mrs. Harry L. Mirick Jr.

The following members will have charge of table decorations: January — Mrs. Harley Shultis, Mrs. Stanley Shultis; February — Mrs. Ralph Carlen, Mrs. Russell Fox; March — Mrs. Claude Potter, Mrs. Trevor Williams; April — Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds, Mrs. Vernon De Graff; May — Mrs. Elizabeth Clough, Mrs. Carl Harrington; June — Mrs. William Elliott, Mrs. Richard Gray; July — Mrs. David Logan, Mrs. James Cook; August — Mrs. Ralph Carlen, Mrs. Harry Mirick Jr.; September — Mrs. Freilan VanDeBogart, Mrs. Elliott Ostrander; October — Mrs. Earl Buton, Mrs. Harry Mirick Jr.; November — Mrs. Newton Shultis, Mrs. Kenneth Vredenburg; December — Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. John Marcato.

Bishops' Appeal Set Sunday in Overlook Church

"The Bishops' Appeal for Africa" special offering will be received Sunday in Overlook Methodist Church. The Bishops of the Methodist Church are asking Methodists to give at least two-and one-half million dollars for this special cause. The money will be used to: send food to stricken areas; provide emergency medical services; establish mobile clinics; provide emergency transportation; set up (with other denominations) Congo Polytechnic Institute; give overseas scholarships to young men and women; upgrade secondary education; help establish a Junior College in Rhodesia, aid training programs for doctors, nurses, ministers, and government workers, and business administrators.

The sermon for Sunday will be "The Church Reaches Out". Sunday school for all above 6 years old begins at 9:45. The 3-6 year olds have Sunday school at 11 a. m. Worship at 11 a. m. Nursery provided during worship hour.

Last Sunday Kenneth Lyle James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig James of Woodstock Gardens was baptized.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will have an All Seasons Tea Friday evening at 8. Mrs. Grace Werner will be th guest speaker.

A Special Quarterly Conference will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the church hall for the purpose of approving the purchase of land by the church. The District Supt., Rev. George Werner, will preside at the meeting.

New Pay Scale Set For Parole Officer

With twenty vacancies existing for the position of parole officers in New York State, a new pay scale has been put into effect which it is hoped will attract more applicants.

The old salary scale was from $5,516 to $6,996 and the new scale recently put into effect is from $5,280 to $7,620. In order to fill vacancies, applications will be received by the New York State Department of Civil Service from outside the state.

The salary scale for Ulster County director of probation, who does work similar to the assignment of the state parole officers, ranges from $4,800 to $5,100.

Jayncees Plan Future Projects

The Saugerties Jayncees discussed plans for the annual sweetmobile project, the joint Jaycee-Jayncee installation dinner and many other projects at the business meeting Monday night following a dinner held at the Katsbaan Inn.

The most immediate project of the ladies is the assistance they are lending the Jaycees' Operation Survival. They plan to stock the fall-out shelter the men are building on the Amrod property with canned goods, medical supplies and other necessary items.

Plans were also discussed for the installation dinner at the Flamingo Restaurant June 10, a covered dish supper on May 13 at the Whitestone Inn, and the sweetmobile annual sale scheduled May 25.

The Jayncees also voted to donate funds for the purchase of two books for the Saugerties public library. The organization has shown continued interest in the library as one of its civic projects, which includes the weekly Story Hour for small children on Saturday, the flowers and other decorations that are placed on the mantel above the fireplace in the children's reading room, and their assistance in repairing old books.

The Jayncees will sponsor the block dance July 3 on Main Street, at which time the Jaycees' beard growing contest will be judged.

The Mid-Hudson regional meeting will be held this Saturday at Deanie's in Woodstock with dinner at 1:30 p. m.

The next monthly meeting will be held on May 22 at the home of Mrs. George Turner, Louis Avenue, Simmons Park.

Jayncees Plan Future Projects

The Saugerties Jayncees discussed plans for the annual sweetmobile project, the joint Jaycee-Jayncee installation dinner and many other projects at the business meeting Monday night following a dinner held at the Katsbaan Inn.

The most immediate project of the ladies is the assistance they are lending the Jaycees' Operation Survival. They plan to stock the fall-out shelter the men are building on the Amrod property with canned goods, medical supplies and other necessary items.

Plans were also discussed for the installation dinner at the Flamingo Restaurant June 10, a covered dish supper on May 13 at the Whitestone Inn, and the sweetmobile annual sale scheduled May 25.

The Jayncees also voted to donate funds for the purchase of two books for the Saugerties public library. The organization has shown continued interest in the library as one of its civic projects, which includes the weekly Story Hour for small children on Saturday, the flowers and other decorations that are placed on the mantel above the fireplace in the children's reading room, and their assistance in repairing old books.

The Jayncees will sponsor the block dance July 3 on Main Street, at which time the Jaycees' beard growing contest will be judged.

The Mid-Hudson regional meeting will be held this Saturday at Deanie's in Woodstock with dinner at 1:30 p. m.

The next monthly meeting will be held on May 22 at the home of Mrs. George Turner, Louis Avenue, Simmons Park.

Gross Farm Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The gross income last year from eggs, farm chickens and commercial broilers totaled $2.9 billion. This compared with $2.7 billion in 1959.

Of the 1960 gross income, the Agriculture Department said 61 per cent was from eggs, 34 per cent from commercial broilers and 5 per cent from farm chickens.

The department said eggs brought poultrymen an average of 36 cents a dozen in 1960 compared with 31.4 cents in 1959. Farm chickens brought 12.2 cents and 11 cents a pound, respectively, and broilers 16.9 and 16.1 cents a pound, respectively.

JFK Leaves Today For First Talks Since Inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy takes off for New York this afternoon on his first speaking trip since his inauguration.

Tonight he addresses a New York dinner given by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, and Friday flies to Chicago to address a Cook County Democratic dinner.

The President's talk to the publishers is likely to bear on the role of the press in crisis-ridden times and could range over both international and domestic problems.

The emphasis in his Chicago speech is expected to be on domestic topics.

The Democratic dinner in Chicago will be the first party rally Kennedy has attended since taking office, but White House aides said his remarks would not be partisan in a political sense.

Kennedy is due to leave National Airport for New York at about mid-afternoon after spending the earlier part of the day at work. He called the National Security Council together this morning for its second meeting within a week.

The President has left Washington in the three months of his presidency to confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Key West, Fla.; to spend an Easter vacation at his family's home in West Palm Beach, Fla., and to meet former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at Camp David in Maryland last Saturday. Otherwise he has stayed in Washington except for weekends at his rented estate near Middleburg, Va.

Woodstock

the Woodstock Riding Club Registry is the Morgan stallion Jamestown, American Morgan Horse register No. 12507, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayone of Glasco.

Jamestown, a dark liver colored beauty with a white star on his forehead, was foaled in June 1959 at the Voorhis farm in Red Hook. Mr. and Mrs. Mayone purchased him in June 1960 and are now training him as a fine harness driving and English Saddle Horse.

Nikki Ketchum of Woodstock is trying out a muscular bay quarter horse this week named Sparky the Second. Sparky is a fine looking horse and if Miss Ketchum finds his performance satisfactory she intends to purchase him.

'The Master's Hand' Sunday Sermon Topic At Shady Methodist

The regular Sunday evening church service at 7:30 at the Methodist Church of Shady will find the Rev. H. Chase Page preaching on the subject "The Master's Hand." The public is cordially invited to attend this service and the coffee and fellowship hour held directly after the service in the church hall.

Classes for all ages are provided at the Sunday School held every Sunday morning at 10:30 in the church. Arthur MacDaniel is superintendent of the church school.

The Official Board of the church will hold its regular meeting at 8 p. m. in the church hall on Friday, May 5. All members of the board are urged to attend this meeting.

The Guild Shop Opens on May 2

Following the usual April closing, the Guild Shop of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will reopen Tuesday, May 2, with daily hours from 1 to 5:30, Saturdays from 10 to 5:30 The shop is closed on Mondays.

Several new assignments of craftsmanship are expected and among them are very likely to be found just the object that lends new life to wall, shelf or table in keeping with the good spirit of spring cleaning and rejuvenation. Fine craftsmanship in large or small creation is coming strongly to the fore in home decoration and it is not too early to keep an eye alert for some delightful object for the June bride's gift.

District Attorney David Corwin of New Paltz will address the monthly meeting of the Woodstock Republican Club tonight at 8 o'clock at Deanie's upstairs.

Play Postponed

The Onteora Central School production, "Always Leave Them Smiling," originally scheduled tonight and Friday, has been postponed temporarily.

'59 Tax Program One Point of Discord

Upstate Fence-Mending Major Task for Rocky Prior to '62

By ROBERT T. GRAY

Republicans report the governor is expected to do a good deal of speechmaking and other visiting Upstate throughout the rest of this year as a preliminary to his formal campaign for re-election in 1962.

GOP strategists agree that Rockefeller's popularity has slipped in Republican strongholds upstate.

Party Standing Another

A major reason is the 1959 tax program, which brought record increases. But there is more to the question of the governor's standing in his own party in the state.

At the moment, it is a good political guess that the governor could be re-elected, despite the dissatisfaction and grumbling in many Republican quarters.

Democrats are disorganized and hard-pressed to find a candidate to match Rockefeller's polished, campaign techniques.

The Democrats have indicated that one of their major anti-Rockefeller weapons will be a charge that his 1959 tax program resulted in excessive taxation.

This is a politically sensitive issue Upstate. The governor's statisticians have reams of figures to buttress their argument that the tax boost had little effect on low-income families and most middle-income families.

To Air Other Benefits

But the main Republican counter-attack is expected to be waged by Rockefeller personally in visits to Upstate areas.

He will talk about the money that communities have received or will receive from his administration for schools, roads, state buildings, and aid to college students.

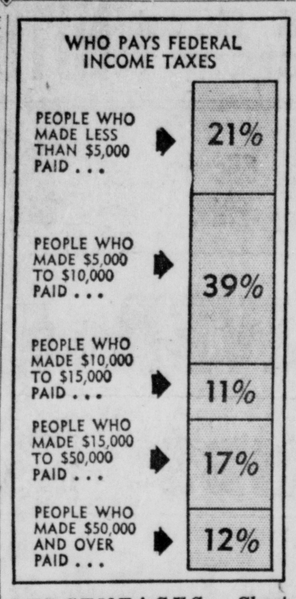
One of the main targets being discussed for the fence-mending operation is Syracuse, considered a chief, Republican problem area.

Voters there defeated the Assembly majority leader, Charles A. Schoeneck Jr., and elected a Democrat last November. The fact Scheoneck had supported the Rockefeller tax-increase plan was considered one of the main reasons for his defeat.

During his Upstate forays, the governor is expected to discuss the tax increase in terms of the resulting higher state payments to localities.

There probably will not be too much emphasis on the big-city phase of his program — aid to commuter railroads, anti - bias housing legislation and a $15-million state theatre building.

This will be offered in his New York City campaigning this year on behalf of the Republican candidate for mayor, and next year in Rockefeller's own campaign.



PERCENTAGES— Chart above, based on latest data available (1957) shows the shares of federal income taxes paid by different income groups. People who earned $10,000 dollars and under accounted for 60 per cent of the total. Source: U.S. Treasury Dept.

Last Veto for Obscure Bill

Rockefeller's final veto of the 1961 bill-signing period -- Number 323 — went to an obscure bill "to amend the Legislative law, in relation to the legislative library, the legislative librarian and assistants."

While the governor usually explains his vetoes in detail, this message was a curt rejection: "There has been no demonstration of necessity for this bill. The bill is disapproved."

The measure involved a little Republican family fight. Sponsored by Sen. Austin Erwin, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the measure would have taken from the lieutenant-governor his authority to appoint the legislative librarians.

This patronage, among the little at the disposal of the lieutenant governor, would have gone to Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney.

Rockefeller thus turned down Erwin and stood by Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson in rejecting the move.

'59 Tax Program One Point of Discord

Upstate Fence-Mending Major Task for Rocky Prior to '62

By ROBERT T. GRAY

Republicans report the governor is expected to do a good deal of speechmaking and other visiting Upstate throughout the rest of this year as a preliminary to his formal campaign for re-election in 1962.

GOP strategists agree that Rockefeller's popularity has slipped in Republican strongholds upstate.

Party Standing Another

A major reason is the 1959 tax program, which brought record increases. But there is more to the question of the governor's standing in his own party in the state.

At the moment, it is a good political guess that the governor could be re-elected, despite the dissatisfaction and grumbling in many Republican quarters.

Democrats are disorganized and hard-pressed to find a candidate to match Rockefeller's polished, campaign techniques.

The Democrats have indicated that one of their major anti-Rockefeller weapons will be a charge that his 1959 tax program resulted in excessive taxation.

This is a politically sensitive issue Upstate. The governor's statisticians have reams of figures to buttress their argument that the tax boost had little effect on low-income families and most middle-income families.

To Air Other Benefits

But the main Republican counter-attack is expected to be waged by Rockefeller personally in visits to Upstate areas.

He will talk about the money that communities have received or will receive from his administration for schools, roads, state buildings, and aid to college students.

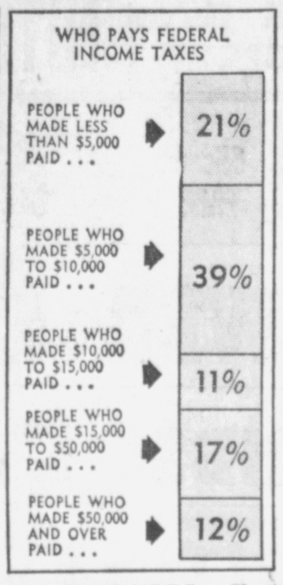
One of the main targets being discussed for the fence-mending operation is Syracuse, considered a chief, Republican problem area.

Voters there defeated the Assembly majority leader, Charles A. Schoeneck Jr., and elected a Democrat last November. The fact Scheoneck had supported the Rockefeller tax-increase plan was considered one of the main reasons for his defeat.

During his Upstate forays, the governor is expected to discuss the tax increase in terms of the resulting higher state payments to localities.

There probably will not be too much emphasis on the big-city phase of his program — aid to commuter railroads, anti-bias housing legislation and a $15-million state theatre building.

This will be offered in his New York City campaigning this year on behalf of the Republican candidate for mayor, and next year in Rockefeller's own campaign.



PERCENTAGES — Chart above, based on latest data available (1957) shows the shares of federal income taxes paid by different income groups. People who earned $10,000 dollars and under accounted for 60 per cent of the total. Source: U.S. Treasury Dept.

Last Veto for Obscure Bill

Rockefeller's final veto of the 1961 bill-signing period — Number 323 — went to an obscure bill "to amend the Legislative law, in relation to the legislative library, the legislative librarian and assistants."

While the governor usually explains his vetoes in detail, this message was a curt rejection: "There has been no demonstration of necessity for this bill. The bill is disapproved."

The measure involved a little Republican family fight. Sponsored by Sen. Austin Erwin, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the measure would have taken from the lieutenant-governor his authority to appoint the legislative librarians.

This patronage, among the little at the disposal of the lieutenant governor, would have gone to Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney.

Rockefeller thus turned down Erwin and stood by Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson in rejecting the move.

President to Get $200 Million Aid For Jobless Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate plans to send President Kennedy today legislation carrying an estimated $200 million in benefits for needy children of unemployed parents.

The House quickly cleared the compromise bill Wednesday. No Senate opposition is apparent.

This will be the sixth of the 16 items on Kennedy's legislative priority list to reach the White House. He submitted the list in February and has since expanded it considerably.

The fifth point to be cleared by Congress, the $394 million depressed areas bill, was passed by the House Wednesday and sent to the White House. Kennedy is expected to sign it today.

Another major item on the list, minimum wage legislation, virtually was wrapped up in final form Wednesday by Senate-House conferees. Full agreement is to be reached on Monday, with floor votes coming up later next week. A bitter fight is expected in the House, since the compromise bill will be close to the Senate version.

Two other of the 16 points are expected to make progress today in Senate subcommittees.

The housing group plans to complete its work on the President's $3.2 billion 1961 housing legislation.

The education subcommittee headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., begins its closed-door consideration of the $2.3 billion public grade and high school grant bill.

Spring Surely Here, Birds Cut Off C-H Power

MAYBROOK, N. Y. (AP) — If there was any doubt of spring's arrival in Orange County, it was dispelled today.

Birds building a nest atop a transformer of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Co. caused a short circuit that cut off power to 3,850 homes in the area. Service was restored after 44 minutes.

20-Day Strike Over

46 Markets Open Friday, 229 to Start on Monday

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The P&C food chain rushed in fresh supplies to open its 46 supermarkets Friday and five other chains prepared to open 229 other Upstate stores Monday after settlement of a costly 20-day strike.

The Amalgamated Meatcutters, Butchers and Affiliated Crafts Union and representatives of five supermarket chains reached a compromise agreement on a contract late Wednesday afternoon.

The affected chains—A&P, Loblaw, Acme, P&C and Victory-Johnson—had been closed since the union struck 75 Loblaw stores April 7.

Over 8,000 Idled

In all, 275 supermarkets were closed and more than 8,000 clerks and meatcutters idled in an area from Albany to Rochester and into Northeastern Pennsylvania.

An additional 1,200 truckers and warehousemen represented by the Teamsters Union and Bakery Workers lost work.

The union won a healthier wage increase than management offered but agreed to drop its bid for a contractual pension plan. Management agreed to continue its present welfare and health benefits to 4,000 part-time workers, which represent half of the union membership.

Two-Year Contract

The parties agreed to a two-year contract that grants $5 raises each year to men working in meat departments and for all department heads and cashiers.

Other full-time employes get $4-weekly raises each year and part-time journeymen in the meat department will receive 12½ cents an hour more each year. Other part-time employes will receive 10 cents an hour additional each year.

Pre-strike wage scales ranged from $57 for women clerks to $124.50 for meat-department managers. Part-time workers received between $1.32 and $1.85 an hour.

Approximately half of the union's more than 8,000 members are weekend workers.

Federal mediators said the union agreed to drop its bid for a contractural pension plan for all five companies and other "lesser demands."

Both sides agreed to drop unfair labor practice charges filed during the strike.

In a settlement statement, both sides pledged a "sincere effort to provide advanced training in line with seniority recognition and that management would have the final word on promotions."

Management also agreed to continue its present contributions toward health and welfare benefits for part-time workers.

The joint statement said:

"We exceedingly regret that this unfortunate incident has inconvenienced the public and we do hope that as a result of this settlement there will be a closer relationship between management, the union and the employes."

Marlon, Anna to Court

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Marlon Brando and Anna Kashfi, his former wife, are due in court today in the latest legal round to their continuing feud over their son, Christian, 3.

Brando claims that Miss Kashfi defied a 1960 court order by refusing to let him visit the boy three times earlier this month. Miss Kashfi has permanent custody of the child, but Brando has visiting rights.

Saugerties Girl, Cornelius J. Houser Are Wed at St. Joseph's Church on April 22nd

MRS. CORNELIUS J. HOUSER

Exchanging nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Church 3 p. m. Saturday, April 22, were Miss Kathleen Patricia Nolan of Saugerties and Cornelius James Houser of this city.

The Rev. James V. Keating, assistant pastor, officiated. Robert Gallo, soloist, sang Ave Maria and Mother Beloved, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Rafferty, organist. The church was decorated with white gladioli and satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Pearson of Saugerties and the late James Patrick Nolan. Mr. Houser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius V. Houser of Harwich Street.

Escorted in marriage by her step-father, Frank Pearson, the bride was attired in an off white brocade satin gown styled with a bouffant tiered skirt of pleats and brocaded satin. Her satin brocade headpiece secured her shoulder length veil. She carried calla lilies with a satin bow.

Miss Bonnie Hartfuer of West Hurley was maid of honor. She was attired in a lilac silk organza gown and carried deep purple gladioli with a satin bow.

Other bridal attendants were Rose Post of Flatbush Road, Lorraine Crane of Glenerie Lake Park and Mrs. Jaqueline Nolan, of Saugerties, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore lilac organza gowns and carried old fashiorned violet bouquets with miniature pink roses.

Joseph Stein of Stone Ridge was best man. Ushers were John Nolan of Flatbush Road and James Nolan of Saugerties, brothers of the bride and Stanley Warren of Kingston.

Approximately 110 guests attended a reception at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

For a wedding trip to the Poconos, Mrs. Houser chose a royal blue and white cashmere suit with a white coat. Her corsage was of royal blue and white aramones and lilies of the valley. The couple will make their home in Sawkill.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's School, Academy of St. Ursula and Marymount Junior College, Va. She is employed at Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

Mr. Houser, a graduate of Kingston High School is employed by International Business Machines, Kingston.

Ulster Garden Club Hears Woodstock Author at Meeting

A regular meeting of the Ulster Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. William T. Fuller on Noone Street recently.

Alf Evers of Woodstock, well known author, gave a lecture on "White Men and Green Plants in the Hudson Valley."

Mr. Evers has written books for children and adults about the changing animal and plant life in the Hudson Valley. As part of his lecture, he emphasized the use of plans for medicinal purposes, practical and landscaping purposes.

The flower show will be held Thursday, May 18 and Friday, May 19 at the Ulster County Savings Institution, it was announced. Public is invited to participate and attend. Mrs. Gifford Beal, entries chairman, will receive exhibitors' names until May 1. Details may be obtained from the chairmen, Mrs. Burton Davis or Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

Spring bulbs which were donated by the Ulster Garden Club last fall may now be seen in full bloom in the Senate House Garden.

Card Parties

School No. 2

The P-TA of School No. 2 will have its annual card party on May 3 in the school gym at 8:15 p. m. Public is cordially invited. Tickets will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to transport the sixth grade children to New York to places of educational interest.

Annual Meeting of YWCA Is Held; Seven Are Elected to Board of Directors Here

At the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association held Tuesday, April 25, seven women were elected to the Board of Directors. They are Mrs. Alfred S. Querdon, Miss Jean Harvey, Mrs. James F. Snyder, Miss Mary Staples, Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge, Mrs. John Warren and Mrs. Merrill Yaple.

The committee making the nominations consisted of Miss Helen Anderson, Mrs. Walter Danford and Mrs. John Hill, in cooperation with the membership committee, Miss Rose Crocchiolo, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, Mrs. Henry Millonig Sr. and Mrs. Robert Murray.

Mrs. Warren, president, presided during the meeting. Reports were given by the officers.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Raymond Rignall. Her topic was "Gutaemala". Mrs. Rignall spoke about the conditions in Latin America and the need for more understanding and feeling for their culture. Mrs. Rignall's late husband spent many years in Latin America in the service of the U. S. Government. Mrs. Rignall also remarked that Tri-Hi of Arlington, Va., has adopted the school in Guatemala which was named for Mr. Rignall. Members are sending the school supplies of paper, pencils and other school materials.

Dinnerstein Has One-Man Show At New York Gallery

Harvey Dinnerstein, Poughkeepsie, art instructor in the Evening Division at Dutchess Community College, is currently exhibiting drawings in a one-man show at the Davis Galleries in New York City.

Included in the exhibition which will continue through May 20, are several intimate family scenes and incisive views of the streets of Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. Mr. Dinnerstein's exhibited work, ranging from quick and masterful fragmentary sketches to fully-rendered pastel portraits and foliage studies, testifies to his versatility and fine draughtsmanship.

Mr. Dinnerstein is also exhibiting a number of his lithograph prints in a group show at the Peridot Gallery in New York City; they will be on display through May 13.

Jewelry Hint

With costume jewelry more colorful this spring than ever, be sure that the jewelry you choose complements complexion, costume, and shape of your face so that you will receive the most benefit from this important fashion accessory.

Area Students Star In New Paltz Play

Three area students participated in the New Paltz Players production of Brigadoon April 20-22 at the State University College of Education, New Paltz. They are:

Robert Bogart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kordzikowski of 27 Harding Avenue, this city, who played the role of Tommy.

Miss Pamela Kraniak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Kraniak of Hurley who was a chorus member.

Donn Avallone, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Every of Route 5, Kingston, who was a dancer.

Brigadoon was the dramatic contribution to the First Annual Fine Arts Weekend held at the college. Other events included a faculty art exhibit; the annual Beaux Arts Ball, a costume dance; a musicale and tea; and a showing of Bicycle Thief and the Ballet of Romeo and Juliet.

Saugerties Girl, Cornelius J. Houser Are Wed at St. Joseph's Church on April 22nd

Exchanging nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Church 3 p. m. Saturday, April 22, were Miss Kathleen Patricia Nolan of Saugerties and Cornelius James Houser of this city.

The Rev. James V. Keating, assistant pastor, officiated. Robert Gallo, soloist, sang Ave Maria and Mother Beloved, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Rafferty, organist. The church was decorated with white gladioli and satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Pearson of Saugerties and the late James Patrick Nolan. Mr. Houser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius V. Houser of Harwich Street.

Escorted in marriage by her step-father, Frank Pearson, the bride was attired in an off white brocade satin gown styled with a bouffant tiered skirt of pleats and brocaded satin. Her satin brocade headpiece secured her shoulder length veil. She carried calla lilies with a satin bow.

Miss Bonnie Hartfuer of West Hurley was maid of honor. She was attired in a lilac silk organza gown and carried deep purple gladioli with a satin bow.

Other bridal attendants were Rose Post of Flatbush Road, Lorraine Crane of Glenerie Lake Park and Mrs. Jaqueline Nolan, of Saugerties, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore lilac organza gowns and carried old fashiorned violet bouquets with miniature pink roses.

Joseph Stein of Stone Ridge was best man. Ushers were John Nolan of Flatbush Road and James Nolan of Saugerties, brothers of the bride and Stanley Warren of Kingston.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's School, Academy of St. Ursula and Marymount Junior College, Va. She is employed at Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

Mr. Houser, a graduate of Kingston High School is employed by International Business Machines, Kingston.

Hurley Flower Luncheon Is Planned For Saturday, May 6

Final plans for the Hurley spring flower luncheon made by general chairman, Mrs. Frank Race, name Mrs. Severyn J. Hasbrouck and Mrs. Peter R. Palen in charge of luncheon menu and Mrs. Clifford A. Henze, publicity.

The luncheon sponsored by the Guild for Christian Service of the Hurley Reformed Church, Route 209, will be held Saturday, May 6 in the education building, at 12:30 to 2, followed by a card party of the game of the players choice. The award for each table will be from the Kathryn Schoonmaker Gift Shop.

For the convenience of mothers wishing to attend, there will be child supervision, for children ages 3-12, refreshments and entertainment, supervised by Mrs. Earl Wright and assistants.

The spring flower arrangements, decorations for the hall, are to be done by Mrs. George Brown.

Mrs. Albert Byrne, in charge of the dining room, will have as her waitresses, Mrs. Randall Kelder, Mrs. Richard Ruth, Mrs. James Keator, Mrs. Allan Drake, Mrs. Raymond Croswell and the Misses Barbara Byrne and Cheryl Drake. Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. Harold Schadewald and Mrs. Frank Race.

Mrs. Ernest Myer may be called for reservations until Wednesday, May 3, at which time reservations will be closed.

Ulster Garden Club Hears Woodstock Author at Meeting

Alf Evers of Woodstock, well known author, gave a lecture on "White Men and Green Plants in the Hudson Valley."

Mr. Evers has written books for children and adults about the changing animal and plant life in the Hudson Valley. As part of his lecture, he emphasized the use of plans for medicinal purposes, practical and landscaping purposes.

The flower show will be held Thursday, May 18 and Friday, May 19 at the Ulster County Savings Institution, it was announced. Public is invited to participate and attend. Mrs. Gifford Beal, entries chairman, will receive exhibitors' names until May 1. Details may be obtained from the chairmen, Mrs. Burton Davis or Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

Spring bulbs which were donated by the Ulster Garden Club last fall may now be seen in full bloom in the Senate House Garden.

School No. 2

The P-TA of School No. 2 will have its annual card party on May 3 in the school gym at 8:15 p. m. Public is cordially invited. Tickets will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to transport the sixth grade children to New York to places of educational interest.

OFFICERS AT ANNUAL YWCA MEETING —Elected to steer the affairs of the local YWCA during 1961-62 are seated (l-r) Mrs. John R. Warren, president; Mrs. Raymond Rignall, who was guest speaker; Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, program chairman; and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey, secretary. Annual Meeting of YWCA Is Held; Seven Are Elected to Board of Directors Here

At the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association held Tuesday, April 25, seven women were elected to the Board of Directors. They are Mrs. Alfred S. Querdon, Miss Jean Harvey, Mrs. James F. Snyder, Miss Mary Staples, Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge, Mrs. John Warren and Mrs. Merrill Yaple.

The committee making the nominations consisted of Miss Helen Anderson, Mrs. Walter Danford and Mrs. John Hill, in cooperation with the membership committee, Miss Rose Crocchiolo, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, Mrs. Henry Millonig Sr. and Mrs. Robert Murray.

Mrs. Warren, president, presided during the meeting. Reports were given by the officers.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Raymond Rignall. Her topic was "Gutaemala". Mrs. Rignall spoke about the conditions in Latin America and the need for more understanding and feeling for their culture. Mrs. Rignall's late husband spent many years in Latin America in the service of the U. S. Government. Mrs. Rignall also remarked that Tri-Hi of Arlington, Va., has adopted the school in Guatemala which was named for Mr. Rignall. Members are sending the school supplies of paper, pencils and other school materials.

Dinnerstein Has One-Man Show At New York Gallery

Harvey Dinnerstein, Poughkeepsie, art instructor in the Evening Division at Dutchess Community College, is currently exhibiting drawings in a one-man show at the Davis Galleries in New York City.

Included in the exhibition which will continue through May 20, are several intimate family scenes and incisive views of the streets of Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. Mr. Dinnerstein's exhibited work, ranging from quick and masterful fragmentary skeiches to fully-rendered pastel portraits anhd foliage studies, testifies to his versatility and fine draughtsmanship.

Mr. Dinnerstein is also exhibiting a number of his lithograph prints in a group show at the Peridot Gallery in New York City; they will be on display through May 13.

Eating Candy at the Theatre

Q:: I went to a matinee the other afternoon with a friend of mine, and seated in front of us, was a group of women who passed a box of candy back and forth to each other throughout the play and sat munching on candy all during the performance. Wasn't this a display of bad manners?

A: The passing of candy back and forth and the rattling of candy papers can be very annoying to others, and for this reason it is neither good form nor good manners to pass candy during a performance. It may quite properly be passed during intermission.

Only the Bride Can Decide

Q: I have been asked to take part in two weddings. The first will be as a bridesmaid at a fairly large wedding: the second, which is taking place about a month later, will be a small wedding at which I shall be the only attendant. May I wear my bridesmaid's dress at the second wedding? Some of the same guests will be at both weddings in case that makes any difference.

A: The only person to whom it makes a difference is the bride. If the bride has no objection, then there is none. You could possibly change your appearance by wearing a different hat—or headdress—and carrying different colored flowers.

No Room for Them All

Q: I have just recently become engaged and my parents would like very much to invite my fiance's parents to dinner. My fiance has two sisters and a brother living at home, and I would like to know if it is necessary that they be included in the invitation. Our apartment is small and we are rather cramped for space.

A: It will not be necessary to invite the sisters or the brother, but do have your fiance explain to them your reason for not being able to include them.

Director Is Named For Girl Scout Camp; Season Begins July 2

MRS. WILLIAM GROFT

The appointment of Mrs. William Groft of Matawah, N. J., as director of Camp Wendy was announced today by Mrs. David Bright, Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts camp chairman.

Mrs. Groft has an extensive background in Girl Scout work and has served as director of several scout camps in New Jersey and at the Putnam Girl Scout Camp in New York State.

Mrs. Groft is a school cafeteria manager during the winter months and previously taught elementary school in Jamestown, Pa. She is currently a troop committee chairman for a Girl Scout Troop in Matawah and has been an assistant leader, troop consultant, trainer of leaders and leader of intermediate and senior troops.

Mrs. Groft completed the camp directors course at the Edith Macy Training School, Pleasantville, and has since taken advanced camp training and outdoor leadership courses at Macy.

Registrations are now being accepted for enrollment in any of the three established camp sessions at Camp Wendy for the summer and any registered Girl Scout or Brownie in Ulster County is eligible to attend. The sessions run from July 2 to July 15, July 16 to July 29 and July 30 to Aug. 12. More information on application procedures may be obtained through troop leaders or members of the camp committee.

Child Behavior Is Discussed in Talk At Dutchess College

Students in the Nursery School Assistant Program at Dutchess Community College recently heard Miss Helen Garrett, 26 Sunrise Lane, Poughkeepsie, who discussed with the group the varied and subtle effects of environment and people on child behavior.

A graduate of Vassar College and Columbia Teachers College with a master's degree in elementary education administration, Miss Garrett has been prominent for many years in the field of child growth and development as teacher and administrator in nursery and elementary schools. She has been associated with the State Department of Education in the Bureau of Child Development and Parent Education and has written a number of children's books. Miss Garrett is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Smith Street Community Center the nursery of which the Dutchess nursery school assistant students have been using as a laboratory facility.

Miss Garrett emphasized in her comments the vital importance of the teacher as a significant influence in children's behavior. The teacher, she said, should help each child develop the type of productive relationship with his environment which will encourage his maximum development.

Mrs. Mary Oliver Dennison, instructor and chairman of the Nursery School Assistant Program at the college, and Rupert Tarver, director of the Smith Street Community Center, participated in the discussion following Miss Garrett's talk.

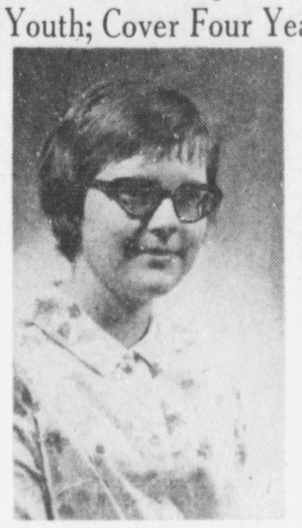
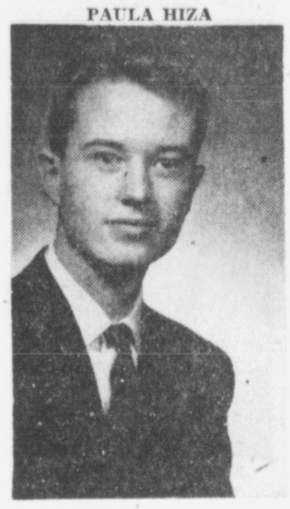
IBM Scholarships Are Awarded to Area Youth; Cover Four Year Course of Studies



PAULA HIZA

E. JAMES GUNN



DAVID WALLACE

JAMES DIEZ

Three Poughkeepsie students and one from Wappingers Falls are winners of Thomas J. Watson Memorial Scholarships it was announced today.

The four are among 50 scholarships awarded to high school students each year by IBM. Twenty-five of the students, who are selected on a competitive basis by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, are children of IBM employes.

The four Poughkeepsie area winners are children of employes of IBM's Data Systems Division.

They are: Paula Hisa, 9 Rowley Road, Poughkeepsie; E. James Gunn, 14 West Cedar Street, Poughkeepsie; David Wallace, Rombout Ridge, Poughkeepsie; and James Diez, 4 Ardmore Drive, Wappingers Falls.

Miss Hiza, a student at Wappingers Central High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hiza. Mr. Hiza is a member of the Reliability Engineering Department in the Data Systems Division's Development Laboratories. Miss Hiza plans to study political science or international relations at the University of Chicago.

Mr. Gunn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Gunn. His father is an employe in a machining department at the IBM Poughkeepsie Plant. He expects to attend the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, where he will study physics. He now attends F. D. Roosevelt Central High School.

Mr. Wallace, now a senior at Arlington High School, expects to use his scholarship to study mathematics or physics at Columbia University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace. His father is with the Poughkeepsie Data Systems Division Development Laboratories.

Mr. Diez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Diez, is a student at Wappingers Central High School. He plans to begin his pre-medical studies at either Cornell or the University of Rochester. His father is employed at the Development Laboratories.

The Thomas J. Watson Memorial Scholarships were established in 1957, as a tribute to the late founder and Chairman of the Board of the IBM.

The scholarships vary from $250 to $2000 per year depending upon the financial ciricumstances of the recipients. They cover the entire four-year course of study and may be used for studies in any field and at any college or university.

Eating Candy at the Theatre

Q:: I went to a matinee the other afternoon with a friend of mine, and seated in front of us, was a group of women who passed a box of candy back and forth to each other throughout the play and sat munching on candy all during the performance. Wasn't this a display of bad manners?

A: The passing of candy back and forth and the rattling of candy papers can be very annoying to others, and for this reason it is neither good form nor good manners to pass candy during a performance. It may quite properly be passed during intermission.

Only the Bride Can Decide

Q: I have been asked to take part in two weddings. The first will be as a bridesmaid at a fairly large wedding: the second, which is taking place about a month later, will be a small wedding at which I shall be the only attendant. May I wear my bridesmaid's dress at the second wedding? Some of the same guests will be at both weddings in case that makes any difference.

A: The only person to whom it makes a difference is the bride. If the bride has no objection, then there is none. You could possibly change your appearance by wearing a different hat—or headdress—and carrying different colored flowers.

No Room for Them All

Q: I have just recently become engaged and my parents would like very much to invite my fiance's parents to dinner. My fiance has two sisters and a brother living at home, and I would like to know if it is necessary that they be included in the invitation. Our apartment is small and we are rather cramped for space.

A: It will not be necessary to invite the sisters or the brother, but do have your fiance explain to them your reason for not being able to include them.

Director Is Named For Girl Scout Camp; Season Begins July 2

MRS. WILLIAM GROFT

The appointment of Mrs. William Groft of Matawah, N. J., as director of Camp Wendy was announced today by Mrs. David Bright, Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts camp chairman.

Mrs. Groft has an extensive background in Girl Scout work and has served as director of several scout camps in New Jersey and at the Putnam Girl Scout Camp in New York State.

Mrs. Groft is a school cafeteria manager during the winter months and previously taught elementary school in Jamestown, Pa. She is currently a troop committee chairman for a Girl Scout Troop in Matawah and has been an assistant leader, troop consultant, trainer of leaders and leader of intermediate and senior troops.

Mrs. Groft completed the camp directors course at the Edith Macy Training School, Pleasantville, and has since taken advanced camp training and outdoor leadership courses at Macy.

Registrations are now being accepted for enrollment in any of the three established camp sessions at Camp Wendy for the summer and any registered Girl Scout or Brownie in Ulster County is eligible to attend. The sessions run from July 2 to July 15, July 16 to July 29 and July 30 to Aug. 12. More information on application procedures may be obtained through troop leaders or members of the camp committee.

Child Behavior Is Discussed in Talk At Dutchess College

Students in the Nursery School Assistant Program at Dutchess Community College recently heard Miss Helen Garrett, 26 Sunrise Lane, Poughkeepsie, who discussed with the group the varied and subtle effects of environment and people on child behavior.

A graduate of Vassar College and Columbia Teachers College with a master's degree in elementary education administration, Miss Garrett has been prominent for many years in the field of child growth and development as teacher and administrator in nursery and elementary schools. She has been associated with the State Department of Education in the Bureau of Child Development and Parent Education and has written a number of children's books. Miss Garrett is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Smith Street Community Center the nursery of which the Dutchess nursery school assistant students have been using as a laboratory facility.

Miss Garrett emphasized in her comments the vital importance of the teacher as a significant influence in children's behavior. The teacher, she said, should help each child develop the type of productive relationship with his environment which will encourage his maximum development.

Mrs. Mary Oliver Dennison, instructor and chairman of the Nursery School Assistant Program at the college, and Rupert Tarver, director of the Smith Street Community Center, participated in the discussion following Miss Garrett's talk.

Additional Winners of Regents Scholarships Announced; 56 Ulster Students Named Here

The State Education Department announced today the names of 300 additional winners of Regents scholarships for basic professional education in nursing.

The names of the original 300 winners were announced earlier, on February 15. Before adjourning on March 25, the Legislature established 300 additional scholarships. As was the case with the first 300 awards, the number of awards allocated to each county is twice the number of Assembly districts in the county.

Each scholarship holder will be entitled to receive $200 to $500 a year, depending upon financial need, for not more than three years of study at a hospital nursing school in New York State approved by the Board of Regents for the training of registered professional nurses.

The winners of scholarships in Ulster County are listed as follows:

St. Ursula Academy—Carol F. Cooke and Anita M. Spader, Helene M. Olivet;

Kingston High School — Robert J. Baranello, Karlton C. Bowers, Amanda Cutler, Cathy E. Davis, Corinne A. Evory, Sam W. Gnessin, Stephen J. Guerreri, Herbert E. Herzog, John Hetsco, Howard J. Larsen, Dianne M. Levine, Lee B. Metrick, Joseph G. Metscher, James R. Nardi, Edward J. O'Connor, Allen L. Pinkus, Joseph S. Randall, William R. Reardon, Alyce A. Sims;

Onteora Central School—Diana J. Boggs, Merle J. Connaughton, Eda A. Crist, Edith Heckeroth, Edward Krein, Patricia Kunkle, Marion S. Lane, Stefan K. Mansella, Suzi F. McClellan, Frank E. Sanchis, Jane L. Todd and Dorothy A. Watson;

Organ, Choral Workshop Planned Here for Saturday

The planning committee of the Hudson-Catskill Chapter of the American Guild of Organists made final plans on Monday for the Organ-Choral Workshop to be held April 29.

Reservations are being received from Cambridge, Stephentown, Coxsackie, as well as many other places in the area.

Loton E. Springstead will teach a morning class consisting of discussion of basic console mechanics, registration and general discussion of service playing techniques. The afternoon class will be devoted entirely to organ repertoire, including music suitable for preludes, postludes and organ music for special services such as weddings and funerals.

The fee for the workshop will include lunch, which will be supervised by Mrs. Carol Hindle. There will also be a demonstration choir of mixed voices for new anthems. Anyone desirous of helping with the demonstration choir is requested to contact Mr. Springstead or Mrs. Henry Duntz.

Registrations must be made by the end of the week for those planning to attend the workshop. The registration fee may be paid the day of the event.

The workship will open its classes with an introductory speech by the Rev. Garry A. Cooper entitled "Music and Worship." James Stover will teach the choral techniques.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Elbert F. MacFadden Jr., 98 Fair Street, Kingston, will attend the fifth annual Fathers' Day program at The Mary A. Burnham School, Northhampton, Mass., on Saturday, April 29. Their daughter, Carolyn, is a member of the junior class at Burnham this year.

Caroline Nadspal of 103 Dunneman Avenue, Kingston, will sing with the Glee Club of the College of Mount Saint Vincent, Riverdale, New York City, in a spring concert in the auditorium on the college campus on Friday, May 5 at 8:30 p. m.

Organ, Choral Workshop Planned Here for Saturday

The planning committee of the Hudson-Catskill Chapter of the American Guild of Organists made final plans on Monday for the Organ-Choral Workshop to be held April 29.

Reservations are being received from Cambridge, Stephentown, Coxsackie, as well as many other places in the area.

Loton E. Springstead will teach a morning class consisting of discussion of basic console mechanics, registration and general discussion of service playing techniques. The afternoon class will be devoted entirely to organ repertoire, including music suitable for preludes, postludes and organ music for special services such as weddings and funerals.

The fee for the workshop will include lunch, which will be supervised by Mrs. Carol Hindle. There will also be a demonstration choir of mixed voices for new anthems. Anyone desirous of helping with the demonstration choir is requested to contact Mr. Springstead or Mrs. Henry Duntz.

Registrations must be made by the end of the week for those planning to attend the workshop. The registration fee may be paid the day of the event.

The workship will open its classes with an introductory speech by the Rev. Garry A. Cooper entitled "Music and Worship." James Stover will teach the choral techniques.

Reservation blanks may be obtained from the clergy in Greene, Ulster and Columbia Counties or from any member of the Guild.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The corporate version of the town meeting set some new highs here Wednesday for free speaking and verbal acrobatics.

The General Electric annual stockholders meeting had a ready-made national audience. There was wide interest in the antitrust fines meted in federal court to GE and 28 other makers of electrical equipment, along with jail sentences for seven executives.

Right Where It Started

And the furor was all the more intense because of the simultaneous testimony in Washington before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee by some former GE officials about their roles in the antitrust conspiracy. Their testimony named some of the chief participants in the corporate shindig here.

But when the 6½ hours of continuous talking was finally over here, the situation at General Electric was just where it had started in the morning. Well before the meeting, management had won approval of its stand by garnering in the proxies of owners of the vast majority of outstanding stock. The directors who had sat silent on the stage through the 6½ hour ordeal were all re-elected.

Opponents of management, despite all the verbal fireworks at the meeting—and some of the speakers were past masters at the art—were unable to produce for any motion of censure the votes of more than 2 per cent of the total stock voted.

Then why the corporate town meeting at all? First, because it was mandatory under corporate rules. But more important because it cleared the air, let both management and critics speak their piece. And finally, perhaps, because some of the participants had a lot of fun they wouldn't have missed for anything.

Chance to Hear Both Sides

It also gave the public a chance to hear both sides—that is, the general public which doesn't own GE stock and can't register approval or disapproval by signing or withholding proxies. Much of the public had been concerned about the questions of business ethics the antitrust case had raised.

The public now knows how management (as apart from the Justice Department and federal grand juries and judges) views the antitrust conspiracy and what must now be done.

And the public knows how the stockholders who have money invested in the firm feel about the situation.

The majority of the owners clearly side with management and want to get along with the business of running the store, letting the past be mended as soon and as effectively as possible.

371 Are Killed On Roads During 1961 1st Quarter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The highway death toll in New York State during the first quarter of 1961 was 22 under the same period of last year.

There were 371 persons killed in traffic accidents between Jan. 1 and March 31 compared with 393 in the same period last year.

The State Motor Vehicle Department said today the decrease was registered despite the fact that there were 44 more fatal accidents last month than in March of last year.

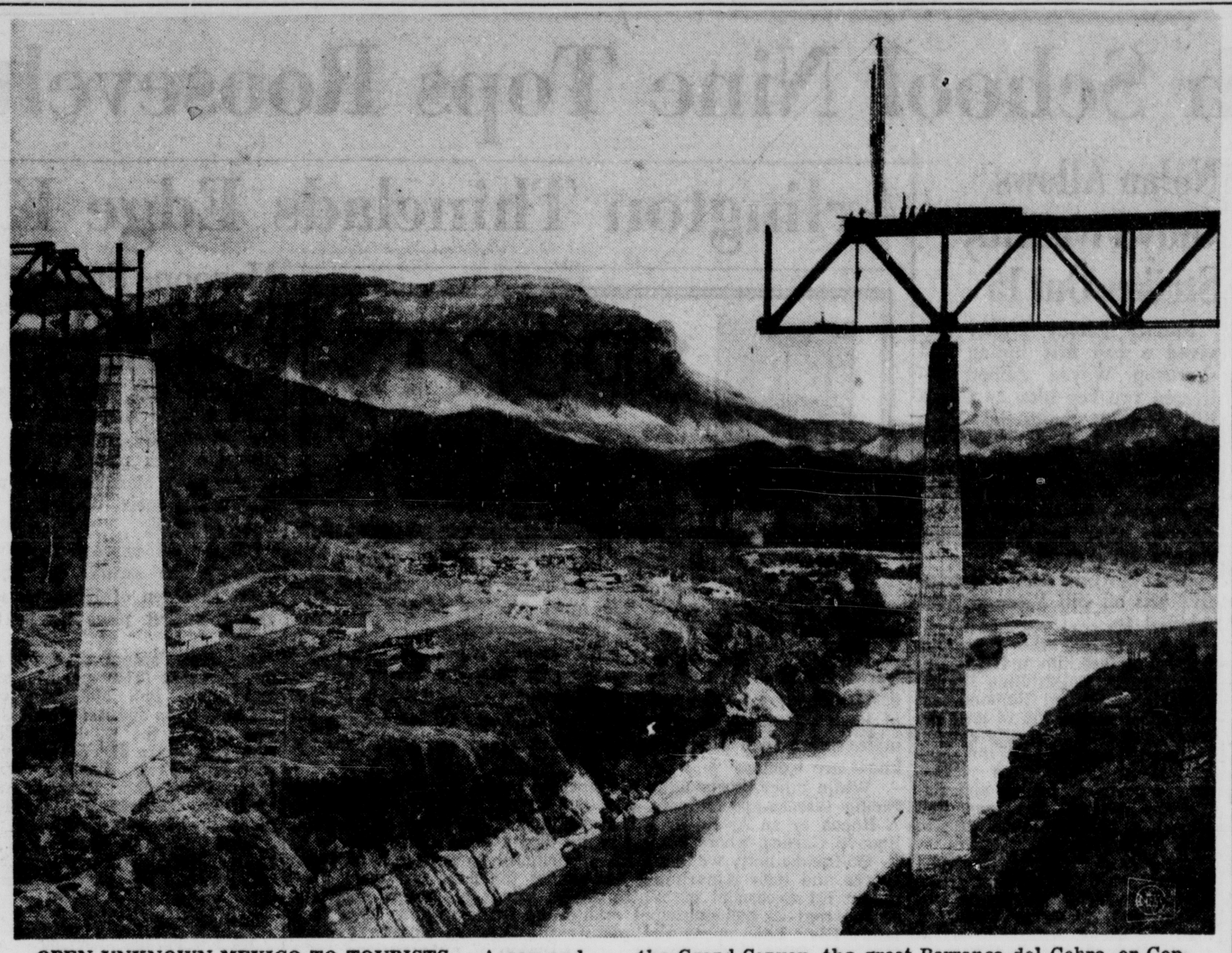
There were 92 highway deaths in rural areas last month, compared with 54 in March 1960.

Pilot Presumed Dead

TOKYO (AP)—A Marine pilot from Pulaski, N.Y., is presumed dead after his jet fighter crashed off the coast of Japan west of Tokyo.

The Navy said today the plane crash occurred Monday and that 1st Lt. John Mason, 25, of Pulaski, was missing and presumed dead.

Mason, who was flying an F4D jet, was the son of Dr. and Mrs. John L. H. Mason, of Pulaski.



OPEN UNKNOWN MEXICO TO TOURISTS — A new and shorter rail route from America's Midwest to Mexico's Pacific coast is in the making. It's the Chihuahua and Pacific Railroad's route through some of the most rugged terrain in North America, including Mexico's answer to the Grand Canyon, the great Barranca del Cobre, or Copper Canyon. The last 40-mile stretch is under construction, including the great bridge above in an almost uninhabited section of Mexico between Estacion Creel and San Pedro.

Sends $25 Extra

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An Elmira taxpayer says his "estimated state tax ($1) looks too low... we want some share in our state government."

The tax department said Wednesday the taxpayer sent an additional $25, which was put in the state treasury. The taxpayer was not identified.

Nolan Allows Only Five Hits, Strikes Out 15

Pitcher Johnny Nolan survived a bad first inning and shortstop Wayne Abbott delivered two key hits, as Coach Bill Straub's Saugerties High nine turned back Roosevelt Central, 5 to 3, Wednesday.

Nolan pitched a five-hitter and struck out 15 and was invincible after the first inning despite balky control.

The Sawyers also collected five hits off Bill Remond, who whiffed 10.

Nolan retired the first two batters to face him and then ran into trouble. Baildsuknia singled and Nolan walked Remond and Volnick in succession to load the bases. Jabunski promptly cleared them with a double up the right centerfield alley. Nolan yielded only a harmless double and single the rest of the way and stayed out of trouble despite nine bases on balls.

Saugerties recouped two runs in their half of the first when Remond walked Lou Spada and Nolan and hit Mike Dodig to load the sacks. Abbott drilled a single through the middle scoring Spada and Nolan.

The Sawyers went ahead 4-3 in the third, as Nolan was safe on an error, Bill Eckhoff tripled to right center and Abbott singled to right. They picked up an insurance tally in the sixth when Sal Ferrine walked, stole second and rode home on Dick Marelli's single.

What makes the wrestling and auto racing buff tick?

It would be worth a Master's Degree in psychology if one were to successfully probe the inner recesses of the wrestling fanatic and come up with the proper answers.

The auto racing buff is more readily explained. The race tracks combine the lure of speedy cars with the deeply hidden desire to see a good crackup. Wrestling has its ancient format of hero vs. villain, a motivation which seems to attract the females more than the males. The most rabid wrestling fans we know are women.

While other sports fight a desperate battle for existence, auto racing (stocks and midgets, etc) and wrestling roll merrily along. A Rocca or an Apollo or Perez can turn them away at Madison Square Garden, where boxing really died a long time ago.

Co-incidentally, we have an opportunity to see both of these sports and their remarkable aficionados the next few days. Promoter Ed Cecconlini of White Plains brings his merry madcaps of the mat to the municipal auditorium Friday night. Two days later, Dick Lane opens the picturesque Onteora Speedway Park track at Olive Bridge to its second season of auto racing.

You couldn't find two nicer gentlemen than Messrs. Ceccolini and Lane. How do they account for the sustained, and amazing, popularity of their respective promotions. Both give you the same answer: "People like action and we give it to them."

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Al Chatfield, 60, one of Albany's best bowlers in the late 1920's and 1930's, died a few days ago. . . . Jackie Farrell of the Yankee public relations department thinks Billy Short will have tough going in the majors unless he acquires absolute confidence in himself. . . . At the Steve Waryas testimonial dinner in Poughkeepsie, somebody observed that the Yankees were hitting in good style in the early games, particularly Mickey Mantle. "With the kind of pitching staff we have they better keep going," Farrell quipped. . . . Monticello Raceway is again offering an attractive package deal for club or organizational groups of 50 persons or more at an unusually low rate. The package rate includes: admission to the Raceway, facilities for your meeting, full course dinner on the lovely Ichabod Crane terrace, gratuties in dining room, a race named after your organization, an announcement honoring your group over the public address system, the name of your group appearing in the racing program and local publicity in your own city. Interested organizations are urged to write to Allen J. Finkelson, Director of Special Events, Monticello Raceway.

• This and Data:

Ray Spadafora of Kingston, ex-All DUSO lineman, a varsity letterman in football at Ithaca College, is throwing the javelin for the Ithaca track team. . . . Stephen La Falce of Kerhonkson is a candidate for the yearling baseball squad at Colgate University. . . . Jim Noble of the Catholic AA bowling league had one of the top comebacks of the season: 114-213-203 for 530. . . . Jeanne Meacham of Hornell leads NY State women bowlers this season with a 286 solo and 735 triple. The Squirt Team of Buffalo continues to hold high team single and triple with 1147 and 3036. . . . "There is always a chance," says Dorothy Langdon of the Newburgh Women's Bowling Association, after she rolled a sensational 275. Dorothy rolled nine consecutive strikes, took a seven-pin hit in the 10th frame, picked up the spare and then 8 pins for her 275. Her other two games were closer to her average of just "100" . . . She rolled a 91 in the opening game, found the groove for her 275, and then finished up with a 108 for a 474 series. . . . Summer bowling scores will be reduced to 500 and over for women, 600 for men and all 200 games.

SOFT BUCK: Two nice old ladies evidently seeing their first boxing bout were much interested. They kept asking the man next to them questions. Why did they put the ice pack on the fighter's face? Why did the referee scold one of the boxers? Who were those men who climbed into the ring after each round?

After a particularly bloody round, the man turned to one of the old ladies and said, "It's a terrible way to make a living, isn't it?"

Maroons Suffer Rare Shutout In 100 and 220

Kingston High School's track squad suffered a rare shutout in the 100 and 220 yard sprints, as Arlington High nipped Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroons, 57-56, in a dual track meet Wednesday at Dietz Stadium.

Despite the unprecedented setbacks in the sprints, the locals captured seven of 12 events and gained a first place tie in the other.

Joe Barr scored a double in the 440 event (53.2) and hop, step and jump. Phil McDonald won the high jump and Bill Tomaseskie was first in the 100 low hurdles. Ricy Cyr, in the 880; John Falvey, shot put; Frank Fabiano, broad jump, were other Kingston winners. Bill Dickson tied for first place in the pole vault.

Luzzi scored a double for Arlington in the 100 and 220 and ran the opening leg in the winning relay team.

Su Mac Lad to Seek Fourth Straight Win in 50G Event

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Su Mac Lad, a seven-year-old gelding, bids for a sweep of the three-race International Trot series at Yonkers Raceway tonight.

The trotting ace of I.W. Berkemeyer of New Milford, N.J., seeks his fourth straight victory of the season in the $50,000 National Championship Trot against much the same field that he whipped in the earlier races in the series.

Chief opposition to Su Mac Lad, driven by Stanley Dancer, is expected to come from America's Air Record and Silver Song, Canada's Tie Silk and Tornese, the Italian champion.

Others in the mile and a half test are Greek Lullwater, Iskander F. of West Germany and Jariolain of Italy.

Tornese, Iskander F. and Jariolain won invitations by being the frst three foreign finishers in last week's United Nations Trot, second leg in the international series.

Masina, the French and European champion, failed to qualify after a poor race in the U.S. and instead will compete in a special $15,000 trot on tonight's program—called the Gotham-UN Sequel.

At Yonkers last night, Pioneer Pick, driven by George Sholty, won the $3,500 Mount Vernon Pace by a length and a half, returning $8.20. Time for the mile was 2:04 3-5. Tony Thistle was second and Smart Set third.

At Buffalo Raceway, favorites won both features. Lord Willing, driven by Lou Rapone, won by a length and a half in the first of the mile paces, returning $4.20. Time on a heavy track was 2:33 1-5. Harrigan was second and Patti M third.

Propose Date Change For '64 Toyko Games

TOKYO (AP) — An Olympic organizing subcommittee, heeding the advice of weathermen, today recommended holding the 1964 Tokyo games in October instead of June.

The committee earlier had suggested the 15 days from June 14 to 28, later described by weathermen as the worst season possible. The period falls in the middle of the rainy season.

Many Japanese consider October the best month of the year here. It usually is cool and dry.

Rondout BR League

Rondout Valley Babe Ruth League tryouts will be held at the Marbletown School field on Saturday at 1 p. m. Boys from 13 to 15 years of age, residing in the Rosendale Tillson, Marbletown and Accord areas are eligible to participate.

John Becker is the league player-agent. Teams and managers are Davenport's, Huyler VanWagenen; Fordmore Farms, John Becker; Lions Club, Frank Burke; Mollenhauer's, Joseph Greenburg.

Dick Cole Named Infield Mentor For Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Cole, former infielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates and Milwaukee Braves, has been named the 10th coach for the managerless Chicago Cubs.

Cole, 34, was out of baseball last year. He started this season with Houston of the American Assn. He is to report today and spend the next two weeks helping Coach Bobby Adams work with the Cubs' infield.

Head Coach Harry Craft is the present director of the Cubs, replacing Vedie Himsl who served as head coach the first two weeks and now is in San Antonio assisting another of the Cubs' coaches, Rip Collins.

Other coaches are Elvin Tappe and Goldie Holt, on the Cubs staff; Charley Grimm, roaming the farm system, and Verlon Walker and Fred Martin, with Wenatchee, Wash.

Nolan retired the first two batters to face him and then ran into trouble. Baildsuknia singled and Nolan walked Remond and Volnick in succession to load the bases. Jabunski promptly cleared them with a double up the right centerfield alley. Nolan yielded only a harmless double and single the rest of the way and stayed out of trouble despite nine bases on balls.

Saugerties recouped two runs in their half of the first when Remond walked Lou Spada and Nolan and hit Mike Dodig to load the sacks. Abbott drilled a single through the middle scoring Spada and Nolan.

The Sawyers went ahead 4-3 in the third, as Nolan was safe on an error, Bill Eckhoff tripled to right center and Abbott singled to right. They picked up an insurance tally in the sixth when Sal Ferrine walked, stole second and rode home on Dick Marelli's single.

Abbott of Saugerties and Baildsuknia of Roosevelt were the only playyers with two hits.

What makes the wrestling and auto racing buff tick?

It would be worth a Master's Degree in psychology if one were to successfully probe the inner recesses of the wrestling fanatic and come up with the proper answers.

The auto racing buff is more readily explained. The race tracks combine the lure of speedy cars with the deeply hidden desire to see a good crackup. Wrestling has its ancient format of hero vs. villain, a motivation which seems to attract the females more than the males. The most rabid wrestling fans we know are women.

While other sports fight a desperate battle for existence, auto racing (stocks and midgets, etc) and wrestling roll merrily along. A Rocca or an Apollo or Perez can turn them away at Madison Square Garden, where boxing really died a long time ago.

Co-incidentally, we have an opportunity to see both of these sports and their remarkable aficionados the next few days. Promoter Ed Cecconlini of White Plains brings his merry madcaps of the mat to the municipal auditorium Friday night. Two days later, Dick Lane opens the picturesque Onteora Speedway Park track at Olive Bridge to its second season of auto racing.

You couldn't find two nicer gentlemen than Messrs. Ceccolini and Lane. How do they account for the sustained, and amazing, popularity of their respective promotions. Both give you the same answer: "People like action and we give it to them."

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Al Chatfield, 60, one of Albany's best bowlers in the late 1920's and 1930's, died a few days ago. . . . Jackie Farrell of the Yankee public relations department thinks Billy Short will have tough going in the majors unless he acquires absolute confidence in himself. . . . At the Steve Waryas testimonial dinner in Poughkeepsie, somebody observed that the Yankees were hitting in good style in the early games, particularly Mickey Mantle. "With the kind of pitching staff we have they better keep going," Farrell quipped. . . . Monticello Raceway is again offering an attractive package deal for club or organizational groups of 50 persons or more at an unusually low rate. The package rate includes: admission to the Raceway, facilities for your meeting, full course dinner on the lovely Ichabod Crane terrace, gratuties in dining room, a race named after your organization, an announcement honoring your group over the public address system, the name of your group appearing in the racing program and local publicity in your own city. Interested organizations are urged to write to Allen J. Finkelson, Director of Special Events, Monticello Raceway.

• This and Data:

Ray Spadafora of Kingston, ex-All DUSO lineman, a varsity letterman in football at Ithaca College, is throwing the javelin for the Ithaca track team. . . . Stephen La Falce of Kerhonkson is a candidate for the yearling baseball squad at Colgate University. . . . Jim Noble of the Catholic AA bowling league had one of the top comebacks of the season: 114-213-203 for 530. . . . Jeanne Meacham of Hornell leads NY State women bowlers this season with a 286 solo and 735 triple. The Squirt Team of Buffalo continues to hold high team single and triple with 1147 and 3036. . . . "There is always a chance," says Dorothy Langdon of the Newburgh Women's Bowling Association, after she rolled a sensational 275. Dorothy rolled nine consecutive strikes, took a seven-pin hit in the 10th frame, picked up the spare and then 8 pins for her 275. Her other two games were closer to her average of just "100" . . . She rolled a 91 in the opening game, found the groove for her 275, and then finished up with a 108 for a 474 series. . . . Summer bowling scores will be reduced to 500 and over for women, 600 for men and all 200 games.

SOFT BUCK: Two nice old ladies evidently seeing their first boxing bout were much interested. They kept asking the man next to them questions. Why did they put the ice pack on the fighter's face? Why did the referee scold one of the boxers? Who were those men who climbed into the ring after each round?

After a particularly bloody round, the man turned to one of the old ladies and said, "It's a terrible way to make a living, isn't it?"

Maroons Suffer Rare Shutout In 100 and 220

Kingston High School's track squad suffered a rare shutout in the 100 and 220 yard sprints, as Arlington High nipped Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroons, 57-56, in a dual track meet Wednesday at Dietz Stadium.

Despite the unprecedented setbacks in the sprints, the locals captured seven of 12 events and gained a first place tie in the other.

Joe Barr scored a double in the 440 event (53.2) and hop, step and jump. Phil McDonald won the high jump and Bill Tomaseskie was first in the 100 low hurdles. Ricy Cyr, in the 880; John Falvey, shot put; Frank Fabiano, broad jump, were other Kingston winners. Bill Dickson tied for first place in the pole vault.

Luzzi scored a double for Arlington in the 100 and 220 and ran the opening leg in the winning relay team.

Su Mac Lad to Seek Fourth Straight Win in 50G Event

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Su Mac Lad, a seven-year-old gelding, bids for a sweep of the three-race International Trot series at Yonkers Raceway tonight.

The trotting ace of I.W. Berkemeyer of New Milford, N.J., seeks his fourth straight victory of the season in the $50,000 National Championship Trot against much the same field that he whipped in the earlier races in the series.

Chief opposition to Su Mac Lad, driven by Stanley Dancer, is expected to come from America's Air Record and Silver Song, Canada's Tie Silk and Tornese, the Italian champion.

Others in the mile and a half test are Greek Lullwater, Iskander F. of West Germany and Jariolain of Italy.

Tornese, Iskander F. and Jariolain won invitations by being the frst three foreign finishers in last week's United Nations Trot, second leg in the international series.

Masina, the French and European champion, failed to qualify after a poor race in the U.S. and instead will compete in a special $15,000 trot on tonight's program—called the Gotham-UN Sequel.

At Yonkers last night, Pioneer Pick, driven by George Sholty, won the $3,500 Mount Vernon Pace by a length and a half, returning $8.20. Time for the mile was 2:04 3-5. Tony Thistle was second and Smart Set third.

At Buffalo Raceway, favorites won both features. Lord Willing, driven by Lou Rapone, won by a length and a half in the first of the mile paces, returning $4.20. Time on a heavy track was 2:33 1-5. Harrigan was second and Patti M third.

Propose Date Change For '64 Toyko Games

TOKYO (AP) — An Olympic organizing subcommittee, heeding the advice of weathermen, today recommended holding the 1964 Tokyo games in October instead of June.

The committee earlier had suggested the 15 days from June 14 to 28, later described by weathermen as the worst season possible. The period falls in the middle of the rainy season.

Many Japanese consider October the best month of the year here. It usually is cool and dry.

Rondout BR League

Rondout Valley Babe Ruth League tryouts will be held at the Marbletown School field on Saturday at 1 p. m. Boys from 13 to 15 years of age, residing in the Rosendale Tillson, Marbletown and Accord areas are eligible to participate.

John Becker is the league player-agent. Teams and managers are Davenport's, Huyler VanWagenen; Fordmore Farms, John Becker; Lions Club, Frank Burke; Mollenhauer's, Joseph Greenburg.

Dick Cole Named Infield Mentor For Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Cole, former infielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates and Milwaukee Braves, has been named the 10th coach for the managerless Chicago Cubs.

Cole, 34, was out of baseball last year. He started this season with Houston of the American Assn. He is to report today and spend the next two weeks helping Coach Bobby Adams work with the Cubs' infield.

Head Coach Harry Craft is the present director of the Cubs, replacing Vedie Himsl who served as head coach the first two weeks and now is in San Antonio assisting another of the Cubs' coaches, Rip Collins.

Other coaches are Elvin Tappe and Goldie Holt, on the Cubs staff; Charley Grimm, roaming the farm system, and Verlon Walker and Fred Martin, with Wenatchee, Wash.

Sawyers and New Paltz Centrals Win Triangular Meets

Dungey's Double Sparks Win

Sparked by Harold Dungey's double in the 100 and 220 sprints, Coach John (Buddy) Smith's Saugerties High School track squad rolled up 66 points to trounce Hudson High (50¼) and Onteora Central (12¼) in a triangular meet Wednesday.

Dungey, one of the top schoolboy sprinters in the area, won the century in 10.8 and was clocked in 24.4 seconds in the 220 over a slow track. Dungey also anchored the winning SHS relay quartet.

Other Saugerties winners included: Guagnano in the 440, Hrdlicka in the shotput, Al Giannotti in the discus. R. Giannotti of Saugerties tied for first with Miller of Hudson in the broad jump.

The Saugerties 880 relay team of Olson, Vickery, R. Giannotti and Dungey won that event in 1:40.3.

NFL in Biggest TV Package Deal In Sports Field

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fears that the strong might get stronger and the weak weaker brought the National Football League its first package television deal and $9,300,000 in the next two years.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL Wednesday announced the contract with Columbia Broadcasting System, one of the biggest pacts in sports TV. Each of the 14 pro clubs will get about $300,000 per season.

In the concluding session of the NFL annual meeting today, the owners are expected to name the city which will house its hall of fame.

Canton, Ohio.; Latrobe, Pa.; Green Bay, Wis.; Detroit and Los Angeles have been nominated.

In the television deal, Rozelle said some of the teams will be receiving less than they did last year when the clubs made their own television contracts. The majority will receive more and the league road games of each will be televised into its home area.

There were fears that under an individual contract situation, a network might buy the rights of one team and broadcast its games into an area encompassing the homes of several other clubs. Thus the one would receive the revenue; the others nothing.

The average home viewer will see no dfference between what they had on TV in 1960.

Mantle Homers Wreck Tigers

Giants Shade Dodgers, 6-5

2 Blasts Check Bengals' Streak At 8 Straight

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Switch-hitting Mickey Mantle belted a pair of two-run homers Wednesday, one right-handed, the other lefty, with the second giving the New York Yankees a 10-inning, 13-11 victory over the Detroit Tigers, who had won eight in a row. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 6-3 and Washington downed Boston 2-1 in the only other American League games scheduled.

Mantle's 10th inning sock off losing southpaw Hank Aguirre (0-1) was his third game-winning home run of the young season and ended the Yankees' losing slump at three. His tying homer came off right-handed rookie Jim Donohue and capped a three-run eighth that wiped out an 11-8 Tiger lead.

Detroit, which hadn't lost since opening day, came from behind after trailing 6-0 going into the second inning against Yank starter Whitey Ford, but then blew an 11-8 lead. Tony Kubek and Roger Maris each hit their first home runs of the season for the Yanks while Rocky Colavito smacked his third for the Tigers. Reliever Luis Arroyo won his first with two hitless innings.

Cleveland came from behind with three unearned runs on Jim Gentile's fourth-inning throwing error at Baltimore. Winning reliever Barry Latman, Bob Allen and Frank Funk then blanked the Birds on one hit over the last six frames. Bill Fisher (0-2) was the loser.

Washington right-hander Tom Sturdivant won his first as a starting pitcher, but needed Dave Sisler's saving relief in the eighth at Boston. Winless Bill Monbouquette lost his third.

Florist Shop Wins Title In Boys' Loop

Broadway Florist captured the title in the Boys' Club league with a record of 53½-30½. The members of the championship team are Tom Barringer, Rick Gedney, Bob Barringer, Carlo Castiglione and Tom Saulpaugh.

High team single and triple was won by Jubilere Balls with 761 and 2086. Steve Alcon won high average crown with 148. John Martin's 531 triple, shot in the closing session, was tops and Pat Manfro had the single honors with 228.

LA Fielding Collapse Ruins Williams Stint

The San Francisco Giants, held hitless for 5 1-3 innings by Stan Williams, came from behind and beat Los Angeles 6-5 for a half-game lead in the National League race Wednesday night. Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 3-2, Milwaukee whipped St. Louis 8-1 and the Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 3-2 in 10 innings.

The Giants didn't get a hit off Dodger starter Stan Williams until the sixth. Williams left after giving up a leadoff double by Charlie Hiller in the eighth and the Giants then came from behind with four runs off losing reliever Larry Sherry (0-2). Singles by Harvey Kuenn and Willie Mays tied it 3-all, and the lead run came in when Wally Moon dropped Willie McCovey's easy fly ball to left. Maury Wills' error then loaded the bases, Bob Schmidt's sacrifice fly made it 5-3 and Eddie Bressoud's two-out single brought in the clincher.

Milwaukee roughed up Larry Jackson, the Cards' ace making his first appearance since suffering a broken jaw in spring training, with five runs in two innings. Don Nottebart won it, but needed Ron Piche's relief in the eighth.

Gino Cimoli singled and scored Pittsburgh's first run off loser Dallas Green (1-1) in the first inning, then singled home the clincher in the fourth. Vinegar Bend Mizell (2-0) was the winner.

Don Zimmer's homer broke it up for the Cubs against reliever Jim Maloney (0-1) as bullpen ace Don Elston won his fourth without defeat. Jerry Lynch's third pinch-hit homer of the season scored the Reds' run in the seventh. Ron Santo also homered for the Cubs.

Bag 3 Doubles, 11 Firsts

New Paltz Central thinclads won 11 of 13 events, including three doubles, to overpower Rondout Valley Central and Ellenville High in a triangular track meet.

Coach Larry Russell's squad rolled 75 points to 43½ for Rondout and 17½ for Ellenville.

The Huguenots' crack sprinter — Ed Kreuscher — swept the 100 and 220 yards in 10.7 and 25 seconds, respectively. Ed Guidi took first in the 160 yard low hurles and broad jump, while Clay Whitted led the 880 and hop, step and jump. Kreuscher and Guidi also ran in the winning relay for New Paltz.

One of the standout performers for the winners was Richie Hoffman, a gangling sophomore who made his debut in the shotput event with an excellent toss of 39 feet, 6 inches.

Other New Paltz winners were: Abrams in the mile run; Ron Weir in the pole vault and Freer in the high jump.

Keith Johnson of Rondout Valley took the 440 race, won the discus, the only first place winners outside of New Paltz.

NFL in Biggest TV Package Deal In Sports Field

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fears that the strong might get stronger and the weak weaker brought the National Football League its first package television deal and $9,300,000 in the next two years.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL Wednesday announced the contract with Columbia Broadcasting System, one of the biggest pacts in sports TV. Each of the 14 pro clubs will get about $300,000 per season.

In the concluding session of the NFL annual meeting today, the owners are expected to name the city which will house its hall of fame.

Canton, Ohio.; Latrobe, Pa.; Green Bay, Wis.; Detroit and Los Angeles have been nominated.

In the television deal, Rozelle said some of the teams will be receiving less than they did last year when the clubs made their own television contracts. The majority will receive more and the league road games of each will be televised into its home area.

There were fears that under an individual contract situation, a network might buy the rights of one team and broadcast its games into an area encompassing the homes of several other clubs. Thus the one would receive the revenue; the others nothing.

The average home viewer will see no difference between what they had on TV in 1960.

Mantle Homers Wreck Tigers

Giants Shade Dodgers, 6-5

2 Blasts Check Bengals' Streak At 8 Straight

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Switch-hitting Mickey Mantle belted a pair of two-run homers Wednesday, one right-handed, the other lefty, with the second giving the New York Yankees a 10-inning, 13-11 victory over the Detroit Tigers, who had won eight in a row. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 6-3 and Washington downed Boston 2-1 in the only other American League games scheduled.

Mantle's 10th inning sock off losing southpaw Hank Aguirre (0-1) was his third game-winning home run of the young season and ended the Yankees' losing slump at three. His tying homer came off right-handed rookie Jim Donohue and capped a three-run eighth that wiped out an 11-8 Tiger lead.

Detroit, which hadn't lost since opening day, came from behind after trailing 6-0 going into the second inning against Yank starter Whitey Ford, but then blew an 11-8 lead. Tony Kubek and Roger Maris each hit their first home runs of the season for the Yanks while Rocky Colavito smacked his third for the Tigers. Reliever Luis Arroyo won his first with two hitless innings.

Cleveland came from behind with three unearned runs on Jim Gentile's fourth-inning throwing error at Baltimore. Winning reliever Barry Latman, Bob Allen and Frank Funk then blanked the Birds on one hit over the last six frames. Bill Fisher (0-2) was the loser.

Washington right-hander Tom Sturdivant won his first as a starting pitcher, but needed Dave Sisler's saving relief in the eighth at Boston. Winless Bill Monbouquette lost his third.

Oregon Favored To Beat Records In Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Oregon State's fleet milers head a talented list of distance runners expected to shatter several records in the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

The Oregon State team appears capable of lowering the Drake four-mile record of 17:15.2 by 30 seconds.

Sophomore Dale Story, who has run the mile in 4:08.6, anchors the team which includes Norm Hoffman, Rich Cuddihy and Norm Fones. Hoffman has run the mile in 4:09.6, Cuddihy in 4:11.5 and Fones in 4:14.7.

That adds up to a four-mile time of about 16:45, which is well under the American record of 16:52.6. Western Michigan, Iowa and Missouri are expected to push Oregon State to a record clocking.

Defending champion Barrie Almond of Houston and John Cooper of North Texas State have their hopes set on the mile record of 4:07.9.

Almond has covered the distance in 4:07.2 and Cooper in 4:07.9 this spring.

The mile relay record also is expected to topple. Houston, Oklahoma State, Drake and Baylor bettered the Drake mark of 3:11.3 in last week's Kansas Relays.

In addition, records are threatened by high jumper John Thomas of Boston University, pole vaulters J. D. Martin of Oklahoma, George Davies of Oklahoma State and Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist and shotputters Mike Lindsay of Oklahoma, John Fry of Baylor and Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech.

Major League Stars

Hitting — Mickey Mantle, Yankees, drove in last four runs with pair of homers, one batting right-handed, other left-handed, for an 13-11 victory in 10 innings that ended Tigers' winning streak at eight.

San Jose All-Stars Roll 2,740 in Event

DETROIT (AP) — An invasion of the American Bowling Congress Tournament by West Coast bowlers is off to only a mild start.

The San Jose (Calif.) All-Stars, first classic division entry from west of the Rockies, had a 2,740 total in its opening block Wednesday night.

This means the Californians face the almost impossible task of hitting a 3,239 total tonight in their second appearance to pass the leading 5,978 rolled by Detroit's Strohs.

The Ansberg-West team of Toledo closed with a 5,630 total for 24th place.

Oregon Favored To Beat Records In Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Oregon State's fleet milers head a talented list of distance runners expected to shatter several records in the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

The Oregon State team appears capable of lowering the Drake four-mile record of 17:15.2 by 30 seconds.

Sophomore Dale Story, who has run the mile in 4:08.6, anchors the team which includes Norm Hoffman, Rich Cuddihy and Norm Fones. Hoffman has run the mile in 4:09.6, Cuddihy in 4:11.5 and Fones in 4:14.7.

That adds up to a four-mile time of about 16:45, which is well under the American record of 16:52.6. Western Michigan, Iowa and Missouri are expected to push Oregon State to a record clocking.

The host Drake team is favored in the two-mile run, which it won at the Kansas Relays in 7:30, more than a second under the Drake mark.

Defending champion Barrie Almond of Houston and John Cooper of North Texas State have their hopes set on the mile record of 4:07.9.

Almond has covered the distance in 4:07.2 and Cooper in 4:07.9 this spring.

The mile relay record also is expected to topple. Houston, Oklahoma State, Drake and Baylor bettered the Drake mark of 3:11.3 in last week's Kansas Relays.

In addition, records are threatened by high jumper John Thomas of Boston University, pole vaulters J. D. Martin of Oklahoma, George Davies of Oklahoma State and Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist and shotputters Mike Lindsay of Oklahoma, John Fry of Baylor and Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech.

Major League Stars

San Jose All-Stars Roll 2,740 in Event

DETROIT (AP) — An invasion of the American Bowling Congress Tournament by West Coast bowlers is off to only a mild start.

The San Jose (Calif.) All-Stars, first classic division entry from west of the Rockies, had a 2,740 total in its opening block Wednesday night.

This means the Californians face the almost impossible task of hitting a 3,239 total tonight in their second appearance to pass the leading 5,978 rolled by Detroit's Strohs.

The Ansberg-West team of Toledo closed with a 5,630 total for 24th place.

It takes not only nerve for women to wear some of the evening gowns we've seen, but also backbone.

Mom may want a garden this year, but from a slang standpoint, Dad doesn't dig it.

An Ohio man has changed his will ten times. A fresh heir fiend.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Trade Mark Reg.

Little Jack's mother was very fond of flowers, and he delighted in bringing them to her. One day he ran in with a great armful of white roses and violets.

Mother—Why, Jack, (in consternation) it's a wreath; where did you get it?

Jack—I got it off the door bell next door, mamma, I guess they put it there 'cause they didn't want it any more.

Scientist—Purely by accident, I have made one of the greatest discoveries.

Friend—May I ask what it was?

Scientist—I found, that by keeping a bottle of ink handy you can use a fountain pen just like any other pen—without all the trouble of filling it.

They Satisfy

—In the ocean it's a fish
—In bootlegging it's graft.
—In the mountains it's gnats.
—In a prizefight it's fixed.
—At Newport it's caste.
—In Boston it's beans.
—On the border it's murder.
—In Washington it's drag.
—In divorce it's alimony.
—In a cigarette it's taste.

Scientists have developed a machine that can be read. Now let's see what they can do with kids.

It is impossible to carve your way to success with cutting remarks.

Admirer—How do you grow old so gracefully?

Aexandre Dumas — Madam, I give all my time to it.

* * *

Fred—For months I thought I was a fox terrior. Then I went to a psychiatrist and he cured me.

Earl—How are you now?

Fred—Fine, feel my nose.

Dr. Long Named VP of Hercules

Dr. John H. Long today was elected as vice president and member of the executive committe of Hercules Powder Company. He has been general manager of the company's Paper Makers Chemical department since June, 1956 and a member of the company's Board of Directors since December, 1958.

Born in Connellsville, Pa., Dr. Long studied chemistry at Gettysburg College and John Hopkins University, earning a Ph.D. degree from the latter in 1933.

He joined Hercules Powder Company in June, 1933, as a chemist at the company's Research Center, near Wilmington, Delaware. He transferred to sales development work in the Synthetics Department in 1936, and to sales development for the Naval Stores Department in 1939.

Dr. Long was named manager of the company's Sales Research Division in 1943 and four years later appointed special assistant to the general manager of the Paper Makers Chemical department to aid in administrative work.

Protection

It has been estimated that nine of every 10 Americans with health insurance coverage for hospital care also have insurance against the cost of surgery.

Gotelli Relieved As Counsel After Request to Court

An application by Attorney John Gotelli to be relieved from an assignment as counsel for Patrick Burke, 20, Smith Avenue, was granted Wednesday afternoon in county court by County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Gotelli told the Court he and the defendant could not agree on a defense.

Elwyn Assigned

Burke, charged with third degree burglary and unlawful entry, is one of the three young men arrested at gunpoint in the Pine Grove Manufacturing Company, Inc., plant at 45 Pine Grove Avenue, March 9. The trio was surprised in the building by police who had the building under surveillance for some time. The other two, also under indictment are Michael Christoforo, 23, Broadway, and Howard Quick Jr., 20, of Liberty Street.

Judge Mino assigned Hugh R. Elwyn as counsel and postponed the matter to April 28, at 2 p. m. Burke was remanded to jail.

Louis S Barine, charged with assault, second degree, entered a plea of innocent through his attorney Charles J. Gaffney and 10 days granted for motions. Bail was continued.

Other Cases

District Attorney David W. Corwin moved the criminal negligence case of Paul Hoke over the term. A motion to inspect the grand jury minutes is pending. Hoke stands charged with the death of Peter J. Chevallier, 22, Highland, who was injured in a car accident on October 29, last and died the following day. Stuart Schantz appears for defendant.

Jewish Council Slates Program To Honor Israel

Announcement has been made that the Jews of this community through its Community Council has plans for a gala celebration of the Bar Mitzvah of Israel as a new State. A Bar Mitzvah is a confirmation ceremony normally observed when a boy attains his thirteenth birthday.

This year marks the beginning of Israel's thirteenth year as one of the world's newest democracies. This state was created by the United Nations and came into being in 1948. Probably the strongest impetus for its creation came from these United States and from its then President, Harry S. Truman.

The celebration event was announced by a special planning committee composed of the three local Rabbis, Dr. Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel; Rabbi Harold Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim and Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein of Congregation Ahavath Israel, Mrs. Raphael Klein; Mrs. Jay Melton; Dr. Leon Gray; Benjamin Schecter; Mrs. Herman G. Rafalowsky; William Klein; Daniel Balsam, executive director and City Judge Aaron E. Klein, president of the Kingston Jewish Community Council.

The celebration is planned for May 8 at 8:15 p. m., at Congregation Agudas Achim on West Union Street.

An invitation is extended to the entire community to join in the celebration for which there will be no charge and no solicitation of funds. The committee assures that there will be an outstanding program of music and dance as well as a guest speaker of great renown. Further details of this event will follow.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today said he has received notice that the State Public Service Commission has extended the time limit for instalation of warning signals by the New York Central Railroad at the First, Second and Third Avenue crossings. Work is now under way. Installations, under provisions of the original order, were to have been finished May 1. The date has been extended to May 31. Delays in obtaining certain materials plus recent unfavorable weather conditions were listed as reasons for the railroad's request for an extension of time.

Jewish Council Slates Program To Honor Israel

Announcement has been made that the Jews of this community through its Community Council has plans for a gala celebration of the Bar Mitzvah of Israel as a new State. A Bar Mitzvah is a confirmation ceremony normally observed when a boy attains his thirteenth birthday.

This year marks the beginning of Israel's thirteenth year as one of the world's newest democracies. This state was created by the United Nations and came into being in 1948. Probably the strongest impetus for its creation came from these United States and from its then President, Harry S. Truman.

The celebration event was announced by a special planning committee composed of the three local Rabbis, Dr. Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel; Rabbi Harold Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim and Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein of Congregation Ahavath Israel, Mrs. Raphael Klein; Mrs. Jay Melton; Dr. Leon Gray; Benjamin Schecter; Mrs. Herman G. Rafalowsky; William Klein; Daniel Balsam, executive director and City Judge Aaron E. Klein, president of the Kingston Jewish Community Council.

The celebration is planned for May 8 at 8:15 p. m., at Congregation Agudas Achim on West Union Street.

An invitation is extended to the entire community to join in the celebration for which there will be no charge and no solicitation of funds. The committee assures that there will be an outstanding program of music and dance as well as a guest speaker of great renown. Further details of this event will follow.

Hurley Puts Out Anniversary Book

Helping to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the town of Hurley, the town board is sponsoring a new brochure depicting historic old stone houses and the Ashokan Reservoir of Hurley, West Hurley and Glenford which make up the township.

Included in this year's brochure along with a short description of the Ashokan Reservoir and the houses of history, are the special events to take place the first week in July.

Brochures are available by writing to Box 356, Hurley or at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel. They are also available in O'Reilly's John Street store; in West Hurley at Fred Crafts General Store; in Hurley at Schoonmaker's Gift Shop and George Kent's in the guard house.

The brochure was printed by William Rylance and Sons, Kingston. The information was compiled by a committee made up by Mrs. Frank Race, Hurley, Mrs. Ira Nelson Saxe of West Hurley and Mrs. James Goins of Glenford.
